

U.S. Recreation Center Set Up Two Miles From German Lines

By HAL BOYLE
With American Troops in Germany, Oct. 12 (Delayed) (AP) — Only two miles from the front lines, an American armored outfit has set up the first recreation center for Yank troops in Germany.

Here each day 200 soldiers come for a 12-hour respite from battle posts which some have held for more than eight days in rain and cold and through the heaviest shelling and bombing the Nazis have dished out.

The brick buildings housing the recreation center have no windows. Bombs blew them out. They are scarred from shrapnel. But the war is two miles away—and that seems a reasonably safe distance to the men who have been dueling the enemy at a hundred yards.

I walked through the center with the commanding general and Lt. Stephen F. Slaughter of Purcellville, Va., who helped organize this battlefield rest area.

Hot Meals, Shower
"We bring them in trucks from the front and take them to the center where they can scrub down under a hot shower—the first many of them have had in weeks," the lieutenant said. "Then they get a good hot meal and afterwards they can write letters home or go to one of two movie houses we keep running."

"The whole idea is to get them away from the tension of the front. Those hot showers do the most good. You can see them relax after that. Some of them have been living for days in foxholes under shell and mortar fire so heavy they don't leave their shelters even long enough to go to the toilet."

"As soon as they are clean again and have put down a good hot meal, the first thing most of them want to do is grab a pencil and paper and write back home."

Itch-To-Get-Back
A Red Cross director keeps writing supplies and reading material available and Protestant and Catholic chaplains hold daily services. Before dusk the troops load back into trucks and return to their posts.

"The funny thing is that they are itching to get back to their buddies by then," Slaughter declared. "They want to give another bunch a chance to pull out and rest."

"The trip here is something to look forward to," said Pvt. Henry C. Boyette of Columbus, Ga., a combat engineer. "Up there we don't have much to look forward to either. Most of us now don't think this war is going to end tomorrow."

"Oh, I don't know about that," drawled Pvt. Homer E. Thomas of Spruce Pine, N. C., another engineer. "All that is holding us up is the Germans. If it hadn't been for them we would have been in Berlin."

Farmer Cuts Hair
In one room Pvt. Raymond E. Zilisch of Waukegan, Ill., a gun loader on a Sherman tank was writing to his wife. They have a 21-month-old son he has never seen.

"This is the first chance I have had to write home in 10 days," he said. "In the front lines the officers have no time to write mail."

In another room Pvt. Henry S. Porter of Liberty, S. C., a former farmer, watched Pvt. Anthony Marino of Hillburn, N. Y., put the final clippers to the hair of Corp. Johnny Davies, Hammond, La.

"I also cut the general's hair—but I don't charge the boys anything for that," said Marino.

Across the room T. J. Jack Cordle of New Brocton, Ala., was putting ointment on a shrapnel burn on the foot of Staff Sgt. Gilroy Lemola, of Cotton Port, La.

"Oh, yeah!"
The general, a tall quiet gray-haired man who has fought in three campaigns, noticed Sgt. Thomas B. Tush of Garrett, Kan., a tank commander, having difficulty finishing a letter and asked:

"Can't you think of anything to say?"
"No, sir," replied Tush. "The words come pretty hard up there now. This is sure a pretty nice joint after ducking shells for days. I have spent so much time in cellars I feel like a rat."

Over one door in the recreation center was a German sign "Deutschland Über Alles—Germany Above All."

Some G.I. had chalked under it: "Oh yeah!"

U. S. Condemnation Suit Is Settled

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg Battlefield, was notified this morning by Henry E. Harner, special assistant of the United States attorney's office in Harrisburg, the condemnation suit brought by the federal government against William I. Shields, Gettysburg, for 22.9 acres of land opposite the Peace Light Inn, has been settled at a price of $1,783 and the title has been transferred to the government.

Weather Forecast

Rain ending this afternoon followed by clearing and a little warmer. Fair tonight and Sunday. Cool tonight and warmer Sunday.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Truth Our Guide—The Public Good Our Aim

With Honor to Ourselves and Profit to Our Patrons

ESTABLISHED 1902

Leased Wire Member of The Associated Press

GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 21, 1944

Read by Nearly Everybody in Adams County

PRICE THREE CENTS

ALLIES ADVANCE IN PHILIPPINES

3 BADLY HURT IN CRASH OF BAKERY TRUCK

Three young men were seriously injured this morning about 8:15 o'clock when the bakery truck in which they were riding ran off the Lincoln highway two and a half miles west of here and was demolished in a collision with a tree just west of the Brownstone inn.

The three occupants of the truck were taken to the Warner hospital in the county ambulance after a tow truck derrick was rushed to the scene from the H. and H. machine shop here to lift part of the wrecked truck beneath which Merle K. Bleich, 16, 320 South Main street, Chambersburg, was pinned.

Bleich suffered leg injuries that may necessitate an amputation, police said. Both legs are fractured, the hospital reported.

The driver, David A. George, 24, York R. 7, also was badly hurt as was Roy Foust, 20, Chambersburg R. 5. The trio was given first aid at the scene of the crash by Dr. C. G. Crist. George has a broken leg. Foust is being X-rayed.

Pies Are Destroyed
Officers George J. Branko and C. P. Renz of the Gettysburg detail of the state police are investigating the crash.

They said parts of the truck were scattered over a radius of 60 feet. The hundreds of pies the truck was hauling to Chambersburg from Mrs. Smith's bakery at York were scattered among the truck wreckage.

Private Branko said that the west-bound truck had run off the right side of the highway, which is straight at that point, and struck an eight-inch tree with its left side. The truck "climbed" the tree for about five feet and then went over on its left side as the tree went down.

A preliminary estimated placed the damage at about $800.

SEEK TO BOOST WAR BOND SALES

Edgar W. Weaver, chairman of the agricultural division of the Adams county War Finance, urged agricultural committee township chairmen to take steps promptly to complete their organizations before the Sixth War Bond drive opens November 20.

He said he hoped each township every 10 farm families in its territory. He emphasized the fact that the war is not over and that south-west Pacific operations are more costly than those in Europe because of the great distances involved.

"We can't afford to slow upon bond sales now," he declared.

M. J. Grimes, agricultural deputy of the state committee and the chief speaker for the evening, said he was confident that in the coming Sixth War Loan drive the agricultural groups would make a better showing than in the Fifth.

Throughout the nation, he said, the returns from the agricultural regions were lower in the Fifth drive than in any preceding campaign.

At that time there was scarcely any harvesting done throughout the United States, but now, with the exception of apples, all crops are in.

For this reason, Mr. Grimes expects a greater response from agricultural groups in the coming drive.

Statistics show, he said, that bond sales are in direct relation to the number of personal solicitations. He urged the workers to contact everyone. In Adams county, Mr. Grimes said that the coverage had been good but that in the Sixth drive there was every reason to expect a larger coverage.

The township chairmen present included Harry Raffensperger, Butler; Casper Myers, Mr. Pleasant Roy Weaver, Straban; John Settle, Franklin; Mervin Bishop, Freedom; D. H. Neely, Hamftonban; and E. J. Smith, Huntington.

Those townships not represented included Berwick, Conewago, Menallen, Mt. Joy, Reading Tyne, Union, Cumberland, Germany, Hamilton, Highland, Latimore and Liberty.

Arrive Overseas

Mrs. George Kadwall, 145 Buford avenue, has received word that her son, Sgt. Theodore Keefe, of Gettysburg, has arrived safely overseas. His location was not given.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, announce the birth of a son this morning at the Warner hospital. This is the couple's second child. They have a three-year-old daughter. Before her marriage, Mrs. Collins was Miss Golda Hook.

Urge Xmas Mailing Before December 1

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce office announced today that it has been asked by the Railway Express company to urge all persons planning to send Christmas gifts by parcel post or express to send them before December 1.

The Railway Express company said its request is in line with efforts of the Office of Defense Transportation to relieve the nation's war-burdened transportation facilities of the need for handling a late peak flow of Christmas packages.

LAST PEACHES, SWEET CORN AT MARKET TODAY

Peaches and roasting ears made their last stand of the season at the Farmers' market house today where supplies of fresh vegetables showed the effects of the first heavy frost last Monday.

One farmer sold sweet corn at 35c a dozen ears and said today's supply was the last of the season. Limited supplies of Ford's Lane and Brackett peaches could be had at 15 and 20 cents a quart box.

Cider sold at 50 cents a gallon in glass jugs. Home-made applebutter brought 30 cents a pint and 50 cents a quart. Pumpkins were plentiful at 10 to 25 cents each.

Dressed Ducks, Guineaes

Dressed ducks were on sale at 50 cents a pound while young guineas brought 35 cents, the same figure being asked for dressed young chickens. Egg prices ranged from 40 to 47 cents for mediums to 52 cents for the larger sizes.

Apples were plentiful and ranged downward in price from $4 and $3.50 per bushel for Stayman to $1 and $1.50 a bushel for poorer quality fruit. All of the popular fall varieties were on sale—Stayman, York Imperial, Delicious, Jonathan, Grimes, Banana and others. Guineaes were 25 cents a box and $1 a peck. Kieffer pears were $1.50 a bushel.

Pork In Demand

Potatoes sold for $3 per bushel: sweet potatoes, $1.25 and $1.50 a half bushel; red and green peppers, two and three for five cents; turnips, 15 cents a box; cabbage, 10 cents a head and five and six cents a pound; red beets, 10 cents a bunch; small eggplants, two for five cents; and green tomatoes, 10 cents a quart box.

English walnuts were 25 cents a quart box. Honey was 30 cents a quart. Butter milk sold for 10 cents a quart.

The demand for pork continued to be heavy. Prices were unchanged from last week when the first pork of the season appeared: Sausage, 42 cents a pound; scrapple, two pounds for 35 cents; backbone, 25 cents; ribs, 28 cents; lard, 17 cents; tenderloin, 50 cents; pigs feet, 10 cents each; pudding, 30 cents; sliced ham, 48 cents; ham for roasting, 45 cents; and shoulder meat, 35 cents a pound.

845 Hunters Have Bought Licenses

Total sales of hunting licenses for the current year stood at 845 this morning at the office of County Treasurer John W. Brehm at the court house.

With the rabbit season opening November 1, sales in recent weeks have been increasing and Treasurer Brehm reported the sale of between 40 and 50 licenses Friday. He said today he believed total sales to date are higher than for the corresponding period of last year.

An apparent easing of the ammunition shortage, which was evident this week in the sale of 25,000 shotgun shells at a local hardware store, has probably been the largest factor in boosting the ranks of the nimrods, the treasurer said. With only eight days remaining to purchase the licenses before the opening of the small game season, Brehm said he expects a rush of business next week and "looks forward to a much larger sale than last year."

RELIEF PAYMENTS

G. Harold Wagner, state treasurer, reported today that direct relief payments made to needy residents of Adams county during the week ended Friday totalled $338.90, in 61 checks, an increase of $2.50 over those of the previous week. The increase was evident although there was one less check mailed.

UNEMPLOYMENT PAYMENTS

Unemployment compensation payments totalling $46 were made in Gettysburg during the week ended Friday, State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner announced today.

LOCAL FLYER COMPLETES 66 AIR MISSIONS

Staff Sgt. Orlo Plank, son of Mrs. John D. Settle, Seven Stars, spent his first day at home in more than eight months Friday after his return to this country from France.

Young Plank entered the Army Air Corps December 3, 1942, and went to Miami Beach, Florida, for his basic training. Following that he trained at the armament school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado; Dill Field, Tampa, Florida; Ardmore, Oklahoma; the Battle Creek, Michigan, Army air field; and the Atterbury Army Air Base, Columbus, Indiana.

Holding the rating of enlisted bombardier, Sergeant Plank completed 66 missions over the occupied countries of France, Holland, Belgium and other coastal areas before being returned to the United States. His last mission was an attack on the Siegfried line, in the successful attempt of the Allies to breach the German defense wall.

He flew on a B-26 Marauder medium bomber. "It's a good plane, too," Sergeant Plank said. "Although experts said it wouldn't fly when it was designed, it has proven to be one of the best planes we have. It carries a good bomb load and is fast. And that's important when you have to dodge flak all the time."

Drops 120 Tons

The young Gettysburg bombardier, who resides with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Deardorff, 146 Hanover street, figures he has dropped about 120 tons of bombs on German installations and military positions in occupied countries. Among his many missions were attacks on Cherbourg, Brest, Le Havre, Paris, St. Lo, Dunkirk and Rouen.

"The worst experience our crew had," he said, "was during an attack on Caen. When we went over that city there were 187 guns shooting at us. The flak really was thick. "Out of the 35 planes in our group, six of us went over for another run although we didn't have to. When we got back the ship was so badly shot up that it had to be jettied. The fortunate thing (Please turn to Page 2)

SERGEANT PLANK

Here And There News Collected At Random

The Gettysburg Times has received a United States Treasury Department citation "for patriotic cooperation rendered in behalf of the War Finance program." The citation was signed by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury.

The citation was awarded for a year's service of cooperation with the War Finance Program during which time The Gettysburg Times published at least one full page of display advertising per week to promote the sale of war bonds.

In acknowledging receipt of the citation The Gettysburg Times gratefully gives public recognition to more than 300 Adams county merchants, manufacturers and individuals who sponsored the war bond display advertising program.

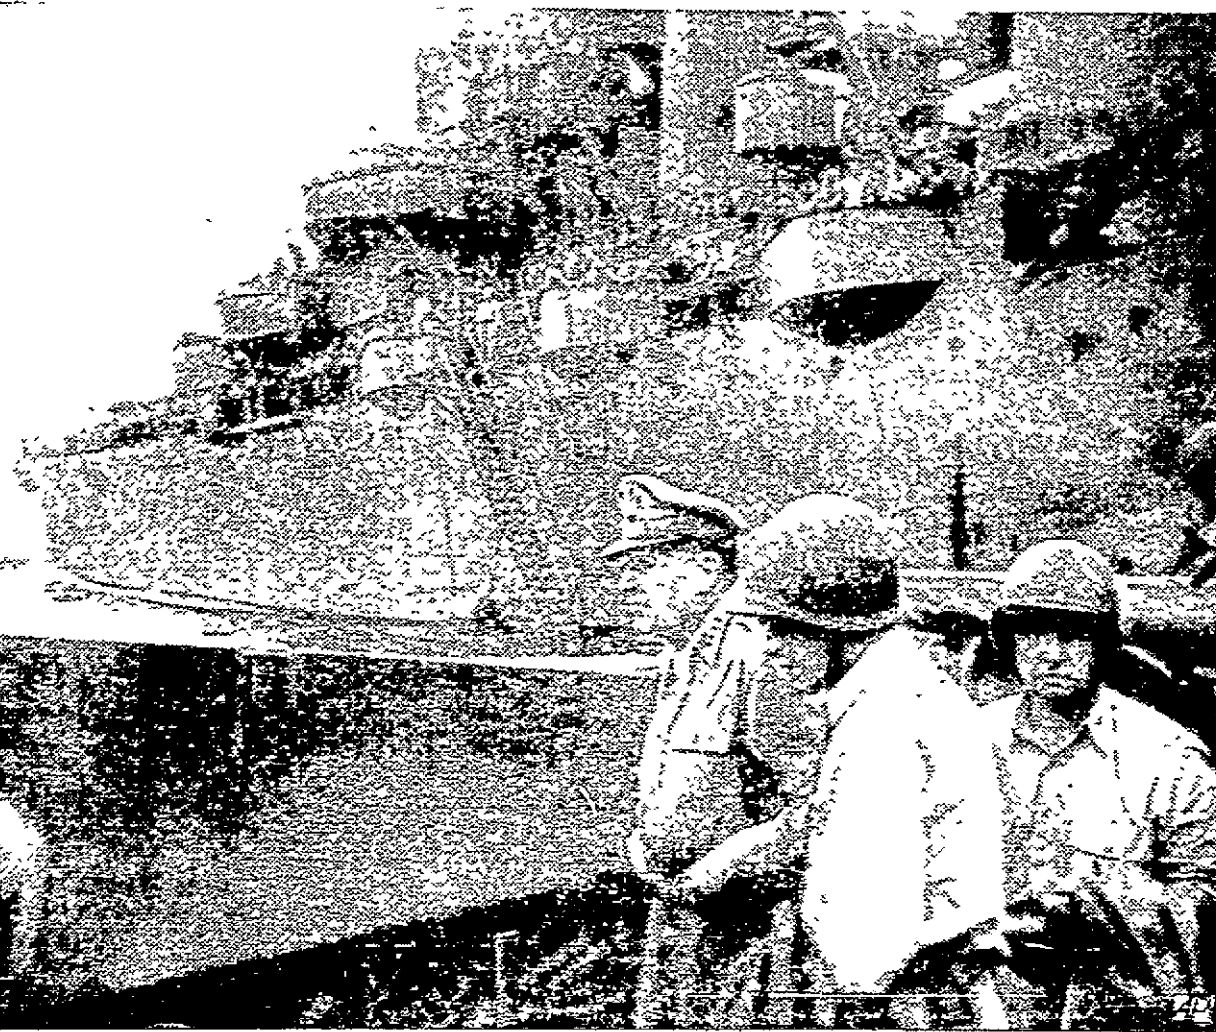

Sponsorship of the war bond advertising program was inaugurated at the outset of the war bond drives and Adams countyans readily joined in the movement to help promote war bond sales on the home front in this, the first county of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the five War Bond drives in Adams county, our merchants, manufacturers and individuals, with their combined sponsorship of advertising space, have been

(Please Turn to Page 2)

McArthur Goes Ashore After Trip On Cruiser

Gen. Douglas MacArthur (third from right), under whose command Allied forces began an invasion of the Philippines October 17, here goes ashore in a landing craft recently at an undisclosed point in the Pacific theatre after a voyage aboard the U. S. Cruiser Nashville (background). Second from right is Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, the general's aide. Man at right is unidentified.

NAME WINNERS OF SOLDIER'S SCOUT CONTEST

At a joint meeting of the members of Boy Scout Troops 77 and 73 Thursday evening at Cashtown, the winners of a scout letter-writing contest, initiated by Sgt. Paul J. Kuhn, formerly of Bendersville, but now serving in Assam, India, with U.S. Army forces, were announced and awards were given to the winners.

The letter, written by Tommy Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Selmar Hess, 233 Chambersburg street, was selected by Sergeant Kuhn as the best among the 15 submitted by Troop 77 members. Ivan Hartman, Gettysburg R. 3, was the winner from Troop 73. Nine scouts from that troop competed.

The awards, sent by Sergeant Kuhn from India, included a collection of India coins, a rupee paper note, a post card from India and a postage stamp from that country for each winner.

The contest was inaugurated by Sergeant Kuhn in a letter early last January to Scoutmaster Jack Cessna inviting scouts in this district to write letters to him on the subject "Why I Became a Scout." In the letter announcing the winners, Sergeant Kuhn said that an Eagle scout from Salt Lake City helped judge the competing letters. Kuhn formerly was associated with the Bendersville scout troop.

The winning letters were read at Thursday evening's meeting at Cashtown as the awards were made. There were patrol skits, movies and group singing on the program also. Fifteen Gettysburg scouts together with Scoutmaster Cessna and E. W. Baker, a troop committee member, went to Cashtown for the meeting. Troops 77 and 73 were the only units in the district to enter the letter-writing contest.

YOUTH MISSING SINCE SEPT. 26

Sgt. James Leroy Bierly, 24, who was reported missing in action in a War Department telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bierly, Fairfield R. D., Friday morning was serving with an infantry outfit in France. The telegram stated he has been missing since September 26.

Sgt. Bierly entered the service 27 months ago and trained in Tennessee, Kansas, California and at Fort Dix, N. J. He went overseas in July.

He graduated from Fairfield high school in 1938 on September 25, 1942. He married the former Mrs. Elizabeth Pryor, Waynesboro. The couple has no children.

A brother, Pvt. Willis Bierly, is serving with a medical outfit in Italy. Mr. and Mrs. Bierly received their last letter from their son on October 9.

Canadians Slash Four-Mile Gain North Of Antwerp

By WILLIAM FRYE

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Canadian Army, slugging methodically through rain-soaked fields and thickets north of Antwerp, pushed its three-pronged offensive four miles nearer Roosendaal and Breda today, while American troops hunted down remnants of the German garrison in the outskirts of captured Aachen.

British infantry and Canadian tanks entered the road-junction of Wuestwezel, 13 miles north of Antwerp on the Antwerp-Breda highway, and sent patrols probing out a mile or two northwest of the town. Two other columns, in twin drives up the roads to Roosendaal, seized Calmpouth and neared the Roosendaal canal.

This offensive was the second phase of the battle to win use of Antwerp port as a supply base. The first phase was drawing to an end west of Antwerp, with Canadians steadily closing in on the German pocket around Brecken below the Scheide estuary.

In eastern Holland, U. S. forces pushed within 4,000 yards of a German communications strong-point near the Maas river. British troops meanwhile consolidated positions southeast of Venray on the Dutch battlefield.

Bitter fighting raged on the outskirts of Aachen's ruins, but Supreme headquarters announced that the main part of the battered city is firmly held. American troops fought their way through the center and ran the remnants of the enemy garrison to earth on the fringe. Some 2,000 prisoners had been taken, but 500 to 1,000 Germans were believed still resisting in isolated pockets.

German communications further south were crippled when Thunderbolts operating from the U. S. Third Army bombed and breached the Dieuze dam 25 miles northeast of Nancy, flooding the town of Dieuze and the surrounding countryside with a spreading shallow lake which covered the railroad and highways with two feet of water.

After visiting the city, Associated Press War Correspondent Hal Boyle said that the storied Aachen cathedral, tomb of Charlemagne and one of Germany's greatest religious shrines, still stands virtually unscathed in an area of unspeakable ruin. German artillery still is within range, however, he said.

A dispatch last night from the Vosges front in France said American and French infantrymen after repulsing several German counterattacks, made new gains yesterday toward southwest Germany beyond newly captured Bruyeres and east of the Moselle river. German planes appeared in greater numbers over that sector yesterday, but American fighters shot down seven of them, probably destroyed another, and damaged four in three dogfights.

Upon the recommendation of the Lancaster Admiralty War Area Priorities Committee of the War Manpower Commission to Wilbur P. Galatin, WAC area director, returning veterans of World War II will no longer be included in employment ceilings of war industries. This ruling will go into effect immediately.

In explanation, Mr. Galatin gave as an example a firm having a ceiling of 3,000 workers could employ veterans up to any required number in addition to this ceiling and they would not be counted as a part of it. However, he stressed to all employers that this can be done only upon the condition that each veteran shows his discharge papers at time of employment and a record be kept in the plant office of proof of the man's legitimate discharge and date it was issued, for the firm's protection.

Deputy District Governor C. Glenn Fry of Waynesboro will attend the meeting and will address the local Lions and the visiting officers. Other regional officers also will be present. Hugh C. McElhenny, chairman of the eastern zone of Region 3, will preside during the zone business meeting that will follow the general club session.

The club dinner meeting will be held at 6 o'clock at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

Just received from the U. S. Navy, all of the $2.75 to $1.75. Virginia M. Myers.

Lincoln Said:
When you can't remove an obstacle, plow around it.

DRIVE TOWARDS TWO AIRFIELDS AT HIGH SPEED

By C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 21 (AP)—The fall of two Japanese airfields appeared imminent today as well supplied troops of Gen Douglas MacArthur, backed by overwhelming naval and air might, drove inland on all sectors at Leyte in the central Philippines on the second day of invasion.

The 6,000-foot bomber field at Tacloban on the northeast was approached by one force. To the south, another force which advanced at such speed that Al Dopking, Associated Press War Correspondent said it was difficult to keep up with the men, was on the outskirts of an airfield near Dulag.

Japan's 16th Division, remembered for its torture of the Americans and Filipinos who surrendered at Bataan, had succeeded nowhere in mustering a large scale counterattack.

Pending the seizure and utilization of land air bases, American planes from escort carriers swooped as flying artillery on the estimated 20,000 defenders of Leyte, blowing up pill boxes and spewing death among motor convoys.

Two Night Raids

The enemy airforce, operating from the few fields in the Philippines which could be momentarily repaired between carrier plane attacks, managed two scattered night raids against small units of the 600-ship convoy which carried the U. S. Sixth Army and central Pacific units to the invasion.

A communiqué today acknowledged a torpedo hit on one vessel of undesignated size.

The ground forces under immediate command of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, apparently encountered their most tenacious opposition just below Canabato bay at Palo.

There Fred Hampson, Associated Press War Correspondent, saw four of the landing ships and several smaller craft blown up by Japanese shore guns and mortars.

"Touch And Go"
For several hours it was tough and go with the Yanks jumping hip-deep into the water and sloshing ashore through a hail of machinegun bullets while shells of the foe sent up geysers of water.

"Our ground forces are consolidating their beachhead positions and driving inland on all sectors," read today's communiqué which MacArthur issued shortly after he had stood in a truck, drenched by rain, before a hand microphone and urged the Filipinos to rise and strike blows to speed their hour of deliverance.

"Food and supplies have been landed on schedule against light opposition." "Our ground casualties in the preliminary operation have been exceedingly light," the communiqué said.

Sweet Revenge

MacArthur, whose losing fight in 1942 was waged with a courageous but inadequately supplied garrison, deprived in the end of all air and naval cover, brought back to the Philippines the greatest mass of men, planes, warships and tanks ever assembled in the Pacific.

Murfin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent, said the 600-ship convoy carried at least as many as, and perhaps more than, the number of men landed on D day in Normandy.

(Inasmuch as Prime Minister Winston Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men landed in France the first day, such a sizeable force for the Philippines operation might well suggest that even greater operations, with more landings on other islands, are in the offing against the estimated 225,000 Japanese defending the Philippines.)

Every report from the invasion scene, while varying in the degree of opposition detailed, placed the Yanks on the move.

San Jose in Ruins

On the south end of Canabato bay, Asahel Bush, Associated Press war correspondent, said the town of San Jose was in ruins as a result of the devastating bombardment from warships in Leyte gulf which included the battleship California—the one the Japanese thought they sank at Pearl Harbor.

Tokyo radio, after considerable silence, came through with claims that the Japanese on Leyte were "cutting deep into enemy landing points" but in the same breath admitted the Yanks were "heading toward Tacloban." The Japanese military waited until today before acknowledging the Leyte landings in a communiqué.

Presumably referring to the vessel (Please Turn to Page 7)

U.S. Recreation Center Set Up Two Miles From German Lines

By HAL BOYLE
With American Troops In Germany, Oct. 12 (Delayed) (AP) — Only two miles from the front lines, an American armored outfit has set up the first recreation center for Yank troops in Germany.

Here each day 200 soldiers come for a 12-hour respite from battle posts which some have held for more than eight days in rain and cold and through the heaviest shelling and bombing the Nazis have dished out.

The brick buildings housing the recreation center have no windows. Bombs blew them out. They are scarred from shrapnel. But the war is two miles away—and that seems a reasonably safe distance to the men who have been dueling the enemy at a hundred yards.

I walked through the center with the commanding general and Lt. Stephen F. Slaughter of Purcellville, Va., who helped organize this battlefront rest area.

Hot Meals, Shower

"We bring them in trucks from the front and take them to the center where they can scrub down under a hot shower—the first many of them have had in weeks," the lieutenant said. "Then they get a good hot meal and afterwards they can write letters home or go to one of two movie houses we keep running."

"The whole idea is to get them away from the tension of the front. Those hot showers do the most good. You can see them relax after that. Some of them have been living for days in foxholes under shell and mortar fire so heavy they don't leave their shelters even long enough to go to the toilet."

"As soon as they are clean again and have put down a good hot meal the first thing most of them want to do is grab a pencil and paper and write back home."

Itch To Get Back

A Red Cross director keeps writing supplies and reading material available and Protestant and Catholic chaplains hold daily services. Before dusk the troops load back into trucks and return to their posts.

"The funny thing is that they are itching to get back to their buddies by then," Slaughter declared. "They want to give another bunch a chance to pull out and rest."

"The trip here is something to look forward to," said Pvt. Henry C. Boyette of Columbus, Ga., a combat engineer. "Up there we don't have much to look forward to either. Most of us now don't think this war is going to end tomorrow."

"Oh, I don't know about that," drawled Pvt. Homer E. Thomas of Spruce Pine, N. C., another engineer. "All that is holding us up is the Germans. If it hadn't been for them we would have been in Berlin."

Farmer Cuts Hair

In one room Pvt. Raymond E. Zillich of Waukegan, Ill., a gun loader on a Sherman tank was writing to his wife. They have a 21-month-old son he has never seen.

"This is the first chance I have had to write home in 10 days," he said. "In the front lines the officers have no time to censor mail."

In another room Pfc. Henry S. Porter of Liberty, S. C., a former farmer, watched Pvt. Anthony Marino of Hillburn, N. Y., put the final clippers to the hair of Corp. Johnny Davies, Hammond, La.

"I also cut the general's hair—but I don't charge the boys anything for that," said Marino.

Across the room T. J. Jack Cordle of New Brocton, Ala., was putting ointment on a shrapnel burn on the foot of Staff Sgt. Gilroy Lemolne, of Cotton Fort, La.

"Oh, Yeah!"

The general, a tall quiet greyed man who has fought in three campaigns, noticed Sgt. Thomas B. Tush of Garrett, Kas., a tank commander, having difficulty finishing a letter and asked:

"Can't you think of anything to say?"

"No, sir," replied Tush. "The words come pretty hard up there now. This is sure a pretty nice joint after ducking shells for days. I have spent so much time in cellars I feel like a rat."

Over one door in the recreation center was a German sign "Deutschland Über Alles—Germany Above All."

Some G.I. had chalked under it: "Oh yeah!"

U. S. Condemnation Suit Is Settled

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg Battlefield, was notified this morning by Henry E. Harner, special assistant of the United States attorney's office in Harrisburg, the condemnation suit brought by the federal government against William I. Shields, Gettysburg, for 22.9 acres of land opposite the Peace Light Inn, has been settled at a price of $1,785 and the title has been transferred to the government.

Weather Forecast

Rain ending this afternoon followed by clearing and a little warmer. Fair tonight and Sunday. Cool tonight and warmer Sunday.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Truth Our Guide—The Public Good Our Aim

With Honor to Ourselves and Profit to Our Patrons

ESTABLISHED 1902

Leased Wire Member of The Associated Press

GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 21, 1944

Read by Nearly Everybody in Adams County

PRICE THREE CENTS

ALLIES ADVANCE IN PHILIPPINES

3 BADLY HURT IN CRASH OF BAKERY TRUCK

Three young men were seriously injured this morning about 8:15 o'clock when the bakery truck in which they were riding ran off the Lincoln highway two and a half miles west of here and was demolished in a collision with a tree just west of the Brownstone Inn.

The three occupants of the truck were taken to the Warner hospital in the county ambulance after a tow truck derrick was rushed to the scene from the H. and H. machine shop here to lift part of the wrecked truck beneath which Merle K. Bietch, 16, 320 South Main street, Chambersburg, was pinned.

Bietch suffered leg injuries that may necessitate an amputation, police said. Both legs are fractured, the hospital reported.

The driver, David A. George, 24, York R. 7, also was badly hurt as was Roy Foust, 20, Chambersburg R. 5. The trio was given first aid at the scene of the crash by Dr. C. G. Crist. George has a broken leg. Foust is being X-rayed.

Pies Are Destroyed

Officers George J. Evanko and C. F. Renz of the Gettysburg detail of the state police are investigating the crash.

They said parts of the truck were scattered over a radius of 60 feet. The hundreds of pies the truck was hauling to Chambersburg from Mrs. Smith's bakery at York were scattered among the truck wreckage.

Private Evanko said that the west-bound truck had run off the right side of the highway, which is straight at that point, and struck an eight-inch tree with its left side. The truck "climbed" the tree for about five feet and then went over on its left side as the tree went down.

A preliminary estimated placed the damage at about $800.

SEEK TO BOOST WAR BOND SALES

Edgar W. Weaner, chairman of the agricultural division of the Adams county War Finance, urged agricultural committee township chairmen to take steps promptly to complete their organizations before the Sixth War Bond drive opens November 20.

He said he hoped each township every 10 farm families in his territory. He emphasized the fact that the war is not over and that south-west Pacific operations are more costly than those in Europe because of the great distances involved. "We can't afford to slow upon bond sales now," he declared.

M. J. Grimes, agricultural deputy of the state committee and the chief speaker for the evening, said he was confident that in the coming Sixth War Loan drive the agricultural groups would make a better showing than in the Fifth. Throughout the nation, he said, the returns from the agricultural regions were lower in the Fifth drive than in any preceding campaign.

At that time there was scarcely any harvesting done throughout the United States, but now, with the exception of apples, all crops are in. For this reason, Mr. Grimes expects a greater response from agricultural groups in the coming drive. Statistics show, he said, that bond sales are in direct relation to the number of personal solicitations. He urged the workers to contact everyone. In Adams county, Mr. Grimes said that the coverage had been good but that in the Sixth drive there was every reason to expect a larger coverage.

The township chairmen present included Harry Raffensperger, Butler; Casper Myers, Mt. Pleasant; Roy Weaner, Straban; John Settle, Franklin; Mervin Bishop, Freedom; D. H. Neely, Hamiltonban; and E. J. Smith, Huntington.

Those townships not represented included Berwick, Conewago, Menallen, Mt. Joy, Reading Tyrone, Union, Cumberland, Germany, Hamilton, Highland, Latimore and Liberty.

Arrive Overseas

Mrs. George Kadwill, 145 Buford avenue, has received word that her son, Sgt. Theodore Keefe, of Gettysburg, has arrived safely overseas. His location was not given.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, announce the birth of a son this morning at the Warner hospital. This is the couple's second child. They have a three-year-old daughter. Before her marriage, Mrs. Collins was Miss Goida Hook.

Urge Xmas Mailing Before December 1

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce office announced today that it has been asked by the Railway Express company to urge all persons planning to send Christmas gifts by parcel post or express to send them before December 1.

The Railway Express company said its request is in line with efforts of the Office of Defense Transportation to relieve the nation's war-burdened transportation facilities of the need for handling a late peak flow of Christmas packages.

LAST PEACHES, SWEET CORN AT MARKET TODAY

Peaches and roasting ears made their last stand of the season at the Farmers' market house today where supplies of fresh vegetables showed the effects of the first heavy frost last Monday.

One farmer sold sweet corn at 35c a dozen ears and said today's supply was the last of the season. Limited supplies of Ford's Late and Brackett peaches could be had at 15 and 20 cents a quart box.

Cider sold at 50 cents a gallon in glass jugs. Home-made applebutter brought 30 cents a pint and 50 cents a quart. Pumpkins were plentiful at 10 to 25 cents each.

Dressed Ducks, Guinea

Dressed ducks were on sale at 50 cents a pound while young guineas brought 58 cents, the same figure being asked for dressed young chickens. Egg prices ranged from 40 to 47 cents for mediums to 52 cents for the larger sizes.

Apples were plentiful and ranged downward in price from $4 and $3.50 per bushel for Stayman to $1 and $1.50 a bushel for poorer quality fruit. All of the popular fall varieties were on sale—Stayman, York Imperial, Delicious, Jonathan, Grimes, Banana and others. Guineas were 25 cents a box and $1 a peck. Kieffer pears were $1.50 a bushel.

Pork In Demand

Potatoes sold for $3 per bushel: sweet potatoes, $1.25 and $1.50 a half bushel; red and green peppers, two and three for five cents; turnips, 15 cents a box; cabbage, 10 cents a head and five and six cents a pound; red beets, 10 cents a bunch; small eggplants, two for five cents, and green tomatoes, 10 cents a quart box.

English walnuts were 25 cents a quart box. Honey was 30 cents a box. Butter milk sold for 10 cents a quart.

The demand for pork continued to be heavy. Prices were unchanged from last week. The first pork of the season appeared: Sausage, 42 cents a pound; scrapple, two pounds for 35 cents; backbone, 25 cents; ribs, 28 cents; lard, 17 cents; tenderloin, 50 cents; pigs feet, 10 cents each; pudding, 30 cents; sliced ham, 48 cents; ham for roasting, 45 cents, and shoulder meat, 35 cents a pound.

845 Hunters Have Bought Licenses

Total sales of hunting licenses for the current year stood at 845 this morning at the office of County Treasurer John W. Brehm at the court house.

With the rabbit season opening November 1, sales in recent weeks have been increasing and Treasurer Brehm reported the sale of between 40 and 50 licenses Friday. He said today he believed total sales to date are higher than for the corresponding period of last year.

An apparent easing of the ammunition shortage, which was evident this week in the sale of 25,000 shotgun shells at a local hardware store, has probably been the largest factor in boosting the ranks of the nimrods, the treasurer said. With only eight days remaining to purchase the licenses before the opening of the small game season, Brehm said he expects a rush of business next week and "looks forward to a much larger sale than last year."

RELIEF PAYMENTS

G. Harold Wagner, state treasurer, reported today that direct relief payments made to needy residents of Adams county during the week ended Friday totaled $338.90, in 61 checks, an increase of $2.50 over those of the previous week. The increase was evident although there was one less check mailed.

UNEMPLOYMENT PAYMENTS

Unemployment compensation payments totalling $40 were made in Gettysburg during the week ended Friday, State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner announced today.

Radio service, Baker's Battery Service.

LOCAL FLYER COMPLETES 66 AIR MISSIONS

Staff Sgt. Orlo Plank, son of Mrs. John D. Settle, Seven Stars, spent his first day at home in more than eight months Friday after his return to this country from France.

Young Plank entered the Army Air Corps December 3, 1942, and went to Miami Beach, Florida, for his basic training. Following that he trained at the armament school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado; Dill Field, Tampa, Florida; Ardmore, Oklahoma; the Battle Creek, Michigan, Army air field; and the Artillery Army Air Base, Columbus, Indiana.

Holding the rating of enlisted bombardier, Sergeant Plank completed 66 missions over the occupied countries of France, Holland, Belgium and other coastal areas before being returned to the United States. His last mission was an attack on the Siegfried line, in the successful attempt of the Allies to breach the German defense wall.

He flew on a B-26 Marauder medium bomber. "It's a good plane, too," Sergeant Plank said. "Although experts said it wouldn't fly when it was designed, it has proven to be one of the best planes we have. It carries a good bomb load and is fast. And that's important when you have to dodge flak all the time."

Drops 120 Tons

The young Gettysburg bombardier, who resides with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Deardorff, 146 Hanover street, figures he has dropped about 120 tons of bombs on German installations and military positions in occupied countries. Among his many missions were attacks on Cherbourg, Brest, Le Havre, Paris, St. Lo, Dunkirk and Rouen.

"The worst experience our crew had," he said, "was during an attack on Caen. When we went over that city there were 187 guns shooting at us. The flak really was thick. "Out of the 36 planes in our group, six of us went over for another run although we didn't have to. When we got back the ship was so badly shot up that it had to be junked. The fortunate thing (Please turn to Page 2)

SERGEANT PLANK

Here And There News Collected At Random

The Gettysburg Times has received a United States Treasury Department citation "for patriotic cooperation rendered in behalf of the War Finance program." The citation was signed by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury.

The citation was awarded for a year's service of cooperation with the War Finance Program during which time The Gettysburg Times published at least one full page of display advertising per week to promote the sale of war bonds.

In acknowledging receipt of the citation The Gettysburg Times gratefully gives public recognition to more than 300 Adams county merchants, manufacturers and individuals who sponsored the war bond display advertising program.

Sponsorship of the war bond advertising program was inaugurated at the outset of the war bond drives and Adams countyans readily joined in the movement to help promote war bond sales on the home front in this, the first county of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the five War Bond drives in Adams county, our merchants, manufacturers and individuals, with their combined sponsorship of advertising space, have been

(Please Turn to Page 2)

McArthur Goes Ashore After Trip On Cruiser

Gen. Douglas MacArthur (third from right), under whose command Allied forces began an invasion of the Philippines, October 17, here goes ashore in a landing craft recently at an undisclosed point in the Pacific theatre after a voyage aboard the U. S. Cruiser Nashville (background). Second from right is Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, the general's aide. Man at right is unidentified.

NAME WINNERS OF SOLDIER'S SCOUT CONTEST

At a joint meeting of the members of Boy Scout Troops 77 and 73 Thursday evening at Cashtown, the winners of a scout letter-writing contest, initiated by Sgt. Paul J. Kuhn, formerly of Bendersville, but now serving in Assam, India, with U.S. Army forces, were announced and awards were given to the winners.

The letter written by Tommy Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Selmar Hess, 233 Chambersburg street, was selected by Sergeant Kuhn as the best among the 15 submitted by Troop 77 members. Ivan Hartman, Gettysburg R. 3, was the winner from Troop 73. Nine scouts from that troop competed.

The awards, sent by Sergeant Kuhn from India, included a collection of India coins, a rupee paper note, a post card from India and a postage stamp from that country for each winner.

The contest was inaugurated by Sergeant Kuhn in a letter early last January to Scoutmaster Jack Cessna inviting scouts in this district to write letters to him on the subject "Why I Became a Scout." In the letter announcing the winners, Sergeant Kuhn said that an Eagle scout from Salt Lake City helped judge the competing letters. Kuhn formerly was associated with the Bendersville scout troop.

The winning letters were read at Thursday evening's meeting at Cashtown as the awards were made. There were patrol skits, movies and group singing on the program also. Fifteen Gettysburg scouts together with Scoutmaster Cessna and H. W. Baker, a troop committee member, went to Cashtown for the meeting.

Troops 77 and 73 were the only units in the district to enter the letter-writing contest.

YOUTH MISSING SINCE SEPT. 26

Sgt. James Leroy Bierly, 24, who was reported missing in action in a War Department telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bierly, Fairfield R. D., Friday morning, was serving with an infantry outfit in France. The telegram stated he has been missing since September 26.

Sgt. Bierly entered the service 27 months ago and trained in Tennessee, Kansas, California and at Fort Dix, N. J. He went overseas in July.

He graduated from Fairfield high school in 1938. On September 26, 1942, he married the former Miss Elizabeth Pryor, Waynesboro. The couple has no children.

A brother, Pvt. Willis Bierly, is serving with a medical outfit in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bierly received their last letter from their son on October 9.

By WILLIAM FRYE

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Canadian Army, slugging methodically through rain-soaked fields and thickets north of Antwerp, pushed its three-pronged offensive four miles nearer Roosendaal and Breda today, while American troops hunted down remnants of the German garrison in the outskirts of captured Aachen.

British infantry and Canadian tanks entered the road-junction of Wuestwezel, 13 miles north of Antwerp on the Antwerp-Breda highway, and sent patrols probing out a mile or two northwest of the town. Two other columns, in twin drives up the roads to Roosendaal, seized Calmpouth and neared the Roosendaal canal.

This offensive was the second phase of the battle to win use of Antwerp port as a supply base. The first phase was drawing to an end west of Antwerp, with Canadians steadily closing in on the German pocket around Breskens below the Schelde estuary.

Yanks Push On

In eastern Holland, U. S. forces pushed within 4,000 yards of a German communications strong-point near the Maas river. British troops meanwhile consolidated positions southeast of Venray on the Dutch battlefield.

Bitter fighting raged on the outskirts of Aachen's ruins, but Supreme headquarters announced that the main part of the battered city is firmly held. American troops fought their way through the center and ran the remnants of the enemy garrison to earth on the fringes. Some 2,000 prisoners had been taken, but 500 to 1,000 Germans were believed still resisting in isolated pockets.

German communications farther south were crippled when Thunderbolts operating with the U. S. Third

Army bombed and breached the Dieuze dam 25 miles northeast of Nancy, flooding the town of Dieuze and the surrounding countryside with a spreading shallow lake which covered the railroad and highways with two feet of water.

Aim At Antwerp

Above Antwerp meanwhile Canadian troops had advanced about five miles in their new northward offensive. Late reports placed them seven miles southeast of the Dutch town of Bergen and its excellent harbor midway between Antwerp and Rotterdam.

The offensive, which jumped off yesterday morning, was another phase in Allied strategy to set up Antwerp as the supply port for the western front. Other Canadian forces are fighting to clear the entrance to the Schelde estuary leading to the inland port.

A German broadcast declared that "the all embracing war has only found its beginning in the battle of Aachen" and once again threatened that secret weapons still to be put into use "will prove that the battle was the mere beginning of rivers of American and British blood."

New Infantry Gains

After visiting the city, Associated Press-War Correspondent Hal Boyle said that the storied Aachen cathedral, tomb of Charlemagne and one of Germany's greatest religious shrines, still stands virtually undamaged in an area of unspeakable ruin. German artillery still is within range, however, he said.

A dispatch last night from the Vosges front in France said American and French infantrymen, after repulsing several German counterattacks, made new gains yesterday toward southwest Germany beyond newly captured Bruyeres and east of the Moselotte river. German planes appeared in greater numbers over that sector yesterday, but American fliers shot down seven of them, probably destroyed another, and damaged four in three dogfights.

German communications farther south were crippled when Thunderbolts operating with the U. S. Third

Canadians Slash Four-Mile Gain North Of Antwerp

Army bombed and breached the Dieuze dam 25 miles northeast of Nancy, flooding the town of Dieuze and the surrounding countryside with a spreading shallow lake which covered the railroad and highways with two feet of water.

Aim At Antwerp

Above Antwerp meanwhile Canadian troops had advanced about five miles in their new northward offensive. Late reports placed them seven miles southeast of the Dutch town of Bergen and its excellent harbor midway between Antwerp and Rotterdam.

The offensive, which jumped off yesterday morning, was another phase in Allied strategy to set up Antwerp as the supply port for the western front. Other Canadian forces are fighting to clear the entrance to the Schelde estuary leading to the inland port.

A German broadcast declared that "the all embracing war has only found its beginning in the battle of Aachen" and once again threatened that secret weapons still to be put into use "will prove that the battle was the mere beginning of rivers of American and British blood."

New Infantry Gains

After visiting the city, Associated Press-War Correspondent Hal Boyle said that the storied Aachen cathedral, tomb of Charlemagne and one of Germany's greatest religious shrines, still stands virtually undamaged in an area of unspeakable ruin. German artillery still is within range, however, he said.

A dispatch last night from the Vosges front in France said American and French infantrymen, after repulsing several German counterattacks, made new gains yesterday toward southwest Germany beyond newly captured Bruyeres and east of the Moselotte river. German planes appeared in greater numbers over that sector yesterday, but American fliers shot down seven of them, probably destroyed another, and damaged four in three dogfights.

German communications farther south were crippled when Thunderbolts operating with the U. S. Third

Vets Are Not In Manpower Ceilings

Upon the recommendation of the Lancaster Administrative Area Priorities committee of the War Manpower Commission to Wilbur P. Gallatin, WMC area director, returning veterans of World War II will no longer be included in employment ceilings of war industries. This ruling will go into effect immediately.

In explanation, Mr. Gallatin gave as an example a firm having a ceiling of 3,000 workers could employ veterans up to any required number in addition to this ceiling and they would not be counted as a part of it. However, he stressed to all employers that this can be done only upon the condition that each veteran shows his discharge papers at time of employment and a record be kept in the plant office of proof of the man's legitimate discharge and date it was issued, for the firm's protection.

Zone Meeting Of Lions Clubs Here

Presidents and secretaries of Lions clubs at Waynesboro, New Oxford, East Berlin, York Springs and Upper Adams will meet with the Gettysburg club Monday evening for the first zone meeting of the current year.

Deputy District Governor C. Glenn Fry of Waynesboro will attend the meeting and will address the local Lions and the visiting officers. Other regional officers also will be present. Hugh C. McIlhenny, chairman of the eastern zone of Region 3, will preside during the zone business meeting that will follow the general club session.

The club dinner meeting will be held at 6 o'clock at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

Just received Junior size Dresses, all wool, $8.75 to $15.50. Virginia M. Myers.

DRIVE TOWARDS TWO AIRFIELDS AT HIGH SPEED

By C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 21 (AP)—The fall of two Japanese airfields appeared imminent today as well supplied troops of Gen Douglas MacArthur, backed by overwhelming naval and air might, drove inland on all sectors at Leyte in the central Philippines on the second day of invasion.

The 6,000-foot bomber field at Tacloban on the northeast was approached by one force. To the south, another force which advanced at such speed that Al Dopking, Associated Press War Correspondent said it was difficult to keep up with the men, was on the outskirts of an airfield near Dulag.

Japan's 16th Division, remembered for its torture of the Americans and Filipinos who surrendered at Bataan, had succeeded nowhere in mustering a large scale counterattack.

Pending the seizure and utilization of land air bases, American planes from escort carriers swooped as flying artillery on the estimated 20,000 defenders of Leyte, blowing up pill boxes and spewing death among motor convoys.

Two Night Raids

The enemy airforce, operating from the few fields in the Philippines which could be momentarily repaired between carrier plane attacks, managed two scattered night raids against small units of the 600-ship convoy which carried the U. S. Sixth Army and central Pacific units to the invasion.

A communique today acknowledged a torpedo hit on one vessel of undesignated size.

The ground forces under immediate command of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, apparently encountered their most tenacious opposition just below Cancabato bay at Palo.

There Fred Hampson, Associated Press War Correspondent, saw four of the landing ships and several smaller craft blown up by Japanese shore guns and mortars.

"Touch And Go"

For several hours it was touch and go with the Yanks jumping hip-deep into the water and sloshing ashore through a hail of machinegun bullets while shells of the foe sent up geysers of water.

"Our ground forces are consolidating their beachhead positions and driving inland on all sectors," read today's communique which MacArthur issued shortly after he had stood in a truck, drenched by rain, before a hand microphone and urged the Filipinos to the and strike blows to speed their hour of deliverance.

"Food and supplies have been landed on schedule against light opposition."

"Our ground casualties in the preliminary operation have been exceedingly light," the communique said.

Sweet Revenge

MacArthur, whose losing fight in 1942 was waged with a courageous but inadequately supplied garrison, deprived in the end of all air and naval cover, brought back to the Philippines the greatest mass of men, planes, warships and tanks ever assembled in the Pacific.

Murlin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent, said the 600-ship convoy carried at least as many as, and perhaps more than, the number of men landed on D day in Normandy.

(Inasmuch as Prime Minister Winston Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men landed in France the first day, such a sizeable force for the Philippines operation might well suggest that even greater operations, with more landings on other islands, are in the offing against the estimated 225,000 Japanese defending the Philippines.)

Every report from the invasion scene, while varying in the degree of opposition detailed, placed the Yanks on the move.

San Jose In Ruins

On the south end of Cancabato bay, Asahel Bush, Associated Press war correspondent, said the town of San Jose was in ruins as a result of the devastating bombardment from warships in Leyte gulf which included the battleship California—the one the Japanese thought they sank at Pearl Harbor.

Tokyo radio, after considerable silence, came through with claims that the Japanese on Leyte were "cutting deep into enemy landing points" but in the same breath admitted the Yanks were "heading toward Tacloban." The Japanese military waited until today before acknowledging the Leyte landings in a communique.

U.S. Recreation Center Set Up Two Miles From German Lines

By HAL BOYLE
With American Troops in Germany, Oct. 12 (Delayed) (AP) — Only two miles from the front lines, an American armored outfit has set up the first recreation center for Yank troops in Germany.

Here each day 200 soldiers come for a 12-hour respite from battle posts which some have held for more than eight days in rain and cold and through the heaviest shelling and bombing the Nazis have dished out.

The brick buildings housing the recreation center have no windows. Bombs blew them out. They are scarred from shrapnel. But the war is two miles away—and that seems a reasonably safe distance to the men who have been dueling the enemy at a hundred yards.

I walked through the center with the commanding general and Lt. Stephen F. Slaughter of Purcellville, Va., who helped organize this battlefield rest area.

Hot Meals, Shower
"We bring them in trucks from the front and take them to the center where they can scrub down under a hot shower—the first many of them have had in weeks," the lieutenant said. "Then they get a good hot meal and afterwards they can write letters home or go to one of two movie houses we keep running."

"The whole idea is to get them away from the tension of the front. Those hot showers do the most good. You can see them relax after that. Some of them have been living for days in foxholes under shell and mortar fire so heavy they don't leave their shelters even long enough to go to the toilet."

"As soon as they are clean again and have put down a good hot meal the first thing most of them want to do is grab a pencil and paper and write back home."

Rich To Get Back
A Red Cross director keeps writing supplies and reading material available and Protestant and Catholic chaplains hold daily services. Before dusk the troops load back into trucks and return to their posts. "The funny thing is that they are itching to get back to their buddies by then," Slaughter declared. "They want to give another bunch a chance to pull out and rest."

"The trip here is something to look forward to," said Pvt. Henry C. Boyette of Columbus, Ga., a combat engineer. "Up there we don't have much to look forward to either. Most of us now don't think this war is going to end tomorrow."

"Oh, I don't know about that," drawled Pvt. Homer E. Thomas of Spruce Pine, N. C., another engineer. "All that is holding us up is the Germans. If it hadn't been for them we would have been in Berlin."

Farmer Cuts Hair
In one room Pvt. Raymond E. Zillich of Waukegan, Ill., a gun-loader on a Sherman tank was writing to his wife. They have a 21-month-old son he has never seen.

"This is the first chance I have had to write home in 10 days," he said. "In the front lines the officers have no time to censor mail."

In another room Pfc. Henry S. Porter of Liberty, S. C., a former farmer, watched Pvt. Anthony Marine of Hillburn, N. Y., put the final clippers to the hair of Corp. Johnny Davies, Hammond, La.

"I also cut the general's hair—but I don't charge the boys anything for that," said Marino.

Across the room T-5 Jack Cordle of New Brocton, Ala., was putting ointment on a shrapnel burn on the foot of Staff Sgt. Gilroy Lemoine, of Cotton Port, La.

"Oh, yeah!"
The general, a tall quiet grey-eyed man who has fought in three campaigns, noticed Sgt. Thomas B. Tush of Garrett, Kas., a tank commander, having difficulty finishing a letter and asked:

"Can't you think of anything to say?"

"No, sir," replied Tush. "The words come pretty hard up there now. This is sure a pretty nice joint after ducking shells for days. I have spent so much time in cellars I feel like a rat."

Over one door in the recreation center was a German sign "Deutschland Uber Alles—Germany Above All."

Some G.I. had chalked under it: "Oh yeah!"

U. S. Condemnation Suit Is Settled

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg Battlefield, was notified this morning by Henry E. Harner, special assistant of the United States attorney's office in Harrisburg, the condemnation suit brought by the federal government against William I. Shields, Gettysburg, for 22.9 acres of land opposite the Peace Light Inn, has been settled at a price of $1,785 and the title has been transferred to the government.

Weather Forecast

Rain ending this afternoon followed by clearing and a little warmer. Fair tonight and Sunday. Cool tonight and warmer Sunday.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Truth Our Guide—The Public Good Our Aim

With Honor to Ourselves and Profit to Our Patrons

ESTABLISHED 1902

Leased Wire Member of The Associated Press

GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 21, 1944

Read by Nearly Everybody in Adams County

PRICE THREE CENTS

ALLIES ADVANCE IN PHILIPPINES

3 BADLY HURT IN CRASH OF BAKERY TRUCK

Three young men were seriously injured this morning about 8:15 o'clock when the bakery truck in which they were riding ran off the Lincoln highway two and a half miles west of here and was demolished in a collision with a tree just west of the Brownstone inn.

The three occupants of the truck were taken to the Warner hospital in the county ambulance after a tow truck derrick was rushed to the scene from the H. and H. machine shop here to lift part of the wrecked truck beneath which Merle K. Bietch, 16, 320 South Main street, Chambersburg, was pinned.

Bietch suffered leg injuries that may necessitate an amputation, police said. Both legs are fractured, the hospital reported.

The driver, David A. George, 24, York R. 7, also was badly hurt as was Roy Foust, 20, Chambersburg R. 5. The trio was given first aid at the scene of the crash by Dr. C. G. Crist. George has a broken leg. Foust is being X-rayed.

Pies Are Destroyed
Officers George J. Evanko and C. F. Renz of the Gettysburg detail of the state police are investigating the crash.

They said parts of the truck were scattered over a radius of 60 feet. The hundreds of pies the truck was hauling to Chambersburg from Mrs. Smith's bakery at York were scattered among the truck wreckage.

Private Evanko said that the west-bound truck had run off the right side of the highway, which is straight at that point, and struck an eight-inch tree with its left side. The truck "climbed" the tree for about five feet and then went over on its left side as the tree went down.

A preliminary estimated placed the damage at about $800.

SEEK TO BOOST WAR BOND SALES

Edgar W. Weaner, chairman of the agricultural division of the Adams county War Finance, urged agricultural committee township chairmen to take steps promptly to complete their organizations before the Sixth War Bond drive opens November 20.

He said he hoped each township every 10 farm families in his territory. He emphasized the fact that the war is not over and that south-west Pacific operations are more costly than those in Europe because of the great distances involved. "We can't afford to slow upon bond sales now," he declared.

M. J. Grimes, agricultural deputy of the state committee and the chief speaker for the evening, said he was confident that in the coming Sixth War Loan drive the agricultural groups would make a better showing than in the Fifth. Throughout the nation, he said, the returns from the agricultural regions were lower in the Fifth drive than in any preceding campaign.

At that time there was scarcely any harvesting done throughout the United States, but now, with the exception of apples, all crops are in. For this reason, Mr. Grimes expects a greater response from agricultural groups in the coming drive.

Statistics show, he said, that bond sales are in direct relation to the number of personal solicitations. He urged the workers to contact every one. In Adams county, Mr. Grimes said that the coverage had been good but that in the Sixth drive there was every reason to expect a larger coverage.

The township chairmen present included Harry Raffensperger, Butler; Casper Myers, Mt. Pleasant; Roy Weaner, Straban; John Settle, Franklin; Mervin Bishop, Freedom; D. H. Neely, Hamiltonban; and E. J. Smith, Huntington.

Those townships not represented included Berwick, Conewago, Menallen, Mt. Joy, Reading Tyroene, Union, Cumberland, Germany, Hamilton, Highland, Latimore and Liberty.

Arrive Overseas

Mrs. George Kadwill, 145 Buford avenue, has received word that her son, Sgt. Theodore Keefer, of Gettysburg, has arrived safely overseas. His location was not given.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, announce the birth of a son this morning at the Warner hospital. This is the couple's second child. They have a three-year-old daughter. Before her marriage, Mrs. Collins was Miss Golda Hook.

Urge Xmas Mailing Before December 1

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce office announced today that it has been asked by the Railway Express company to urge all persons planning to send Christmas gifts by parcel post or express to send them before December 1.

The Railway Express company said its request is in line with efforts of the Office of Defense Transportation to relieve the nation's war-burdened transportation facilities of the need for handling a late peak flow of Christmas packages.

LAST PEACHES, SWEET CORN AT MARKET TODAY

Peaches and roasting ears made their last stand of the season at the Farmers' market house today where supplies of fresh vegetables showed the effects of the first heavy frost last Monday.

One farmer sold sweet corn at 35c a dozen ears and said today's supply was the last of the season. Limited supplies of Ford's Late and Brackett peaches could be had at 15 and 20 cents a quart box.

Cider sold at 50 cents a gallon in glass jugs. Home-made applebutter brought 30 cents a pint and 50 cents a quart. Pumpkins were plentiful at 10 to 25 cents each.

Dressed Ducks, Guinea

Dressed ducks were on sale at 50 cents a pound while young guineas brought 58 cents, the same figure being asked for dressed young chickens. Egg prices ranged from 40 to 47 cents for mediums to 52 cents for the larger sizes.

Apples were plentiful and ranged downward in price from $4 and $3.50 per bushel for Stayman to $1 and $1.50 a bushel for poorer quality fruit. All of the popular fall varieties were on sale—Stayman, York Imperial, Delicious, Jonathan, Grimes, Banana and others. Quinces were 25 cents a box and $1 a peck. Kieffer pears were $1.50 a bushel.

Pork In Demand

Potatoes sold for $3 per bushel; sweet potatoes, $1.25 and $1.50 a half bushel; red and green peppers, two and three for five cents; turnips, 15 cents a box; cabbage, 10 cents a head and five and six cents a pound; red beets, 10 cents a bunch; small eggplants, two for five cents, and green tomatoes, 10 cents a quart box.

English walnuts were 25 cents a quart box. Honey was 30 cents a box. Butter milk sold for 10 cents a quart.
The demand for pork continued to be heavy. Prices were unchanged from last week when the first pork of the season appeared: Sausage, 42 cents a pound; scrapple, two pounds for 35 cents; backbone, 25 cents; ribs, 28 cents; lard, 17 cents; tenderloin, 50 cents; pigs feet, 10 cents each; pudding, 30 cents; sliced ham, 48 cents; ham for roasting, 45 cents, and shoulder meat, 35 cents a pound.

845 Hunters Have Bought Licenses

Total sales of hunting licenses for the current year stood at 845 this morning at the office of County Treasurer John W. Brehm at the court house.

With the rabbit season opening November 1, sales in recent weeks have been increasing and Treasurer Brehm reported the sale of between 40 and 50 licenses Friday. He said today he believed total sales to date are higher than for the corresponding period of last year.

An apparent easing of the ammunition shortage, which was evident this week in the sale of 25,000 shotgun shells at a local hardware store, has probably been the largest factor in boosting the ranks of the nimrods, the treasurer said. With only eight days remaining to purchase the licenses before the opening of the small game season, Brehm said he expects a rush of business next week and "looks forward to a much larger sale than last year."

RELIEF PAYMENTS

G. Harold Wagner, state treasurer, reported today that direct relief payments made to needy residents of Adams county during the week ended Friday totalled $338.90, in 61 checks, an increase of $2.50 over those of the previous week. The increase was evident although there was one less check mailed.

UNEMPLOYMENT PAYMENTS

Unemployment compensation payments totalling $48 were made in Gettysburg during the week ended Friday, State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner announced today.

Radio service, Baker's Dettory Service.

LOCAL FLYER COMPLETES 66 AIR MISSIONS

Staff Sgt. Orlo Plank, son of Mrs. John D. Settle, Seven Stars, spent his first day at home in more than eight months Friday after his return to this country from France.

Young Plank entered the Army Air Corps December 3, 1942, and went to Miami Beach, Florida, for his basic training. Following that he trained at the armament school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado; Dill Field, Tampa, Florida; Ardmore, Oklahoma; the Battle Creek, Michigan, Army air field; and the Atterbury Army Air Base, Columbus, Indiana.

Holding the rating of enlisted bombardier, Sergeant Plank completed 66 missions over the occupied countries of France, Holland, Belgium and other coastal areas before being returned to the United States. His last mission was an attack on the Siegfried line. In the successful attempt of the Allies to breach the German defense wall.

He flew on a B-26 Marauder medium bomber. "It's a good plane, too," Sergeant Plank said. "Although experts said it wouldn't fly when it was designed, it has proven to be one of the best planes we have. It carries a good bomb load and is fast. And that's important when you have to dodge flak all the time."

Drops 126 Tons

The young Gettysburg bombardier, who resides with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Deardorff, 146 Hanover street, figures he has dropped about 120 tons of bombs on German installations and military positions in occupied countries. Among his many missions were attacks on Cherbourg, Brest, Le Havre, Paris, St. Lo, Dunkirk and Rouen.

"The worst experience our crew had," he said, "was during an attack on Caen. When we went over that city there were 187 guns shooting at us. The flak really was thick. "Out of the 36 planes in our group, six of us went over for another run although we didn't have to. When we got back the ship was so badly shot up that it had to be junked. The fortunate thing (Please turn to Page 2)

SERGEANT PLANK

Here And There News Collected At Random

The Gettysburg Times has received a United States Treasury Department citation "for patriotic cooperation rendered in behalf of the War Finance program." The citation was signed by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury.

The citation was awarded for a year's service of cooperation with the War Finance Program during which time The Gettysburg Times published at least one full page of display advertising per week to promote the sale of war bonds.

In acknowledging receipt of the citation The Gettysburg Times gratefully gives public recognition to more than 300 Adams county merchants, manufacturers and individuals who sponsored the war bond display advertising program.

Sponsorship of the war bond advertising program was inaugurated at the outset of the war bond drives and Adams countyans readily joined in the movement to help promote war bond sales on the home front in this, the first county of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the five War Bond drives in Adams county, our merchants, manufacturers and individuals, with their combined sponsorship of advertising space, have been (Please Turn to Page 2)

McArthur Goes Ashore After Trip On Cruiser

Gen. Douglas MacArthur (third from right), under whose command Allied forces began an invasion of the Philippines October 17, here goes ashore in a landing craft recently at an undisclosed point in the Pacific theatre after a voyage aboard the U. S. Cruiser Nashville (background). Second from right is Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, the general's aide. Man at right is unidentified.

NAME WINNERS OF SOLDIER'S SCOUT CONTEST

At a joint meeting of the members of Boy Scout Troops 77 and 73 Thursday evening at Cashtown, the winners of a scout letter-writing contest, initiated by Sgt. Paul J. Kuhn, formerly of Bendersville, but now serving in Assam, India, with U.S. Army forces, were announced and awards were given to the winners.

The letter written by Tommy Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Selmar Hess, 233 Chambersburg street, was selected by Sergeant Kuhn as the best among the 15 submitted by Troop 77 members. Ivan Hartman, Gettysburg R. 3, was the winner from Troop 73. Nine scouts from that troop completed.

The awards, sent by Sergeant Kuhn from India, included a collection of India coins, a rupee paper note, a post card from India and a postage stamp from that country for each winner.

The contest was inaugurated by Sergeant Kuhn in a letter early last January to Scoutmaster Jack Cessna inviting scouts in this district to write letters to him on the subject "Why I Became a Scout." In the letter announcing the winners, Sergeant Kuhn said that an Eagle scout from Salt Lake City helped judge the competing letters. Kuhn formerly was associated with the Bendersville scout troop.

The winning letters were read at Thursday evening's meeting at Cashtown as the awards were made. There were patrol skits, movies and group singing on the program also. Fifteen Gettysburg scouts together with Scoutmaster Cessna and H. W. Baker, a troop committee member, went to Cashtown for the meeting.

Troops 77 and 73 were the only units in the district to enter the letter-writing contest.

YOUTH MISSING SINCE SEPT. 26

Sgt. James Leroy Bierly, 24, who was reported missing in action in a War Department telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bierly, Fairfield R. D., Friday morning, was serving with an infantry outfit in France. The telegram stated he has been missing since September 26.

Sgt. Bierly entered the service 27 months ago and trained in Tennessee, Kansas, California and at Fort Dix, N. J. He went overseas in July.

He graduated from Fairfield high school in 1938. On September 26, 1942, he married the former Miss Elizabeth Pryor, Waynesboro. The couple has no children.

A brother, Pvt. Willis Bierly, is serving with a medical outfit in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bierly received their last letter from their son on October 9.

Canadians Slash Four-Mile Gain North Of Antwerp

By WILLIAM FRYE
London, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Canadian Army, slugging methodically through rain-soaked fields and thickets north of Antwerp, pushed its three-pronged offensive four miles nearer Roosendaal and Breda today, while American troops hunted down remnants of the German garrison in the outskirts of captured Aachen.

British infantry and Canadian tanks entered the road-junction of Wuestwezel, 13 miles north of Antwerp on the Antwerp-Breda highway, and sent patrols probing out a mile or two northwest of the town. Two other columns, in twin-drives up the roads to Roosendaal, seized Calmpouth and neared the Roosendaal canal.

This offensive was the second phase of the battle to win use of Antwerp port as a supply base. The first phase was drawing to an end west of Antwerp, with Canadians steadily closing in on the German pocket around Breskens below the Schelde estuary.

Tanks Push On
In eastern Holland, U. S. forces pushed within 4,000 yards of a German communications strong-point near the Maas river. British troops meanwhile consolidated positions southeast of Venray on the Dutch battlefield.

Bitter fighting raged on the outskirts of Aachen's ruins, but Supreme headquarters announced that the main part of the battered city is firmly held. American troops fought their way through the center and ran the remnants of the enemy garrison to earth on the fringes. Some 2,000 prisoners had been taken, but 500 to 1,000 Germans were believed still resisting in isolated pockets.

German communications farther south were crippled when Thunderbolts operating with the U. S. Third

Vets Are Not In Manpower Ceilings

Upon the recommendation of the Lancaster Administrative Area Priorities committee of the War Manpower Commission to Wilbur P. Gallatin, WMC area director, returning veterans of World War II will no longer be included in employment ceilings of war industries. This ruling will go into effect immediately.

In explanation, Mr. Gallatin gave as an example a firm having a ceiling of 3,000 workers could employ veterans up to any required number in addition to this ceiling and they would not be counted as a part of it. However, he stressed to all employers that this can be done only upon the condition that each veteran shows his discharge papers at time of employment and a record be kept in the plant office of proof of the man's legitimate discharge and date it was issued, for the firm's protection.

Just received Junior size Dresses, all wool, $9.75 to $15.75. Virginia M. Myers.

Lincoln Said:
When you can't remove an obstacle, plow around it.

DRIVE TOWARDS TWO AIRFIELDS AT HIGH SPEED

By C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 21 (AP)—The fall of two Japanese airfields appeared imminent today as well supplied troops of Gen Douglas MacArthur, backed by overwhelming naval and air might, drove inland on all sectors at Leyte in the central Philippines on the second day of invasion.

The 6,000-foot bomber field at Tacloban on the northeast was approached by one force. To the south, another force which advanced at such speed that Al Dopking, Associated Press War Correspondent said it was difficult to keep up with the men, was on the outskirts of an airfield near Dulag.

Japan's 16th Division, remembered for its torture of the Americans and Filipinos who surrendered nowhere in mustering a large scale counterattack.

Pending the seizure and utilization of land air bases, American planes from escort carriers swooped as flying artillery on the estimated 20,000 defenders of Leyte, blowing up pill boxes and spewing death among motor convoys.

Two Night Raids

The enemy airforce, operating from the few fields in the Philippines which could be momentarily repaired between carrier plane attacks, managed two scattered night raids against small units of the 600-ship convoy which carried the U. S. Sixth Army and central Pacific units to the invasion.

A communique today acknowledged a torpedo hit on one vessel of undesignated size.

The ground forces under immediate command of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, apparently encountered their most tenacious opposition just below Cancabato bay at Palo.

There Fred Hampson, Associated Press War Correspondent, saw four of the landing ships and several smaller craft blown up by Japanese shore guns and mortars.

"Touch And Go"

For several hours it was touch and go with the Yanks jumping hip-deep into the water and sloshing ashore through a hail of machinegun bullets while shells of the foe sent up geysers of water.

"Our ground forces are consolidating their beachhead positions and driving inland on all sectors," read today's communique which MacArthur issued shortly after he had stood in a truck, drenched by rain, before a hand microphone and urged the Filipinos to rise and strike blows to speed their hour of deliverance.

"Food and supplies have been landed on schedule against light opposition."

"Our ground casualties in the preliminary operation have been exceedingly light," the communique said.

Sweet Revenge

MacArthur, whose losing fight in 1942 was waged with a courageous but inadequately supplied garrison, deprived in the end of all air and naval cover, brought back to the Philippines the greatest mass of men, planes, warships and tanks ever assembled in the Pacific.

Murlin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent, said the 600-ship convoy carried at least as many as, and perhaps more than, the number of men landed on D day in Normandy.

(Inasmuch as Prime Minister Winston Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men landed in France the first day, such a sizeable force for the Philippines operation might well suggest that even greater operations, with more landings on other islands, are in the offing against the estimated 225,000 Japanese defending the Philippines.)

Every report from the invasion scene, while varying in the degree of opposition detailed, placed the Yanks on the move.

San Jose in Ruins

On the south end of Cancabato bay, Asabel Bush, Associated Press war correspondent, said the town of San Jose was in ruins as a result of the devastating bombardment from warships in Leyte gulf which included the battleship California—the one the Japanese thought they sank at Pearl Harbor.

Tokyo radio, after considerable silence, came through with claims that the Japanese on Leyte were "cutting deep into enemy landing points" but in the same breath admitted the Yanks were "heading toward Tacloban." The Japanese military waited until today before acknowledging the Leyte landings in a communique.

Presumably referring to the vessel (Please Turn to Page 7)

BOCHE FACING DESTRUCTION OF BIG CITIES

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Chief of the former Associated Press Bureau in Berlin, substituting for Dewitt MacKenzie).

The cracking of the Siegfried line, which now seems a certainty, poses the problem for Adolf Hitler whether to declare industrial and historical centers like Cologne, Coblenz, Mainz, Duisburg, and Düsseldorf open cities, or whether to doom them to inevitable destruction in the pattern of Aachen.

These cities, as far as I could ascertain before I left Germany in May, 1942, are not fortified in the sense in which Aachen was a veritable citadel. The vaunted Atlantic wall was intended to be Nazi Germany's first line of defense; the west wall or Siegfried line the second. Both were considered impregnable. It was a rude shock to the German people to see the Atlantic wall pierced so rapidly. They have had a little more time to accustom themselves to the fact that even the Siegfried line is outmoded in view of the stupendous development of Allied fire-power.

Doubt Third Line

Along the upper Rhine, the Maginot and Siegfried lines were opposite each other. From Lauterburg on the Rhine becomes a purely German river.

There have been stories about a victory line of defense along the Rhine. Going by what I saw in 1941 I doubt whether a formidable system has been constructed on the right bank in the region beginning roughly at Mainz and extending to Wesel or Cleve. Besides, that would not help Mainz, Coblenz, Bonn, or Cologne, all of which are on the left bank.

The Rhine itself, broad and majestic in its middle section, is, of course, a hindrance to progress. Its monumental bridges will in all probability be blasted by the retreating Nazis.

Won't Stop Allies

But we are no longer in the rowboat age. This is mechanized warfare. Our amphibious operations have been marveled of modern science. General Eisenhower has undoubtedly taken the destruction of the bridges for granted—which does not mean, however, that he is leaving out of account the possibility of anticipating the Germans with parachute troops charged with saving this or that bridge, as in Holland.

The destruction of the Rhine bridges will slow up progress, but it should be only temporary. Meanwhile, on the left bank a shambles will be made of whatever city declines to surrender. And artillery planned on the smoking ruins of these centers of a thousand-year history will finish off at Duisburg, Düsseldorf, West and Mainz what the air armadas of the United Nations have failed to reduce to rubble.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

"Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. J. W. Leas, 450 West Middle street, were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leas and daughter, Marian, and son, Roger, and Mrs. J. H. Leas, all of Greensburg; Pvt. Justin R. Leas, Ft. Benning, Ga., and Sgt. Fred H. Leas, Marine Corps, who was on furlough after spending 21 months in the south Pacific.

Miss Billie Mae Shealer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shealer, Troxell apartments, Baltimore street, entertained a number of friends at a birthday party Friday afternoon in celebration of her seventh birthday anniversary. Games were played after which refreshments were served.

Those attending were Jane Donaher, Elise Schartz, Joan Sanders, Shirley Shaner, Sandra Strausberg, Dolores Bergner, Sandra Dry, Virginia Wachter, Signe Wagnall, Mary Louise Bupp, Barbara Ann Shealer and the guest of honor.

Pvt. Richard Millard, Majors Field, Texas, is spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reed, Baltimore street.

Miss Dorothy Gregg Lee, dean of women at Gettysburg college, and Miss Nancy Irie and Miss Henrietta Zener, college students, spent Friday in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Basil Smith and Mrs. Grant Corbin entertained a number of friends at the former's home at Grandview Terrace Thursday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuhns, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menchey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utz, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dillman, Mrs. Louise Hoffman, Oliver Reynolds, Mrs. Charles Emler, Mrs. William Yeo, Miss Anna Utz, Miss Nancy Lee, Billy Yeo, Miss Gerry Smith and Mrs. Mary Ellen Evans.

Prizes at 500 were awarded to Mrs. Utz, Mrs. Kuhns, Mrs. Menchey and Mrs. Reynolds. Refreshments were served.

Richard Culp has returned to Lehigh university after spending a 10-day recess at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp, York street.

Mrs. John D. Keith, Miss Martha Dickson, Mrs. J. McCrete Dickson, Mrs. Robert M. Hunt and Mrs. C. Harold Johnson spent Friday in Baltimore.

Mrs. D. E. Hess entertained the members of the Tabernacle club Friday evening at her home on Reservoir avenue. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, October 31, with Mrs. Elmer Warren, Springs avenue.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Gresh and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp have returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where they attended the biennial sessions of the United Lutheran church.

Albert Loti, Gettysburg R. 1, was discharged yesterday from the U. S. Naval hospital, Philadelphia, where he had been under observation and treatment for the past week.

Officers, escorts and chairmen of the Gettysburg chapter of the Women of the Moose will meet Sunday at noon at the Moose home on York street to go to Hanover where they will attend a conference on committee activities to be held by the College of Regents there at 1 p. m. Jane Hare, Hanover, associate regent of the College of Regents, will be in charge.

Women of the Moose from Gettysburg, York, Columbia and Frostburg, Md., will attend. A class will be initiated in honor of Senator James J. Davis and a luncheon will be served after the meeting. The local women are asked to wear blue for the occasion.

The Warner hospital auxiliary will meet at the Nurses home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Ponder Release Of Pearl Harbor Quiz

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—A "secret" report of the Navy's investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is in the hands of P. M. Ernest J. King, Navy commander in chief, for a determination of the effect of military security.

A series of much political debate, naval advisers by Rep. Max Baucus said, was being made by the Navy to determine the effect of the attack on the Pearl Harbor quiz.

The disclosure that Pearl Harbor was a "secret" to the people who were not in the Navy and who were not in the Navy, was a "secret" to the people who were not in the Navy and who were not in the Navy.

The Gettysburg Times proudly accepts the citation in the name of the more than 300 merchants, manufacturers and individuals who have made this recognition possible. It is for them and in their name that the citation is received and will be publicly displayed as a tribute to their patriotism and Americanism.

The names of all those sponsoring "War Bond Advertising" in an official record in the state and national headquarters of the War Finance Program.

TITO CAPTURES BELGRADE; REDS TAKE DEBRECHEN

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Oct. 21 (AP)—The red-starred tricolor of Marshal Tito's Yugoslav National Liberation Army was raised in victory today over the charred ruins of Belgrade. With the fallen Yugoslav capital as a base a powerful joint Yugoslav-Russian drive appeared to be shaping up toward Croatia's principal city of Zagreb.

Seared by nearly a week of fiery street fighting Belgrade finally was purged yesterday of the last nests of German resistance by the combined efforts of Yugoslav veterans and Soviet forces under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin.

Meanwhile, Marshal Stalin has announced the capture of Hungary's third city—Debrecen—a conquest that broke the back of German resistance in eastern Hungary after prolonged and furious armored battle estimated to have cost the Germans and Russians a total of 1,000 tanks.

Official Russian silence still enveloped the East Prussian front. But this was not a source of surprise here, for when the news finally is released it is expected to be as sensational as the announcement of the Romanian drive in August.

12 Mile Advance

(Berlin announced last night that Red Army troops had penetrated 12 miles inside East Prussia on an 89-mile front. The Germans also said the Russians in Hungary had rolled 30 miles beyond Debrecen, reaching the rail town of Tiszecseg on the Tisza river some 85 miles east of the capital.)

Russians were embroiled in a fierce struggle with German rear-guards in the vicinity of Szolnok, less than 50 miles southeast of Budapest. With reported chaos within the city, Regent Nicholas Horthy's repudiation of Hitler seemed more than ever mistimed and mislaid as the Germans managed to retain strategic control of the Magyar capital.

At Zagreb, which appeared to be the next big objective of the drive through Yugoslavia, the puppet premier of Croatia, Dr. Ante Pavelic, has been reported on the verge of flight for some time. Marshal Tito's partisans have been camping almost on the edge of the city.

Southeast of Belgrade, the Russian communiqué said a total of 17,147 trapped Germans were killed or captured in eliminating an enemy pocket.

Sons Of Vets Hold Social For Ladies

Approximately 35 members of Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans, their wives and members of the ladies' auxiliary attended a ladies' social Friday evening at the post rooms, East Middle street.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian, showed pictures of Gettysburg and the battlefield during and after the battle of Gettysburg. Jesse E. Snyder, chairman of the program committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served. The social replaced the regular second meeting in October for the post.

BOARD MEETING CANCELLED

There will be no meeting Monday of the County board of school directors. County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Starbough announced today. The meeting was cancelled because of the press of work in preparation for the annual Adams County Teachers' institute Thursday and Friday. The next meeting of the county board will be held Monday, November 27.

VISITS COLLEGE

Judge J. Frank Graff, Republican candidate for the Superior court, visited with Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, during his trip to Gettysburg Friday as a member of the GOP caravan. Judge Graff's grandfather, Dr. James Brown, was president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. His father, J. Frank Graff, Sr., attended college here and married Dr. Brown's daughter, Miss Carrie Louise Brown.

WAVE GRADUATES

Miss Mabel Elizabeth Noll, 20, Gettysburg R. 2, was graduated recently from the Naval Training School as a yeoman in the WAVES on the Iowa State Teachers' college campus at Cedar Falls, Iowa. Her studies included shorthand, typing, naval correspondence, records and forms and current events.

HARTMAN HOME

Lee M. Hartman, athletic specialist, first class, former probationary of Adams county, now in the Navy, is spending a 10-day leave at his home at Cashtown. He is stationed at the Naval station at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.

AT GREAT LAKES

Paul Graydon Haller, 18, 422 West Middle street, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval training center at Great Lakes, Ill.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Grant Corbin, Gettysburg, R. D., has received word her son, P. T. Harold K. Decker, has arrived safely in France.

Upper Communities

The Bendersville Boy Scout troop 72 will celebrate Halloween at its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

S 2/C John H. Stallsmith, Bainsville, Md., is spending a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stallsmith, Biglerville.

Miss Mae Gantt, Newport, is spending a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dillman, Jonesboro, recently visited John H. Enck at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, Biglerville.

WAVE OF WAR BOND CASHING HITS NEW HIGH

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The government on Oct. 2 made it easier for people to cash in their War Savings Bonds. Since then they have cashed in more than in any comparable period since the war started.

But the new easier-to-cash system was intended merely as a convenience to save time and red tape for people who needed to cash bonds.

The government wants people to hold their bonds and not cash them in.

Yet, in the first 18 days of October, they redeemed $229,088,579 in bonds while buying only $293,357,581. But the Treasury department says redemptions now have begun to level off.

These are some of the reasons given by the Treasury for the rush to turn bonds into cash:

May Freeze Bonds

There have been rumors that the government intended to freeze war bonds and refuse to cash them.

Some people misunderstood the new arrangement. They thought the government wanted them to start cashing in their bonds.

Some people who intended to cash in their bonds in the latter part of September—when the old red tape method was still in effect—held them until the new operation went into effect Oct. 2.

The old method took time and work; requests to turn a bond into cash had to move through a Federal Reserve bank or through the Treasury.

Under the new system a person can walk into a bank, give proper identification, and turn a bond into cash immediately. Not every bank is qualified to render this service, but most are.

Reverse Results

Any incorporated bank or trust company can qualify in most cases by asking government permission to give the public this kind of service.

By making it easier for people to cash their bonds, the Treasury hoped fewer bondholders would cash them and this is why:

Under the old, long-drawn-out system people would figure they'd need money in another month. Knowing it would take time to cash a bond, they'd turn it in. By the time the next month came around they sometimes found they didn't need the bond money. But then they would not turn that extra cash back into another bond.

The only bonds which can be redeemed under the new method are the A, B, C, D and E bonds. Holders of the F and G bonds must still go through the old procedure if they want to convert to cash.

WOMAN STABBED IN BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Oct. 21 (AP)—City police continued today an inquiry into the death of a 26-year-old woman war worker who was fatally stabbed on a street corner in downtown Baltimore early yesterday.

They questioned nine persons last night, police officials said, but made no arrests.

They declined to disclose whether one of those questioned was the man whose first name was whispered by the victim, Miss Evelyn Acker, a native of Osterburg, Pa., just before she died at Mercy hospital.

As she regained consciousness, police said, she also said: "I'm going to tell you."

Miss Acker, a former member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and for the last year an electrician's helper at the Bethlehem-Fairfield Shipyard, died shortly after being taken to the hospital with four stab wounds in the chest and two wrist slashes.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, and Wilmer Bushey, Gettysburg R. 3, who was admitted in the ambulance, are patients at the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Miss Kathryn Sharrah, York street; Mrs. Donald R. Gilling and infant daughter, Fay Louise, Taneytown. Mrs. Glenn Sherman and infant son, Jerry Lee, Hanover street; Frank Raffensperger, Gettysburg R. 2, and Pamela Dulaney, Carlisle.

Jewelry Gifts

for EVERY OCCASION

BLOCHER'S

Jewelers since 1887
25-27 CHAMBERSBURG ST.

Trapping Season Opens November 1st
STEEL and GAME TRAPS
Now Available
Orders Taken for Trap Name Plates

Geo. M. Zerfing

"Hardware on the Square"

PUBLIC SALE

OF ANTIQUES AND OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY
Saturday, November 18, 1944

The undersigned, executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased, will offer at public sale on the premises located at 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the following described personal property:

Grandfather's clock, Terry clock and other clocks; 4 corner cupboards; large and small tables; 1 six legged table; 5 chests of drawers; 1 Hepplewhite; mirrors; ladder back rocking chairs and arm chairs; 17 rugs; beds, springs and mattresses; 1 Beautyrest mattress; Currier & Ives prints, paintings and pictures; breakfast table; glassware of all kinds; 65 goblets; dishes; pottery; copper lustre; brass candlesticks; glass candlesticks; Wedgewood cups and saucers; sewing table; sewing machine; 17 stone jars; bed side table; chest; lamps; fire screen; andirons; tongs; 16 vases; 2 foot-stools; brass kettles; desk; gentleman's chairs; bookshelf; lamps; day bed and mattress; radio; large and small stands; card table; electric refrigerator; electric range; gas range; electric washer; lawn chair; garden tools; doughtray; lawn seed sower; hand sprayer; tools; all kinds of kitchen utensils, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Sale will commence promptly at 12:30 o'clock P. M., Eastern War Time, when terms and conditions of sale will be made known by the undersigned.

W. HOWARD HAKE, Executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, deceased, 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pa.

G. R. Thompson, Auctioneer
Swope, Brown & Swope, Attorney for Estate.

PUBLIC SALE

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
Saturday, October 28th
1 O'CLOCK P. M. SHARP

The undersigned will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, located at 109 Springs Avenue, Borough of Gettysburg, the following valuable Real Estate and Household Goods:

DOUBLE FRAME HOUSE, lot 50'x166', slate roof, excellent repairs throughout, two building garage, 1 1/2 stories high, room for three cars. East side of house consists of 6 rooms, two baths, and hot air furnace, the West side consists of 7 rooms, two baths and new steam heating plant.

At the same time the following Household Goods will be offered: Late model Frigidaire; Maytag washer; electric Hoover sweeper. Majestic console radio; living room suite; walnut dining room suite; electric Hot Point iron; two enamel coal ranges; springs and mattresses; aluminum ware; lot of coal and wood, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms will be made known day of sale by

J. CALVIN LADY
LOY ORNDORFF, Auctioneer -
GEORGE MARCH, Clerk.

THE Taylor-Made SHOE

MODIFIED NOCCASIN
All Weather Sole

$7.50

THE SHOE BOX

Political Advertisement

For State Senator
Adams-Franklin District

VOTE FOR

Lawrence C. Zeger

Mercersburg, Pa.
Your Support and Influence
Respectfully Solicited
Election, Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1944

BOCHE FACING DESTRUCTION OF BIG CITIES

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
(Chief of the former Associated Press Bureau in Berlin, substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie).

The cracking of the Siegfried line, which now seems a certainty, poses the problem for Adolf Hitler whether to declare industrial and historical centers like Cologne, Coblenz, Mainz, Dusseldorf, and Düsseldorf open cities, or whether to doom them to inevitable destruction in the pattern of Aachen.

These cities, as far as I could ascertain before I left Germany in May, 1942, are not fortified in the sense in which Aachen was a veritable citadel. The vaunted Atlantic wall was intended to be Nazi Germany's first line of defense; the west-wall or Siegfried line the second. Both were considered impregnable. It was a rude shock to the German people to see the Atlantic wall pierced so rapidly. They have had a little more time to accustom themselves to the fact that even the Siegfried line is outmoded in view of the stupendous development of Allied fire-power.

Doubt Third Line
Along the upper Rhine, the Maginot and Siegfried lines were opposite each other. From Lauterburg on, the Rhine becomes a purely German river.

There have been stories about a territory line of defense along the Rhine. Going by what I saw in 1941 I doubt whether a formidable system has been constructed on the right bank in the region beginning, roughly, at Mainz and extending to Wesel or Cleve. Besides, that would not help Mainz, Coblenz, Bonn, or Cologne, all of which are on the left bank.

The Rhine itself, broad and majestic in its middle section, is, of course, a hindrance to progress. Its monumental bridges will in all probability be blasted by the retreating Nazis.

Won't Stop Allies
But we are no longer in the rowboat age. This is mechanized warfare. Our amphibious operations have been marveled of modern science. General Eisenhower has undoubtedly taken the destruction of the bridges for granted—which does not mean, however, that he is leaving out of account the possibility of anticipating the Germans with parachute troops charged with saving this or that bridge, as in Holland.

The destruction of the Rhine bridges will slow up progress, but it should be only temporary. Meanwhile, on the left bank a shambles will be made of whatever city declines to surrender. And artillery planted on the smoking ruins of these centers of a thousand-year history will finish off at Duisburg, Dusseldorf, Wesel, and Mainz what the air armadas of the United Nations have failed to reduce to rubble.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

(Continued From Page 1)
at the forefront, nationally, in amount of space contributed to the bond drives.

A close observer of the bond drives said: "To the merchants who sponsored the war bond advertising program goes a great deal of the credit for the overwhelming success of each drive. Their prestige was recognized and their appeal to all Adams countians to buy bonds and more bonds furnished the impetus that enabled Adams county to go 'over the top' in five successive drives. Their efforts cannot be measured but had they not supported the campaigns the effect would have been noted in the final results."

This generous demonstration of patriotism on the part of our merchants, manufacturers and individuals is symbolic of the true spirit of Americanism that prevails in Adams county. In every war effort Adams countians have not failed. They have not only given generously of their time and effort but of their means to present a solid home-front offense in the all-out war effort.

The citation just received is a tribute to those people who unselfishly and without manifestation of public clamor or glory contribute in so many ways that this terrible war may be brought to an early and victorious close.

The Gettysburg Times proudly accepts the citation in the name of the more than 300 merchants, manufacturers and individuals who have made this recognition possible. It is for them and in their name that the citation is received and will be publicly displayed as a tribute to their patriotism and Americanism.

The names of all those sponsoring War Bond advertising is on official record in the state and national headquarters of the War Finance Program.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. J. W. Leas, 450 West Middle street, were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leas and daughter, Marian, and son, Roger, and Mrs. J. H. Leas, all of Greensburg; Pvt. Justin R. Leas, Ft. Benning, Ga., and Sgt. Fred H. Leas, Marine Corps, who was on furlough after spending 21 months in the south Pacific.

Miss Billie Mae Shealer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shealer, Troxell apartments, Baltimore street, entertained a number of friends at a birthday party Friday afternoon in celebration of her seventh birthday anniversary. Games were played after which refreshments were served.

Those attending were Jane Donley, Elise Scharf, Joan Sanders, Shirley Shaner, Sandra Strausbaugh, Dolores Berger, Sandra Dry, Virginia Wachter, Signe Wagnild, Mary Louise Bupp, Barbara Ann Shealer and the guest of honor.

Pvt. Richard Millard, Majors Field, Texas, is spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reed, Baltimore street.

Miss Dorothy Gregg Lee, dean of women at Gettysburg college, and Miss Nancy Irl and Miss Henrietta Zaner, college students, spent Friday in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Basil Smith and Mrs. Grant Corbin entertained a number of friends at the former's home at Grandview Terrace Thursday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuhns, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menchey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utz, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dillman, Mrs. Louise Hoffman, Oliver Reynolds, Mrs. Charles Hemler, Mrs. William Yeo, Miss Anna Utz, Miss Nancy Lee, Billy Yeo, Miss Gerty Smith and Mrs. Mary Ellen Evans.

Prizes at 500 were awarded to Mrs. Utz, Mrs. Kuhns, Mrs. Menchey and Mrs. Reynolds. Refreshments were served.

Richard Culp has returned to Lehigh university after spending a 10-day recess at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp, York street.

Mrs. John D. Keith, Miss Martha Dickson, Mrs. J. McGee Dickson, Mrs. Robert M. Hunt and Mrs. C. Harold Johnson spent Friday in Baltimore.

Mrs. D. E. Hess entertained the members of the Tabern club Friday evening at her home on Reservoir avenue. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, October 31, with Mrs. Elmer Warren, Springs avenue.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Gresh and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp have returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where they attended the biennial sessions of the United Lutheran church.

Albert Lott, Gettysburg R. 1, was discharged yesterday from the U. S. Naval hospital, Philadelphia, where he had been under observation and treatment for the past week.

Officers, escorts and chairmen of the Gettysburg chapter of the Women of the Moose will meet Sunday at noon at the Moose home on York street to go to Hanover where they will attend a conference on committee activities to be held by the College of Regents there at 1 p. m. Jane Hare, Hanover, associate regent of the College of Regents, will be in charge.

Women of the Moose from Gettysburg, York, Columbia and Frostburg, Md., will attend. A class will be initiated in honor of Senator James J. Davis and a luncheon will be served after the meeting. The local women are asked to wear white for the occasion.

The Warner hospital auxiliary will meet at the Nurses' home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Ponder Release Of Pearl Harbor Quiz

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—A "secret" report on the Navy's investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is in the hands of Admiral Ernest J. King, Navy commander in chief, for a determination of its effects on military security.

Subject of much political debate, including assertions by Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) that it was being withheld for political reasons, the report was delivered to Navy Secretary Forrestal yesterday, labeled in part as "top secret"—highest Naval security classification.

Forrestal immediately notified the court of inquiry which prepared the report that he would ask King to determine how much of its findings might endanger national security if disclosed.

His action came only a few hours after President Roosevelt, saying he knew nothing about it, declined to discuss Maas' comments that the court's report was being delayed because it would be "politically embarrassing to the administration."

George D. March, York street, was elected third vice president of the Firemen's association of Southeastern Pennsylvania at the 22nd annual convention held Thursday at Steelton.

Wedding

Black-Sheaffer

Pic. George A. Black, of Gettysburg, and Miss Lulu A. Sheaffer, of Shippensburg, were married last Friday at Hagerstown. The Rev. F. Berry Plummer, pastor of the United Brethren church and a former pastor in Shippensburg, performed the double ring ceremony.

Pic. Black is stationed at Carlisle Barracks. The bride is employed at the Beistle company, Shippensburg. They will make their home at 366 East Orange street, Shippensburg.

DEATH

Mrs. Anna Jane Miller

Mrs. Anna J. H. Miller, 78, Hanover, died Friday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock. She was a daughter of the late Benjamin and Julia Cromer Hildbrand. Mrs. Miller was the widow of Milton M. Miller, who died 23 years ago. She is survived by seven children, Mrs. Clara Hildebrand, all of Hanover; Miss Nellie Miller, at home; Mrs. Paul Golden, Red Lion; Mrs. Milton Wetzel, with whom she resided, and Norman Miller, Abbotstown; one sister, Mrs. Laura Moon, Baltimore; four brothers, John Hildbrand, Glen Rock R. D.; Benjamin Hildbrand, Spring Grove; Charles Hildbrand, Baltimore; Richard Hildbrand, Columbia; 22 grandchildren, six of whom are serving overseas, and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services from the late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Harry Hursh Beideman will officiate. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

NAB GARAGEMAN ON NEW CHARGE

Albert Thomas, Reading township, proprietor of a garage along the York Springs-Hampton road, was arrested Friday, for the second time in two days, on a charge of maintaining a gambling device in the form of a card game.

He was arrested Thursday by agents of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board for selling and permitting the sale without a license of malt and brewed beverages on his property.

The information charging the "setting up and permitting to be set up for the purpose of gambling a game of cards commonly known as poker," was signed by Pvt. Harold K. Trout, of the local substation of the state police. Thomas was arrested by the state police and arraigned Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Claude S. Straley, of New Oxford. Justice Straley set Thomas' bail at $1,000, for a hearing Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the defendant was released. Thomas also is scheduled for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the beer sales charge.

Trout's information charged that the gambling game had been maintained at Thomas' garage on "October 8 and divers other times."

SOVIET PRESS LAUDS CONFAB OF TWO CHIEFS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 21 (AP)—Moscow's press gave the Churchill-Stalin negotiations profuse praise today, vividly mirroring the good which official Russia believes resulted from the long, numerous and friendly discussions of the two leaders.

Editorials said differences still existed between Great Britain and the Soviet Union on certain European questions but asserted the road appeared clear towards framing a firm hard peace.

A joint communique summing up the 10-day meeting was issued this morning. It said the two leaders made "important progress" toward settling the Polish dispute, reached an agreement on remaining points in the Bulgarian armistice terms and that their governments have decided to pursue a joint policy in Yugoslavia. Military plans for the war also were reviewed.

U. S. In Agreement
Agreements at the conference were said to have the full approval of the United States government, represented by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Moscow's morning press and radio gave smash play to the prime minister's departure and Stalin seeing him off at the Moscow airport. The papers printed an eight-column front page photograph.

It was learned that both Churchill and Stalin expressed regret that President Roosevelt was unable to attend. Before leaving Moscow Thursday the British prime minister said he thought it would be an excellent idea for the three to get together again as they did at Teheran.

Alaska has an area of 586,400 square miles.

Europeans learned algebra from the Arabs.

TITO CAPTURES BELGRADE; REDS TAKE DEBRECHEN

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Oct. 21 (AP)—The red-starred tricolor of Marshal Tito's Yugoslav National Liberation Army was raised in victory today over the charred ruins of Belgrade. With the fallen Yugoslav capital as a base a powerful joint Yugoslav-Russian drive appeared to be shaping up toward Croatia's principal city of Zagreb.

Seared by nearly a week of fiery street fighting Belgrade finally was purged yesterday of the last nests of German resistance by the combined efforts of Yugoslav veterans and Soviet forces under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin.

Meanwhile, Marshal Stalin also has announced the capture of Hungary's third city—Debrecen—a conquest that broke the back of German resistance in eastern Hungary after prolonged and furious armored battle estimated to have cost the Germans and Russians a total of 1,000 tanks.

Official Russian silence still enveloped the East Prussian front. But this was not a source of surprise here, for when the news finally is released it is expected to be as sensational as the announcement of the Romanian drive in August.

12 Mile Advance
(Berlin announced last night that Red Army troops had penetrated 12 miles inside East Prussia on an 80-mile front. The Germans also said the Russians in Hungary had rolled 30 miles beyond Debrecen, reaching the rail town of Tiszacsage on the Tisza river some 85 miles east of the capital.)

Russians were embroiled in a fierce struggle with German rear-guards in the vicinity of Szolnok, less than 50 miles southeast of Budapest. With reported chaos within the city, Regent Nicholas Horthy's repudiation of Hitler seemed more than ever mistimed and mislaid as the Germans managed to retain strategic control of the Magyar capital.

At Zagreb, which appeared to be the next big objective of the drive through Yugoslavia, the puppet premier of Croatia, Dr. Ante Pavelic, has been reported on the verge of flight for some time. Marshal Tito's partisans have been camping almost on the edge of the city.

Southeast of Belgrade, the Russian communique said a total of 17,147 trapped Germans were killed or captured in eliminating an enemy pocket.

Sons Of Vets Hold Social For Ladies

Approximately 35 members of Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans, their wives and members of the ladies' auxiliary attended a ladies' social Friday evening at the post rooms, East Middle street.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian, showed pictures of Gettysburg and the battlefield during and after the battle of Gettysburg. Jesse E. Snyder, chairman of the program committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served. The social replaced the regular second meeting in October for the post.

BOARD MEETING CANCELLED

There will be no meeting Monday of the County board of school directors, County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh announced today. The meeting was cancelled because of the press of work in preparation for the annual Adams County Teachers' institute Thursday and Friday. The next meeting of the county board will be held Monday, November 27.

VISITS COLLEGE

Judge J. Frank Graff, Republican candidate for the Superior court, visited with Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, during his trip to Gettysburg Friday as a member of the GOP caravan. Judge Graff's grandfather, Dr. James Brown, was president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. His father, J. Frank Graff, Sr., attended college here and married Dr. Brown's daughter, Miss Carrie Louise Brown.

WAVE GRADUATES
Miss Mabel Elizabeth Null, 20, Gettysburg R. 2, was graduated recently from the Naval Training School as a yeoman in the WAVES on the Iowa State Teachers' college campus at Cedar Falls, Iowa. Her studies included shorthand, typing, naval correspondence, records and forms and current events.

HARTMAN HOME

Lee M. Hartman, athletic specialist, first class, former prothonotary of Adams county, now in the Navy, is spending a 10-day leave at his home at Cashtown. He is stationed at the Naval station at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.

AT GREAT LAKES

Paul Grayson Haller, 18, 422 West Middle street, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval training center at Great Lakes, Ill.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Grant Corbin, Gettysburg R. D., has received word her son, Pvt. Harold K. Decker, has arrived safely in France.

Upper Communities

The Bendersville Boy Scout troop 72 will celebrate Halloween at its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

S 2/C John H. Stallsmith, Bainbridge, Md., is spending a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stallsmith, Biglerville.

Miss Mae Gantt, Newport, is spending a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dillman, Jonestown, recently visited John H. Enck at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, Biglerville.

WAVE OF WAR BOND CASHING HITS NEW HIGH

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The government on Oct. 2 made it easier for people to cash in their War Savings Bonds. Since then they have cashed in more than in any comparable period since the war started.

But the new easier-to-cash system was intended merely as a convenience to save time and red tape for people who needed to cash bonds. The government wants people to hold their bonds and not cash them in.

Yet, in the first 18 days of October they redeemed $229,088,879 in bonds while buying only $293,857,561. But the Treasury department says redemptions now have begun to level off.

These are some of the reasons given by the Treasury for the rush to turn bonds into cash:

May Freeze Bonds

There have been rumors that the government intended to freeze war bonds and refuse to cash them.

Some people misunderstood the new arrangement. They thought the government wanted them to start cashing in their bonds.

Some people who intended to cash in their bonds in the latter part of September—when the old red tape method was still in effect—held them until the new operation went into effect Oct. 2.

The old method took time and work; requests to turn a bond into cash had to move through a Federal Reserve bank or through the Treasury.

Under the new system a person can walk into a bank, give proper identification, and turn a bond into cash immediately. Not every bank is qualified to render this service, but most are.

Reverse Results

Any incorporated bank or trust company can qualify in most cases by asking government permission to give the public this kind of service.

By making it easier for people to cash their bonds, the Treasury hoped fewer bondholders would cash them and this is why:

Under the old, long-drawn-out system people would figure they'd need money in another month. Knowing it would take time to cash a bond, they'd turn it in. By the time the next month came around they sometimes found they didn't need the bond money. But then they would not turn that extra cash back into another bond.

The only bonds which can be redeemed under the new method are the A, B, C, D and E bonds. Holders of the F and G bonds must still go through the old procedure if they want to convert to cash.

WOMAN STABBED IN BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Oct. 21 (AP)—City police continued today an inquiry into the death of a 26-year-old woman war worker who was fatally stabbed on a street corner in downtown Baltimore early yesterday.

They questioned nine persons last night, police officials said, but made no arrests.

They declined to disclose whether one of those questioned was the man whose first name was whispered by the victim, Miss Evelyn Acker, a native of Osterburg, Pa., just before she died at Mercy hospital.

As she regained consciousness, police said, she also said: "I'm going to tell on you."

Miss Acker, a former member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and for the last year an electrician's helper at the Bethlehem-Fairfield Shipyards, died shortly after being taken to the hospital with four stab wounds in the chest and two wrist slashes.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, and Wilmer Bushey, Gettysburg R. 3, who was admitted in the ambulance, are patients at the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Miss Kathryn Sharrah, York street; Mrs. Donald R. Glingan and infant daughter, Fay Louise, Taneytown; Mrs. Glenn Sherman and infant son, Jerry Lee, Hanover street; Frank Raffensperger, Gettysburg R. 2, and Pamela Dulaney, Carlisle.

PLAN PARADE AT YORK SPRINGS

The fifth annual Halloween parade for York Springs, sponsored by businessmen and merchants of that vicinity and the Lions club there, will be held next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock with approximately $65 to be distributed in prizes.

After the parade refreshments will be served free to the children of the community by the Lions club at the York Springs firemen's hall. The parade is to form at 6:30 o'clock at the high school campus.

The list of prizes being offered follows: Best decorated automobile or truck float, $10 first, and $5 second prize; best dressed couple, $5 and $3; best comical adult, $3 and $1; best dressed couple between eight and 16 years, $3 and $1.50; most comical parade between eight and 16 years, $2 and $1; best decorated animal-drawn vehicle, $5 and $2.50; best decorated bicycle and juvenile rider, $3, $2 and $1; best decorated horse or pony and rider, $2 and $1; most outstanding representation, group on foot, $7.50 and $5.

The following list of sponsors has been announced: Mrs. A. P. Myers, R. L. Pittenturf, Paul Lehman, Frank Weigle, W. E. Grove, Orpheus Diller, Frank Kemper, H. L. Crosby, Spencer Snyder, Harold Myers, L. Earl Miller, E. E. Nell, Wreath's Beauty shop, E. Ross Koons, Zeigler brothers mill, Hershey Creamery company, Local Meat market, Harry Hardman, Harold Smith, William Jacobs, York Springs hotel, N. R. Criswell, C. F. Ditzler, Gilbert Fair and sons, William Davis, E. C. Lerew, Wolf's garage, Postmaster C. M. Boyer, M. S. Hershey, York Springs bank, Dr. William Flickinger, Coulson's garage and Vance Sittler.

In case of rain the parade will be held Tuesday evening, October 31.

LOCAL FLYER

(Continued From Page 1)

about it was that not one of the crew had been hit."

Returning from another mission to Dunkirk during the pre-invasion "softening-up" of the German positions along the coast, Sergeant Plank's ship had to make a crash landing. Enemy fire had punctured the gasoline tanks, disabled the radio and the hydraulic system and put two of the motors out of commission. Although the pilot was able to put down the landing gear, the right wheel collapsed and the plane spun around before the engineer, who was wounded, pulled on the emergency brakes.

"That probably saved our lives," Sergeant Plank related, "and the engineer got the Silver Star award for his deed."

The Gettysburg youth went to France with a Ninth Air Force group about a month before returning to this country. "The French people are swell," he declared, "and they can't do enough for you. One evening when a couple of us fellows went out to dinner with a French family, the old Frenchman brought out a bottle of 1917 champagne. He apologized because he had nothing older to offer us but said, 'The Boche took it all.'"

Has Air Medal

"The French folks would give you anything you want if they have it or could get it. They don't blame us for the destruction of their cities because they realize it was made necessary by the German occupation."

Sergeant Plank spent about a week in Scotland when at a rest home and also thinks highly of the Scottish people. "The girls there are prettier than the English girls," he said.

He wears the Air Medal with two silver and two bronze oak leaf clusters, the equivalent of 12 bronze clusters. His other awards include the European theatre of operations service ribbon with two battle stars, one for the pre-invasion battle for France and the second for operations against the enemy after D-Day; and his good conduct medal.

He is a graduate of Gettysburg high school with the class of 1941. At the conclusion of his 21-day leave at home, Sergeant Plank will report to the Air Force station at Atlantic City, after which he will be reassigned to another post.

CEILING PRICE ON HARD CANDY

The OPA reminded shoppers today that cents-per-pound prices prevail for hard candies much in demand during the holiday season.

Five and ten cent chain stores may not charge over 25c a pound for all types of hard candy. The maximum price in other retail stores has been fixed at 33 cents a pound.

Last season, it will be remembered, hard candies sold for as much as 80c a pound until OPA acted in November and clamped on ceilings. These same maximum prices will prevail this season.

OPA also points out that retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers must maintain their "customary" prices on all other candies including chocolate covered assortments. The "customary price" is defined as that charged during the "freeze" period in March 1942. Increases are not permitted unless authorized by OPA.

Jewelry Gifts

for EVERY OCCASION

BLOCHER'S
Jewelers since 1887
25-27 CHAMBERSBURG ST.

Trapping Season Opens November 1st

STEEL and GAME

TRAPS

Now Available

Orders Taken for Trap Name Plates

Geo. M. Zerfing

"Hardware on the Square"

PUBLIC SALE

OF ANTIQUES AND OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY

Saturday, November 18, 1944

The undersigned, executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased, will offer at public sale on the premises located at 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the following described personal property:

Grandfather's clock, Terry clock and other clocks; 4 corner cupboards; large and small tables, 1 six legged table; 5 chests of drawers, 1 Hepplewhite; mirrors; ladder back rocking chairs and arm chairs; 17 rugs; beds, springs and mattresses, 1 Beautyrest mattress; Currier & Ives prints, paintings and pictures; breakfast table; glassware of all kinds; 65 goblets; dishes; pottery; copper lustre; brass candlesticks; glass candlesticks; Wedgwood cups and saucers; sewing table; sewing machine; 17 stone jars; bed side table; chest; lamps; fire screen; andirons; tongs; 16 vases; 2 foot-stools; brass kettles; desk; gentleman's chairs; bookshelf; lamps; day bed and mattress; radio; large and small stands; card table; electric refrigerator; electric range; gas range; electric washer; lawn chair; garden tools; doughtray; lawn seed sower; hand sprayer; tools; all kinds of kitchen utensils, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Sale will commence promptly at 12:30 o'clock P. M., Eastern War Time, when terms and conditions of sale will be made known by the undersigned.

W. HOWARD HAKE, Executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, deceased, 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pa.

G. R. Thompson, Auctioneer
Swope, Brown & Swope,
Attorney for Estate.

PUBLIC SALE

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Saturday, October 28th

1 O'CLOCK P. M. SHARP

The undersigned will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, located at 109 Springs Avenue, Borough of Gettysburg, the following valuable Real Estate and Household Goods:

DOUBLE FRAME HOUSE, lot 50'x166', slate roof, excellent repairs throughout, two building garage, 1 1/2 stories high, room for three cars. East side of house consists of 6 rooms, two baths, and hot air furnace. The West side consists of 7 rooms, two baths and new steam heating plant.

At the same time the following Household Goods will be offered: Late model Frigidaire; Maytag washer; electric Hoover sweeper, Majestic console radio; living room suite; walnut dining room suite; electric Hot Point iron; two enamel coal ranges; springs and mattresses; aluminum ware; lot of coal and wood, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms will be made known day of sale by

J. CALVIN LADY

LOY ORNDORFF, Auctioneer.
GEORGE MARCH, Clerk.

THE Taylor-Made
SHOE

MODIFIED MOCCASIN
All Weather Sole
$7.50

THE SHOE BOX

For State Senator

BOCHE FACING DESTRUCTION OF BIG CITIES

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

(Chief of the former Associated Press Bureau in Berlin, substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie).

The cracking of the Siegfried line, which now seems a certainty, poses the problem for Adolf Hitler whether to declare industrial and historical centers like Cologne, Coblenz, Mainz, Duisburg, and Düsseldorf open cities, or whether to doom them to inevitable destruction in the pattern of Aachen.

These cities, as far as I could ascertain before I left Germany in May, 1942, are not fortified in the sense in which Aachen was a veritable citadel. The vaulted Atlantic wall was intended to be Nazi Germany's first line of defense; the west-wall or Siegfried line the second. Both were considered impregnable. It was a rude shock to the German people to see the Atlantic wall pierced so rapidly. They have had a little more time to accustom themselves to the fact that even the Siegfried line is outmoded in view of the stupendous development of Allied fire-power.

Doubt Third Line

Along the upper Rhine, the Maginot and Siegfried lines were opposite each other. From Lauterburg on, the Rhine becomes a purely German river.

There have been stories about a tertiary line of defense along the Rhine. Going by what I saw in 1941 I doubt whether a formidable system has been constructed on the right bank in the region beginning, roughly, at Mainz and extending to Wesel or Cleve. Besides, that would not help Mainz, Coblenz, Bonn, or Cologne, all of which are on the left bank.

The Rhine itself, broad and majestic in its middle section, is, of course, a hindrance to progress. Its monumental bridges will in all probability be blasted by the retreating Nazis.

Won't Stop Allies

But we are no longer in the rowboat age. This is mechanized warfare. Our amphibious operations have been marveled of modern science. General Eisenhower has undoubtedly taken the destruction of the bridges for granted—which does not mean, however, that he is leaving out of account the possibility of anticipating the Germans with parachute troops charged with saving this or that bridge, as in Holland.

The destruction of the Rhine bridges will slow progress, but it should be only temporary. Meanwhile, on the left bank a shambles will be made of whatever city declines to surrender. And artillery planted on the smoking ruins of these centers of a thousand-year history will finish off at Duisburg, Düsseldorf, Wesel, and Mainz what the air armadas of the United Nations have failed to reduce to rubble.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

(Continued From Page 1)

at the forefront, nationally, in amount of space contributed to the bond drives.

A close observer of the bond drives said: "To the merchants who sponsored the war bond advertising program goes a great deal of the credit for the overwhelming success of each drive. Their prestige was recognized and their appeal to all Adams countians to buy bonds and more bonds furnished the impetus that enabled Adams county to go over the top in five successive drives. Their efforts cannot be measured but had they not supported the campaigns the effect would have been noted in the final results."

This generous demonstration of patriotism on the part of our merchants, manufacturers and individuals is symbolic of the true spirit of Americanism that prevails in Adams county. In every war effort Adams countians have not failed. They have not only given generously of their time and effort but of their means to present a solid home-front offense in the all-out war effort.

The citation just received is a tribute to those people who unselfishly and without manifestation of public clamor or glory contribute in so many ways that this terrible war may be brought to an early and victorious close.

The Gettysburg Times proudly accepts the citation in the name of the more than 300 merchants, manufacturers and individuals who have made this recognition possible. It is for them and in their name that the citation is received and will be publicly displayed as a tribute to their patriotism and Americanism.

The names of all those sponsoring War Bond advertising is on official record in the state and national headquarters of the War Finance Program.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. J. W. Leas, 450 West Middle street, were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leas and daughter, Marian, and son, Roger, and Mrs. J. H. Leas, all of Greensburg; Pvt. Justin R. Leas, Ft. Benning, Ga., and Sgt. Fred H. Leas, Marine Corps, who was on furlough after spending 21 months in the south Pacific.

Miss Billie Mae Shealer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shealer, Troxell apartments, Baltimore street, entertained a number of friends at a birthday party Friday afternoon in celebration of her seventh birthday anniversary. Games were played after which refreshments were served.

Those attending were Jane Donley, Elise Scharf, Joan Sanders, Shirley Shaner, Sandra Strausbaugh, Dolores Bergner, Sandra Dry, Virginia Wachter, Signe Wagnild, Mary Louise Bupp, Barbara Ann Shealer and the guest of honor.

Pvt. Richard Millard, Majors Field, Texas, is spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reed, Baltimore street.

Miss Dorothy Gregg Lee, dean of women at Gettysburg college, and Miss Nancy Irle and Miss Henrietta Zaner, college students, spent Friday in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Basil Smith and Mrs. Grant Corbin entertained a number of friends at the former's home at Grandview Terrace Thursday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuhns, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menchey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utz, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dillman, Mrs. Louise Hoffman, Oliver Reynolds, Mrs. Charles Hemler, Mrs. William Yeo, Miss Anna Utz, Miss Nancy Lee, Billy Yeo, Miss Gerty Smith and Mrs. Mary Ellen Evans.

Prizes at 500 were awarded to Mrs. Utz, Mrs. Kuhns, Mrs. Menchey and Mrs. Reynolds. Refreshments were served.

Richard Culp has returned to Lehigh university after spending a 10-day recess at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp, York street.

Mrs. John D. Keith, Miss Martha Dickson, Mrs. J. McCreia Dickson, Mrs. Robert M. Hunt and Mrs. C. Harold Johnson spent Friday in Baltimore.

Mrs. D. E. Hess entertained the members of the Tabern club Friday evening at her home on Reservoir avenue. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, October 31, with Mrs. Elmer Warren, Springs avenue.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Gresh and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Culp have returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where they attended the biennial sessions of the United Lutheran church.

Albert Lott, Gettysburg R. 1, was discharged yesterday from the U. S. Naval hospital, Philadelphia, where he had been under observation and treatment for the past week.

Officers, escorts and chairmen of the Gettysburg chapter of the Women of the Moose will meet Sunday at noon at the Moose home on York street to go to Hanover where they will attend a conference on committee activities to be held by the College of Regents there at 1 p. m. Jane Hare, Hanover, associate regent of the College of Regents, will be in charge.

Women of the Moose from Gettysburg, York, Columbia and Frostburg, Md., will attend. A class will be initiated in honor of Senator James J. Davis and a luncheon will be served after the meeting. The local women are asked to wear white for the occasion.

The Warner hospital auxiliary will meet at the Nurses' home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Ponder Release Of Pearl Harbor Quiz

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—A "secret" report on the Navy's investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is in the hands of Admiral Ernest J. King, Navy commander in chief, for a determination of its effects on military security.

Subject of much political debate, including assertions by Rep. Mans (R-Minn.) that it was being withheld for political reasons, the report was delivered to Navy Secretary Forrestal yesterday, labeled in part as "top secret"—highest Naval security classification.

Forrestal immediately notified the court of inquiry which prepared the report that he would ask King to determine how much of its findings might endanger national security if disclosed.

His action came only a few hours after President Roosevelt, saying he knew nothing about it, declined to discuss Maas' comments that the court's report was being delayed because it would be "politically embarrassing to the administration."

George D. March, York street, was elected third vice president of the Poles' association of South-eastern Pennsylvania at the 22nd annual convention held Thursday at Steelton.

Wedding

Black-Sheaffer

Pfc. George A. Black, of Gettysburg, and Miss Lulu A. Sheaffer, of Shippensburg, were married last Friday at Hagerstown. The Rev. F. Berry Plummer, pastor of the United Brethren church and a former pastor in Shippensburg, performed the double ring ceremony.

Pfc. Black is stationed at Carlisle Barracks. The bride is employed at the Beistle company, Shippensburg. They will make their home at 366 East Orange street, Shippensburg.

DEATH

Mrs. Anna Jane Miller

Mrs. Anna J. H. Miller, 78, Hanover, died Friday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock. She was a daughter of the late Benjamin and Julia Cromer Hildbrand. Mrs. Miller was the widow of Milton M. Miller, who died 23 years ago. She is survived by seven children, Mrs. Ada Wagner, Mrs. Hattie Grove, Mrs. Clara Hildebrand, all of Hanover; Miss Nellie Miller, at home; Mrs. Paul Golden, Red Lion; Mrs. Milton Wetzel, with whom she resided, and Norman Miller, Abbotstown; one sister, Mrs. Laura Moon, Baltimore; four brothers, John Hildbrand, Glen Rock R. D.; Benjamin Hildbrand, Spring Grove; Charles Hildbrand, Baltimore; Richard Hildbrand, Columbia; 22 grandchildren, six of whom are serving overseas, and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services from the late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Harry Hursh Beideman will officiate. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

NAB GARAGEMAN ON NEW CHARGE

Albert Thomas, Reading township, proprietor of a garage along the York Springs-Hampton road, was arrested Friday, for the second time in two days, on a charge of maintaining a gambling device in the form of a card game.

He was arrested Thursday by agents of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board for selling and permitting the sale without a license of malt and brewed beverages on the premises.

The information charging the "setting up and permitting to be set up for the purpose of gambling a game of cards commonly known as poker," was signed by Pvt. Harold K. Trout, of the local substation of the state police. Thomas was arrested by the state police and arraigned Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Claude S. Straley, of New Oxford. Justice Straley set Thomas' bail at $1,000, for a hearing Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the defendant was released. Thomas also is scheduled for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the beer sales charge.

Trout's information charged that the gambling game had been maintained at Thomas' garage on "October 8 and divers other times."

SOVIET PRESS LAUDS CONFAB OF TWO CHIEFS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 21 (AP)—Moscow's press gave the Churchill-Stalin negotiations profuse praise today, vividly mirroring the good which official Russia believes resulted from the long, numerous and friendly discussions of the two leaders.

Editorials said differences still existed between Great Britain and the Soviet Union on certain European questions but asserted the road appeared clear towards framing a firm hard peace.

A joint communique summing up the 10-day meeting was issued this morning. It said the two leaders made "important progress" toward settling the Polish dispute, reached an agreement on remaining points in the Bulgarian armistice terms and that their governments have decided to pursue a joint policy in Yugoslavia. Military plans for the war also were reviewed.

U. S. In Agreement

Agreements at the conference were said to have the full approval of the United States government, represented by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Moscow's morning press and radio gave much play to the prime minister's departure and Stalin seeing him off at the Moscow airport. The papers printed an eight-column front page photograph.

It was learned that both Churchill and Stalin expressed regret that President Roosevelt was unable to attend. Before leaving Moscow Thursday the British prime minister said he thought it would be an excellent idea for the three to get together again as they did at Teheran.

Alaska has an area of 386,400 square miles.

Europeans learned algebra from the Arabs.

TITO CAPTURES BELGRADE; REDS TAKE DEBRECHEN

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Oct. 21 (AP)—The red-starred tricolor of Marshal Tito's Yugoslav National Liberation Army was raised in victory today over the charred ruins of Belgrade. With the fallen Yugoslav capital as a base a powerful joint Yugoslav-Russian drive appeared to be shaping up toward Croatia's principal city of Zagreb.

Seared by nearly a week of fiery street fighting Belgrade finally was purged yesterday of the last nests of German resistance by the combined efforts of Yugoslav veterans and Soviet forces under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin.

Meanwhile, Marshal Stalin also has announced the capture of Hungary's third city—Debrechen—a conquest that broke the back of German resistance in eastern Hungary after prolonged and furious armored battle estimated to have cost the Germans and Russians a total of 1,000 tanks.

Official Russian silence still enveloped the East Prussian front. But this was not a source of surprise here, for when the news finally is released it is expected to be as sensational as the announcement of the Romanian drive in August.

12 Mile Advance

Berlin announced last night that Red Army troops had penetrated 12 miles inside East Prussia on an 80-mile front. The Germans also said the Russians in Hungary had rolled 30 miles beyond Debrechen, reaching the rail town of Tiszacsage on the Tisza river some 85 miles east of the capital.

Russians were embroiled in a fierce struggle with German rear-guards in the vicinity of Szolnok, less than 50 miles southeast of Budapest. With reported chaos within the city, Regent Nicholas Horthy's repudiation of Hitler seemed more than ever mistimed and misapplied as the Germans managed to retain strategic control of the Magyar capital.

At Zagreb, which appeared to be the next big objective of the drive through Yugoslavia, the puppet premier of Croatia, Dr. Ante Pavelic, has been reported on the verge of flight for some time. Marshal Tito's partisans have been camping almost on the edge of the city.

Southeast of Belgrade, the Russian communique said a total of 17,147 trapped Germans were killed or captured in eliminating an enemy pocket.

Sons Of Vets Hold Social For Ladies

Approximately 35 members of Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans, their wives and members of the ladies' auxiliary attended a ladies' social Friday evening at the post rooms, East Middle street.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian, showed pictures of Gettysburg and the battlefield during and after the battle of Gettysburg. Jesse E. Snyder, chairman of the program committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served. The social replaced the regular second meeting in October for the post.

BOARD MEETING CANCELLED

There will be no meeting Monday of the County board of school directors, County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh announced today. The meeting was cancelled because of the press of work in preparation for the annual Adams County Teachers' Institute Thursday and Friday. The next meeting of the county board will be held Monday, November 27.

VISITS COLLEGE

Judge J. Frank Graff, Republican candidate for the Superior court, visited with Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, during his trip to Gettysburg Friday as a member of the GOP caravan. Judge Graff's grandfather, Dr. James Brown, was president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. His father, J. Frank Graff, Sr., attended college here and married Dr. Brown's daughter, Miss Carrie Louise Brown.

WAVE GRADUATES

Miss Mabel Elizabeth Null, 20, Gettysburg R. 2, was graduated recently from the Naval Training School as a yeoman in the WAVES on the Iowa State Teachers' college campus at Cedar Falls, Iowa. Her studies included shorthand, typing, naval correspondence, records and forms and current events.

HARTMAN HOME

Lee M. Hartman, athletic specialist, first class, former prothonotary of Adams county, now in the Navy, is spending a 10-day leave at his home at Cashtown. He is stationed at the Naval station at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.

AT GREAT LAKES

Paul Grayson Haller, 18, 422 West Middle street, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval training center at Great Lakes, Ill.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Grant Corbin, Gettysburg R. D., has received word her son, Pvt. Harold K. Decker, has arrived safely in France.

Upper Communities

The Bendersville Boy Scout troop 72 will celebrate Halloween at its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

S 2/C John H. Stallsmith, Bainbridge, Md., is spending a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stallsmith, Biglerville.

Miss Mae Gantt, Newport, is spending a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dillman, Jonestown, recently visited John H. Enck at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, Biglerville.

WAVE OF WAR BOND CASHING HITS NEW HIGH

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The government on Oct. 2 made it easier for people to cash in their War Savings Bonds. Since then they have cashed in more than in any comparable period since the war started.

But the new easier-to-cash system was intended merely as a convenience to save time and red tape for people who needed to cash bonds.

The government wants people to hold their bonds and not cash them in.

Yet, in the first 18 days of October they redeemed $229,088,879 in bonds while buying only $293,857,581. But the Treasury department says redemptions now have begun to level off.

These are some of the reasons given by the Treasury for the rush to turn bonds into cash:

May Freeze Bonds

There have been rumors that the government intended to freeze war bonds and refuse to cash them.

Some people misunderstood the new arrangement. They thought the government wanted them to start cashing in their bonds.

Some people who intended to cash in their bonds in the latter part of September—when the old red tape method was still in effect—held them until the new operation went into effect Oct. 2.

The old method took time and work; requests to turn a bond into cash had to move through a Federal Reserve bank or through the Treasury.

Under the new system a person can walk into a bank, give proper identification, and turn a bond into cash immediately. Not every bank is qualified to render this service, but most are.

Reverse Results

Any incorporated bank or trust company can qualify in most cases by asking government permission to give the public this kind of service.

By making it easier for people to cash their bonds, the Treasury hoped fewer bondholders would cash them and this is why:

Under the old, long-drawn-out system people would figure they'd need money in another month. Knowing it would take time to cash a bond, they'd turn it in. By the time the next month came around they sometimes found they didn't need the bond money. But then they would not turn that extra cash back into another bond.

The only bonds which can be redeemed under the new method are the A, B, C, D and E bonds. Holders of the F and G bonds must still go through the old procedure if they want to convert to cash.

WOMAN STABBED IN BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Oct. 21 (AP)—City police continued today an inquiry into the death of a 26-year-old woman war worker who was fatally stabbed on a street corner in downtown Baltimore early yesterday.

They questioned nine persons last night, police officials said, but made no arrests.

They declined to disclose whether one of those questioned was the man whose first name was whispered by the victim, Miss Evelyn Acker, a native of Osterburg, Pa., just before she died at Mercy hospital.

As she regained consciousness, police said, she also said: "I'm going to tell on you."

Miss Acker, a former member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and for the last year an electrician's helper at the Bethlehem-Fairfield Shipyards, died shortly after being taken to the hospital with four stab wounds in the chest and two wrist slashes.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Jennings B. Collins, East Broadway, and Wilmer Bushey, Gettysburg R. 3, who was admitted in the ambulance, are patients at the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Miss Kathryn Sharrah, York street; Mrs. Donald R. Gligan and infant daughter, Fay Louise, Taneytown; Mrs. Glenn Sherman and infant son, Jerry Lee, Hanover street; Frank Raffensperger, Gettysburg R. 2, and Pamela Dulaney, Carlisle.

PLAN PARADE AT YORK SPRINGS

The fifth annual Halloween parade for York Springs, sponsored by businessmen and merchants of that vicinity and the Lions club there, will be held next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock with approximately $65 to be distributed in prizes.

After the parade refreshments will be served free to the children of the community by the Lions club at the York Springs firemen's hall. The parade is to form at 6:30 o'clock at the high school campus.

The list of prizes being offered follows: Best decorated automobile or truck float, $10 first, and $5 second prize; best dressed couple, $5 and $3; best comical adult, $3 and $1; best dressed couple between eight and 16 years, $3 and $1.50; most comical parade between eight and 16 years, $2 and $1; best decorated animal-drawn vehicle, $5 and $2.50; best decorated bicycle and juvenile rider, $3, $2 and $1; best decorated horse or pony and rider, $2 and $1; most outstanding representation, group on foot, $7.50 and $5.

The following list of sponsors has been announced: Mrs. A. P. Myers, R. L. Pittenturf, Paul Lehman, Frank Weigle, W. E. Grove, Orpheus Diller, Frank Kemper, H. L. Crosby, Spencer Snyder, Harold Myers, E. Earl Miller, E. E. Nell, Wreath's Beauty shop, E. Ross Koons, Zeigler brothers mill, Hershey Creamery company, Local Meat market, Harry Hardman, Harold Smith, William Jacobs, York Springs hotel, N. R. Criswell, C. F. Ditzler, Gilbert Fair and sons, William Davis, E. C. Lerew, Wolf's garage, Postmaster C. M. Boyer, M. S. Hershey, York Springs bank, Dr. William Flickinger, Coulson's garage and Vance Stitzel.

In case of rain the parade will be held Tuesday evening, October 31.

LOCAL FLYER

(Continued From Page 1)

about it was that not one of the crew had been hit."

Returning from another mission to Dunkirk during the pre-invasion "softening-up" of the German positions along the coast, Sergeant Plank's ship had to make a crash landing. Enemy fire had punctured the gasoline tanks, disabled the radio and the hydraulic system and put two of the motors out of commission. Although the pilot was able to put down the landing gear, the right wheel collapsed and the plane spun around before the engineer, who was wounded, pulled on the emergency brakes.

"That probably saved our lives," Sergeant Plank related, "and the engineer got the Silver Star award for his deed."

The Gettysburg youth went to France with a Ninth Air Force group about a month before returning to this country. "The French people are swell," he declared, "and they can't do enough for you. One evening when a couple of us fellows went out to dinner with a French family, the old Frenchman brought out a bottle of 1917 champagne. He apologized because he had nothing older to offer us but said, 'The Boche took it all.'"

Has Air Medal

"The French folks would give you anything you want if they have it or could get it. They don't blame us for the destruction of their cities because they realize it was made necessary by the German occupation."

Sergeant Plank spent about a week in Scotland when at a rest home and also thinks highly of the Scottish people. "The girls there are prettier than the English girls," he said.

He wears the Air Medal with two silver and two bronze oak leaf clusters, the equivalent of 12 bronze clusters. His other awards include the European theatre of operations service ribbon with two battle stars, one for the pre-invasion battle for France and the second for operations against the enemy after D-Day; and his good conduct medal.

He is a graduate of Gettysburg high school with the class of 1941. At the conclusion of his 21-day leave at home, Sergeant Plank will report to the Air Force station at Atlantic City, after which he will be reassigned to another post.

CEILING PRICE ON HARD CANDY

The OPA reminded shoppers today that cents-per-pound prices prevail for hard candies much in demand during the holiday season.

Five and ten cent chain stores may not charge over 25c a pound for all types of hard candy. The maximum price in other retail stores has been fixed at 33 cents a pound.

Last season, it will be remembered hard candies sold for as much as 80c a pound until OPA acted in November and clamped on ceilings. These same maximum prices will prevail this season.

OPA also points out that retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers must maintain their "customary" prices on all other candies including chocolate covered assortments. The "customary price" is defined as that charged during the "freeze" period in March 1942. Increases are not permitted unless authorized by OPA.

Jewelry Gifts

for EVERY OCCASION

BLOCHER'S
Jewelers since 1887
25-27 CHAMBERSBURG ST.

Trapping Season Opens November 1st
STEEL and GAME
TRAPS
Now Available

Orders Taken for Trap Name Plates

Geo. M. Zerfing
"Hardware on the Square"

PUBLIC SALE

OF ANTIQUES AND OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY

Saturday, November 18, 1944

The undersigned, executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased, will offer at public sale on the premises located at 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the following described personal property:

Grandfather's clock, Terry clock and other clocks; 4 corner cupboards; large and small tables, 1 six legged table; 5 chests of drawers, 1 Hepplewhite; mirrors; ladder back rocking chairs and arm chairs; 17 rugs; beds, springs and mattresses, 1 Beautyrest mattress; Currier & Ives prints, paintings and pictures; breakfast table; glassware of all kinds; 65 goblets; dishes; pottery; copper lustre; brass candlesticks; glass candlesticks; Wedgewood cups and saucers; sewing table; sewing machine; 17 stone jars; bed side table; chest; lamps; fire screen; andirons; tongs; 16 vases; 2 foot-stools; brass kettles; desk; gentleman's chairs; bookshelf; lamps; day bed and mattress; radio; large and small stands; card table; electric refrigerator; electric range; gas range; electric washer; lawn chair; garden tools; doughtray; lawn seed sower; hand sprayer; tools; all kinds of kitchen utensils, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Sale will commence promptly at 12:30 o'clock P. M., Eastern War Time, when terms and conditions of sale will be made known by the undersigned.

W. HOWARD HAKE, Executor of the last will and testament of Mary J. Hake, deceased, 230 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pa.

G. R. Thompson, Auctioneer
Swope, Brown & Swope,
Attorney for Estate.

PUBLIC SALE

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Saturday, October 28th

1 O'CLOCK P. M. SHARP

DEWEY ISSUES CHALLENGE TO MR. ROOSEVELT

By JACK BELL

En Route With Dewey To Albany, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking tonight on foreign policy in New York city, was challenged today to present "even the pretense of a program for the future" by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who declared that the New Deal is "a bankrupt organization living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

The Republican presidential nominee told a noisy, cheering crowd which bulged the 9,500-seat Hunt armory in Pittsburgh last night despite a steady downpour outside that Mr. Roosevelt had directed the American working people to "do as they are told and ask no questions."

"That is the end result under one-man government always," the New York governor cried.

"Bankrupt Deal"

"It is time to face the fact," he declared, "that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people. It did some good things in its youth, but now it seeks to live on its past."

"In this great national campaign," he continued, "my opponent has not offered to the people of this country even the pretense of a program for the future. He tells the working men and women of America to trust him, to do as they are told and to ask no questions."

"It is the inevitable end of a philosophy which sees no future for America," he continued. "It is the result of a viewpoint that can see nothing ahead but a repetition of its own past failures—a return after the war to unemployment, with less taking and doing."

Returning to Albany for a week-end rest before he starts west Monday morning for his major campaign addresses in Minneapolis Oct. 24 and Chicago Oct. 25, Dewey was expected to listen to the radio broadcast of President Roosevelt's foreign policy talk in New York city tonight.

"Waste and Decay"

Addressing himself primarily to labor problems, Dewey told his Pittsburgh audience in a nationally broadcast address that many Democrats "who deeply resent the kidnapping of their party by the Communists and the Political Action Committee" had joined with Republicans and Independents who "are fed up with the 12 years of overhauling, waste and decay" under the New Deal.

"In the same way," he asserted, "a change of administration offers the only future to the working people of America. x x x The slogan of the New Deal is: Back to normalcy with 10 million unemployed."

Declaring that the New Deal was attempting to "treat the social ills of the 1930's as its own property," Dewey said it now "sits by the fire-side and gazes back on its long lost youth with happy contemplation."

"It wants to spend its declining days clipping coupons on its political investments of the 1930's," the New York governor declared. "It wants to hold office in stalemated idleness. I say that social gains are not the property of any party. They are the property of the people of the United States and no party can exploit them for its political profit."

Distance of the moon from the earth varies as much as 30,000 miles.

The force of gravity on the moon is estimated at one-sixth the strength of that on earth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—When Penn State's Marine trainees were given their choice of pre-transfer furloughs and playing football against Colgate today, most of them took the furloughs. . . . It may be their last chance to go home before they head for the fighting fronts. . . . but blocking back Earl Bruhn decided to stick around on advice of his brother Milt, Colgate line coach. . . . When Milt was scouting the Nittany Lions, he told Earl: "You owe that much to Penn State." . . . If Warren Wright decides to ship Twilight Tear to California this winter, the filly will stand good chance of passing Top Flight's $275,000 winning record before Spring. . . . Now that the Phillies have acquired two hitters (Garland and Granville) they won't let the fans do all the knocking.

PIGSKIN PICKS

(Notre Dame vs. Wisconsin)
It's a crime the way the Irish war; If they lose it will be a Wis-con-sin.
(Navy vs. Georgia Tech)
It's Tech, by heck, —
It ain't no wreck, —
(Alabama vs. Tennessee)
The volunteers
Will get the cheers,
(Great Lakes vs. Ohio State)
You can bet your castle on Paul Brown from Massillon To cut more dikes
Than substitute widows.

NOT COOL BUT COLLECTED

Publisher Lee Allen of the Reds nominates as the most nervous rookie he ever saw Howard Carter, who played for Cincinnati in 1933. . . . In those days Hughie Critz almost never missed a game at second base, but when Critz was hurt one day, Manager Jack Hendrix sent Carter into his first major league game. . . . The kid trotted out to his position, then fainted dead away and had to be carried off.

SERVICE DEPT.

All five of the starters on the Camp Wolters, Tex., basketball team that ex-sportsman Sgt. Dub King coached to a state title last spring, are riflemen in infantry outfit in France. They are Rec Grossman, Joe Northington, Jack Clifford, John Houlender and Chuck Liles. . . . when the Camp Peary, Va., Navy footballers face Bainbridge tomorrow it will be homecoming for 15 Navy players who trained at the Maryland camp.

CLEANING THE GUFF

When ticket-sellers at the Miami-South Carolina football game last week told several hundred prospective customers they were "sold out," they weren't kidding. There still was room in the stadium but the seats were all gone. . . . But that's no worse than Business-manager Bill Cross' experience at the Texas Aggies-Oklahoma game. He saw the first kickoff then missed all the rest because of repeated trips into town for more change.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
New York—Tony Janiro, 138, Youngstown, Ohio, outpointed Santa Buica, 134½, Philadelphia, 8, Nat Lufin, 140½, New York, T.K.O. Jackie Connor, 146, Newark, N. J., 7, Philadelphia—Johnny Wolgast, 118½, Philadelphia, knocked out Willie Alexander, 120½, Chester, Pa., 1. Danny Devlin, 172, Allentown, Pa., outpointed Nelson Camp, 166, Philadelphia, 6.

Baseball Draft To Be Held November 1

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—The annual draft meeting at which major league baseball clubs make selections from minor circuits will be held Nov. 1, the office of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today.

At the meeting, to be held in the commissioner's office, the clubs will pick in the reverse order in which they finished the 1934 season. The first choice this year will go to the National league's eighth place team—Philadelphia—with the American league's cellar club—Washington—getting second choice.

DAVIS SCORES NEW DEALERS

"I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers," U. S. Senator James J. Davis declared in a statement here Friday afternoon in which he expressed confidence in a Republican victory at the polls next month. The senator headed a group of six GOP candidates who spent several hours in Gettysburg en route from Chambersburg to York.

The senator's statement follows: "The New Dealers are convinced that the American people, and especially the American farmer, cannot think for themselves. The one-time inventors of agricultural scarcity have now become the apostles of abundance; the one-time opponents of small business freedom now rise to announce themselves as the builders and encouragers of private enterprise; the New Dealers who have subjected the farmer to every whim of uncontrolled bureaucracy now piously announce that henceforth the farmer shall be a free and independent tiller of the soil."

"Yes, they who have given us 11 years of waste, inefficiency, confusion, increased taxes and a huge public debt, now say they are going to reduce taxes and put the government on a sound financial basis."

"But I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers, who sit on soft cushions in Washington and try to guide the destiny of the farmer and working man. It is my firm opinion that the bureaucrats who write decrees to farmers have never built a barn, milked a cow or made a crop. But they claim to have superior knowledge in things agricultural."

"In my 13 years in the United States Senate I have consistently supported legislation sponsored and approved by Pennsylvania's farmers. My record will sustain this statement. I shall carry on fighting for good government at a minimum cost to the taxpayers of this state."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Altoona; William Kaplan, Kutztown; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

S. L. ALLISON

FAIRFIELD, PA.
Funeral Director and Embalmer
EFFICIENT SERVICE
RELIABLE
Phones: Fairfield 6
Emmitsburg 88

MINE LEADERS OUT FOR DEWEY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—More than 50 officials of seven United Mine workers' districts in Pennsylvania pledged their support to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey during a conference here yesterday because of what they said was his "promise to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country."

John O'Leary, international UMW vice president, said in a statement after the closed conference, also attended by Gov. Edward Martin:

"We're here today on account of the treatment we got from the present administration of our last negotiations (for a contract with the coal mine operators). We're against President Roosevelt because he is against us. Dewey has promised to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country, to favor no one or no one particular organization, and to give a square deal to all in the administration of the laws."

A similar statement was made by A. B. Vales, of Pittsburgh, director of the UMW District 50, which he said represented organized labor in the fields of agriculture, construction and other occupations.

The Republican presidential candidate also conferred with Negro leaders from Allegheny county. Afterward, Ira F. Lewis, president of the Pittsburgh Courier, largest Negro newspaper in the country, declared that the Democratic party was "getting jittery," adding, "A scared man can run, but he can't fight."

200 See Syracuse

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Syracuse and Temple universities battled to a 7-7 tie last night at Temple stadium while 200 rain-soaked fans watched the two all-civilian football teams plow through a muddy field.

The Saltnine warriors, making their initial appearance on a local gridiron, chalked up their touchdown in the first quarter when Arden McConnell, speedy halfback from Lansing, Mich., skirted around left end from the orange 14 for the touchdown. Reeves Baysinger added the point after placement.

Temple's Jimmy Wilson, hampered by a heavy downpour whipped by high winds, got off the first pass of the game early in the final quarter in an aerial attack that carried the Owls to Syracuse's four. In three plays the Owls cracked the orange line with Wilson carrying over from the four and adding the point after touchdown.

Adams County Co-operative Egg Association

EGGS PRODUCED WITHIN OVERNIGHT

DISTANCE OF NEW YORK CITY

MAIN OFFICE 107 N. WASHINGTON ST. GETTYSBURG, PA. PHONE 257	Unwashed Clear Infertile	SALES OFFICE 139 READE ST. NEW YORK CITY BEeckman 3-4145-6
--	--------------------------------	---

The Only SURE and PROFITABLE Way to Market Your Fancy Graded Eggs
Help Yourself and Your Neighbor
SELL ALL YOUR EGGS TO
ADAMS COUNTY CO-OP EGG ASSOCIATION
Phone 257 at the Farm Bureau, Gettysburg, Pa.

Issues Plea For More Tin Cans

Shipments of prepared tin cans to detinning plants increased 122 tons in September over the month of August. Total shipments in August were 235 tons; in September 357 tons, the state Salvage Committee announced.

In June, Pennsylvania shipped 1,514 tons of prepared tin cans to detinning plants.

"From various parts of the state we are getting reports that in many cities and towns no cans have been collected for several months. Only a small percentage of the schools of the state participated in tin can collections in September."

"I cannot advise everyone too strongly that tin cans are a critical war material. In fact, tin is so critical that some manufacturers that formerly were allocated tin have been shut off entirely. It is most vital that everything possible be done to collect all the tin cans that can be collected in your county NOW."

"Please do not be misled by rumors that the need for tin has eased up; just the reverse is true."

"We have a most important task to do toward winning the war with tin. I trust that you will collect and ship prepared cans this month," said Colver S. Baker, of the state committee.

Myers Says Davis And Dewey Differ

Beaver Falls, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—Rep. Francis J. Myers, Democratic nominee for the U. S. senate, described his opponent, Sen. James J. Davis, as "already committed to the reservations" which Gov. Dewey agrees might wreck the next peace."

Speaking before Beaver county Democratic leaders last night, he said:

"In Dewey's foreign policy speech Wednesday night, the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

● Batteries
● Tire Recapping Service
● White Gas
● Varsol Cleaning Fluid

Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Burg
Phone 449-Z

34 DEAD, MANY ARE HOMELESS IN GAS BLAST

Cleveland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Wrecking the greatest devastation in Cleveland's history, a multi-million dollar fire burned into its second day today in a 50-block east side area, its death toll undetermined.

Resulting from a series of thunderous explosions yesterday afternoon in the East Ohio Gas Co.'s $5,000,000 liquid gas storage plant, the holocaust's toll in 12 hours soared to at least 34 dead and 20 missing.

An estimated 3,600 persons were made homeless by flames cascading on the heels of blasts which sent tongues of fire towering to a height of 2,800 feet. Possibly 10,000 others were evacuated from yet undamaged homes because of utilities disruption and the danger of further blasts.

Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damage at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000," but added the estimate probably would be revised upwards. He said the blaze might continue most of the day.

Families from the stricken section choked nearby streets, most of them carrying children or lugging what few possessions they could grab.

Adj. Gen. Donald P. Pincus of Ohio ordered 500 Cleveland State guards and Naval militiamen mobilized to patrol the burned area and protect property from looters.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

ROOFING

ROOF REPAIRS
Roy E. Coldsmith
37 Breckenridge St.—Phone 265-X
Gettysburg, Pa.

ARE YOUR FLOORS SHABBY?

It's Easy to Make Them Like New Again

Rent Our Floor Sander and Edger

37 Baltimore St. Gettysburg

H. T. MARING

Cemetery Memorials

GRANITE and MARBLE
MYRON H. KNOSS
ARENDTSTVILLE
Phone Biglerville 2-R-5

EYES EXAMINED GLASSES FITTED

DR. J. C. DONLEY

Brehm Bldg. Wed. Thurs., Fri., Sat.
Tel. 507-W Wed., Sat. Evenings

Football Scores

COLLEGE
(By The Associated Press)
Temple, 7; Syracuse 7 (tie).
Boston College, 42; New York University, 13.
Michigan State, 8; Maryland, 0.
Western Michigan, 27; Wooster, 0.

Drexel To Resume Grid Play Today

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Drexel Institute of Technology will mark its return to intercollegiate football today when the Dragons meet Bloomsburg State Teachers college at Bloomsburg.

The grid contest will be first in which the two schools have met in athletic competition.

Panthers Seek Win Over Illini Eleven

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Clark Shaughnessy's Pittsburgh Panthers, seeking to reverse an earlier setback at the hands of a midwestern team, meet the University of Illinois gridmen today at Pitt stadium in the first eastern appearance of the Illinois team in 15 years.

Despite a 58-0 upset by Notre Dame early in the season, coupled with Army's 69-7 victory last week, Shaughnessy looks today for the silver lining to Pitt's dark clouds this season. A last minute workout yesterday concentrated on defense to stop the speedy end runs that gave the Illinois team a 33-25 triumph over the Panthers last season.

AT FIRST SIGN OF A

COLD

USE 666

Cold Preparations as directed

OUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

(An Editorial from the Greenville, Pa. Echo-Pilot)

The time is nearly here when the people of this country must choose a President. It will be one of the most important elections in history. The readers of any newspaper, be it large or small, have a right to know its views on such an issue. We shall state our own position very simply.

We favor with heart and soul the re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Our political heritage has been Republican. We have been and are a registered Republican voter. We are proud that the Republican party once represented a great cause. We feel our party, in the light of its history, should have been the one in this century to carry on the crusade against human slavery. We are for Mr. Roosevelt not because he's a Democrat, but because he stands for our conception of Republicanism.

It was one thing to guarantee men political freedom. It was quite another to win them economic freedom. As long as a man had to work for starvation wages, as long as he could be fired for any protest, as long as his home or farm could be forfeit without mercy, the mere right to vote was cold comfort indeed. Mr. Roosevelt has gone a long way toward changing all this. He has not, to be sure, told the rich to sell their goods, but he has put into the laws of this land of ours a virtue that once was popular chiefly on Sundays. He has said that wealth and law must serve humanity and that rugged success is no substitute for charity. For every idler his measures may have encouraged, ten thousand worthy citizens are safer and happier. The critics may yell, but the people know the truth. Mr. Dewey himself has had to endorse these reforms.

We believe that more than any other man in the world, Mr. Roosevelt has wrecked the Axis dream of conquest. Long ago he realized, as any far-sighted man must realize, that in the world as in one's home town there can be no safety while murder stalks abroad. At enormous political risk, in those days of isolation, he rallied our moral forces against Hitler. He succeeded in arming hard-pressed England and Russia in time to foil the attack of the aggressors. By the time war struck us he had us almost ready. While other men scoffed at his goals he got the men and the machines, and effected co-operation of Allied leaders. He selected a staff that Mr. Dewey admits to be "superb" and has stuck by those men to the very threshold of victory. He has kept the home-front free from the scourge of inflation. He has had the courage to advocate, without ifs and buts, the only practical method of preserving world peace—a league of nations resolved to use force to punish the first disturber of law and order.

Eighty years ago, in the midst of another war, American voters had to make their choice. They were asked to replace a tired and haggard President with a self-assured young man who knew all the answers. They heard the shrieks of the press about inefficiency, they heard the charge of "fiasco" and "coward" and "dictator." To their everlasting credit they chose well. They knew the goodness of Abraham Lincoln's heart, and knew that their faith would never be betrayed. In choosing him they did more than elect a President. They hastened the day when bitterness should cease, and this war-torn land could once more be reunited.

We hope that we in our time may choose as well. We hope that we shall show to the world at large the spectacle of a free nation grateful for enlightened leadership. We hope that party and prejudice put aside, our people will say at the polls to President Roosevelt:

"We know you for the brave kind man you are. We know quite well who your enemies are—and why. We know the brand of freedom they'd like to go back to. You made us mad at times, but we know you're for us. You've shared with us the griefs of war and depression. No one but you deserves to share our victory!"

Published by an Adams County Voter

F. W. WEIGLE Dispersal Auction

Thursday, October 26 — Starting at 12:00 Noon
Aspers, Adams Co., Pa.

At farm which is located 10 miles north of Gettysburg on Route 234 between Heidlersburg and Biglerville, 28 miles south of Harrisburg. Turn west off Route 15 at Heidlersburg onto Route 234.

40 Registered Holstein Cattle
Recorded in Harrisburg Association
13 calves and bred and open heifers
3 Registered Guernseys
24 Milking cows
4 Ready for service bulls

T.B. Accredited and Bang Certified

A home raised offering and a complete dispersal.

THE 167 ACRE FARM SELLS

Good buildings, plenty of water, modern house and up-to-date stable. Land mostly tillable.

2 single unit DeLaval Speedway Milkers, stainless steel pails, Wilson 6-can electric milk cooler.

SALE HELD IN A BIG TENT. LUNCH WILL BE SERVED BY THE U.B. CHURCH

R. AUSTIN BACKUS,
Sales Manager and Auctioneer
Mexico, N. Y.

F. W. WEIGLE, Owner
P. O. Aspers, Adams Co., Pa.

Rally Day

Trinity Lutheran Church
ARENDTSTVILLE
Sunday, October 22—10 to 11 A. M.
During the Regular Sunday School Hour
GUEST SPEAKER, FRED WENTZ
Of The Lutheran Theological Seminary
SPECIAL MUSIC Under the Direction of Mr. E. A. Rice
Let's Have A Good Attendance
Everybody Welcome

NO TRESPASSING

All persons are warned not to trespass on the premises of the undersigned, with dog, gun or trap for the purpose of taking game in any manner or for fishing or any way injuring or destroying property. All persons violating the laws of the Commonwealth with regard to trespassing on land of the undersigned will be dealt with under the provisions of the Act of June 24, 1933, P. L. 572, Section 954.

Miss Laura Booth, Butler Township, Gettysburg R. 4.
A. R. Orner, Butler Township, Gettysburg Route 3.
Thad. Keefer, Huntingdon Township, Idaville.
Grace E. Hummer, Franklin Township, Gettysburg Route 3.
Ethel Bucher, Hamiltonban Township, Iron Springs.
Clarence Hardland, Gettysburg, Pa. R. 5, Straban Township.
H. D. Crouse, Gettysburg, Pa., R. 1, Camberland and Mt. Joy Townships.
W. Elmer Scott Farms, Freedom Township, Gettysburg Route 1.
L. S. Long, Property, Cumberland Township, Gettysburg, Pa. R. 3.

2x2 HARDWARE CLOTH

For Lining Corn Cribs
3 1/2c Square Foot

GETTYSBURGH HARDWARE STORE
J. C. SHANK Phone 16-X GETTYSBURG

Fourth Anniversary

AMB

Please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for making possible my Fourth Birthday in Gettysburg.

A FREE PERMANENT WAVE

During the week of October 23rd each patron is eligible for the free permanent wave given away each year.

ANN'S BEAUTY SHOPPE
ANN MAUST BACHENSKY, Owner
207 BALTIMORE ST. PHONE 495-X

DEWEY ISSUES CHALLENGE TO MR. ROOSEVELT

By JACK BELL

En Route With Dewey To Albany, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking tonight on foreign policy in New York City, was challenged today to present "even the pretense of a program for the future" by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who declared that the New Deal is "a bankrupt organization living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

The Republican presidential nominee told a noisy, cheering crowd which bulged the 9,500-seat Hunt armory in Pittsburgh last night despite a steady downpour outside that Mr. Roosevelt had directed the American working people to "do as they are told and ask no questions."

"That is the end result under one-man government always," the New York governor cried.

"Bankrupt Deal"

"It is time to face the fact," he declared, "that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people. It did some good things in its youth, but now it seeks to live on its past."

"In this great national campaign," he continued, "my opponent has not offered to the people of this country even the pretense of a program for the future. He tells the working men and women of America to trust him, to do as they are told and to ask no questions."

"It is the inevitable end of a philosophy which sees no future for America," he continued. "It is the result of a viewpoint that can see nothing ahead but a repetition of its own past failures—a return after the war to unemployment, with leaf raking and doles."

Returning to Albany for a week-end rest before he starts west Monday morning for major campaign addresses in Minneapolis Oct. 24 and Chicago Oct. 25, Dewey was expected to listen to the radio broadcast of President Roosevelt's foreign policy talk in New York City tonight.

"Waste and Decay"

Addressing himself primarily to labor problems, Dewey told his Pittsburgh audience in a nationally broadcast address that many Democrats "who deeply resent the kidnapping of their party by the Communists and the Political Action Committee," had joined with Republicans and Independents who "are fed up with the 12 years of quarreling, waste and decay" under the New Deal.

"In the same way," he asserted, "a change of administration offers the only future to the working people of America. x x x The slogan of the New Deal is: Back to normalcy with 10 million unemployed."

Declaring that the New Deal was attempting to "treat the social gains of the 1930's as its own property," Dewey said it now "sits by the fire-side and gazes back on its long lost youth with happy contemplation."

"It wants to spend its declining days clipping coupons on its political investments of the 1930's," the New York governor declared. "It wants to hold office in stalemated idleness. I say that social gains are not the property of any party. They are the property of the people of the United States and no party can exploit them for its political profit."

Distance of the moon from the earth varies as much as 30,000 miles.

The force of gravity on the moon is estimated at one-sixth the strength of that on earth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—When Penn State's Marine trainees were given their choice of pre-transfer furloughs and playing football against Colgate today, most of them took the furloughs. . . . It may be their last chance to go home before they head for the fighting fronts. . . . but blocking back Earl Bruhn decided to stick around on advice of his brother Milt, Colgate line coach. . . . When Milt was scouting the Nittany Lions, he told Earl: "You owe that much to Penn State."

"If Warren Wright decides to ship Twilight Tear to California this winter, the filly will stand good chance of passing Top Flight's $275,000 winning record before Spring. . . . Now that the Phillies have acquired two hammers (Garland and Granville) they won't let the fans do all the knocking."

PIGSKIN PICKS

(Notre Dame vs. Wisconsin)
It's a crime the way the Irish win; if they lose it will be a Wisconsin-sin.

(Navy vs. Georgia Tech)
It's Tech, by heck, it ain't no wreck.

(Alabama vs. Tennessee)
The volunteers will get the cheers. (Great Lakes vs. Ohio State)
You can bet your castle on Paul Brown from Massillon. To cut more dimes. Than substitute widdoes.

NOT COOL BUT COLLECTED

Publisher Lee Allen of the Reds nominates as the most nervous rookie he ever saw Howard Carter, who played for Cincinnati in 1936. . . . In those days Hughie Critz almost never missed a game at second base, but when Critz was hurt one day, Manager Jack Hendrix sent Carter into his first major league game. . . . The kid trotted out to his position, then fainted dead away and had to be carried off.

"But I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers, who sit on soft cushions in Washington and try to guide the destiny of the farmer and working man. It is my firm opinion that the bureaucrats who write directives to farmers have never built a barn, milked a cow or made a crop. But they claim to have superior knowledge in things agricultural."

"In my 13 years in the United States Senate I have consistently supported legislation sponsored and approved by Pennsylvania's farmers. My record will sustain this statement. I shall carry on fighting for good government at a minimum cost to the taxpayers of this state."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
New York—Tony Janiro, 138, Youngstown, Ohio, outpointed Santa Buca, 134½, Philadelphia, 8. Nat Litfin, 140½, New York, T.K.O. Jackie Connor, 146, Newark, N. J., 7. Philadelphia — Johnny Volgast, 118½, Philadelphia, knocked out Willie Alexander, 120½, Chester, Pa., 1. Danny Devlin, 172, Allentown, Pa., outpointed Nelson Canty, 166, Philadelphia, 6.

Baseball Draft To Be Held November 1

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—The annual draft meeting at which major league baseball clubs make selections from minor circuits will be held Nov. 1, the office of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today.

At the meeting, to be held in the commissioner's office, the clubs will pick in the reverse order in which they finished the 1944 season. The first choice this year will go to the National league's eighth place team—Philadelphia—with the American league's cellar club—Washington—getting second choice.

DAVIS SCORES NEW DEALERS

"I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers," U. S. Senator James J. Davis declared in a statement here Friday afternoon in which he expressed confidence in a Republican victory at the polls next month. The senator headed a group of six GOP candidates who spent several hours in Gettysburg en route from Chambersburg to York.

The senator's statement follows: "The New Dealers are convinced that the American people, and especially the American farmer, cannot think for themselves. The one-time inventors of agricultural scarcity have now become the apostles of abundance; the one-time opponents of small business freedom, now rise to announce themselves as the builders and encouragers of private enterprise; the New Dealers who have subjected the farmer to every whim of uncontrolled bureaucracy now piously announce that henceforth the farmer shall be a free and independent tiller of the soil."

"Yes, they who have given us 11 years of waste, inefficiency, confusion, increased taxes and a huge public debt, now say they are going to reduce taxes and put the government on a sound financial basis."

"But I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers, who sit on soft cushions in Washington and try to guide the destiny of the farmer and working man. It is my firm opinion that the bureaucrats who write directives to farmers have never built a barn, milked a cow or made a crop. But they claim to have superior knowledge in things agricultural."

"In my 13 years in the United States Senate I have consistently supported legislation sponsored and approved by Pennsylvania's farmers. My record will sustain this statement. I shall carry on fighting for good government at a minimum cost to the taxpayers of this state."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

S. L. ALLISON

FAIRFIELD, PA.
Funeral Director and Embalmer
EFFICIENT SERVICE
RELIABLE
Phones: Fairfield 6
Emmitsburg 88

MINE LEADERS OUT FOR DEWEY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—More than 50 officials of seven United Mine workers' districts in Pennsylvania pledged their support to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey during a conference here yesterday because of what they said was his "promise to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country."

John O'Leary, international UMW vice president, said in a statement after the closed conference, also attended by Gov. Edward Martin:

"We're here today on account of the treatment we got from the present administration of our last negotiations (for a contract with the coal mine operators). We're against President Roosevelt because he is against us. Dewey has promised to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country, to favor no one or no one particular organization, and to give a square deal to all in the administration of the laws."

A similar statement was made by A. B. Vales, of Pittsburgh, director of the UMW District 50, which he said represented organized labor in the fields of agriculture, construction and other occupations.

The Republican presidential candidate also conferred with Negro leaders from Allegheny county. Afterward, Ira F. Lewis, president of the Pittsburgh Courier, largest Negro newspaper in the country, declared that the Democratic party was "getting jittery," adding, "a scared man can run, but he can't fight."

200 See Syracuse, Temple Play Tie

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Syracuse and Temple universities battled to a 7-7 tie last night at Temple stadium while 200 rain-soaked fans watched the two all-civilian football teams plow through a muddy field.

The Saltno warriors, making their initial appearance on a local gridiron, chalked up their touchdown in the first quarter when Arden McConnell, speedy halfback from Lansing, Mich., skirted around left end from the orange 14 for the touchdown. Reeves Baysinger added the point from placement.

Temple's Jimmy Wilson, hampered by a heavy downpour whipped by high winds, got off the first pass of the game early in the final quarter in an aerial attack that carried the Owls to Syracuse's four. In three plays the Owls cracked the orange line with Wilson carrying over from the four and adding the point after touchdown.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

S. L. ALLISON

FAIRFIELD, PA.
Funeral Director and Embalmer
EFFICIENT SERVICE
RELIABLE
Phones: Fairfield 6
Emmitsburg 88

Issues Plea For More Tin Cans

Shipments of prepared tin cans to detinning plants increased 122 tons in September over the month of August. Total shipments in August were 395 tons; in September 517 tons, the state Salvage Committee announced.

In June, Pennsylvania shipped 1,514 tons of prepared tin cans to detinning plants.

"From various parts of the state we are getting reports that in many cities and towns no cans have been collected for several months. Only a small percentage of the schools of the state participated in tin can collections in September."

"I cannot advise everyone too strongly that tin cans are a critical war material. In fact, tin is so critical that some manufacturers that formerly were allocated tin have been shut off entirely. It is most vital that everything possible be done to collect all the tin cans that can be collected in your county NOW."

"Please do not be misled by rumors that the need for tin has eased up; just the reverse is true."

"We have a most important task to do toward winning the war with tin. I trust that you will collect and ship prepared cans this month," said Colley S. Baker, of the state committee.

Myers Says Davis And Dewey Differ

Beaver Falls, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—Rep. Francis J. Myers, Democratic nominee for the U. S. senate, described his opponent, Sen. James J. Davis, as "already committed to the 'reservations' which Gov. Dewey agrees might wreck the next peace."

Speaking before Beaver county Democratic leaders last night, he said:

"In Dewey's foreign policy speech Wednesday night, the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Myers said that the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

34 DEAD, MANY ARE HOMELESS IN GAS BLAST

Cleveland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Wreaking the greatest devastation in Cleveland's history, a multi-million dollar fire burned into its second day today in a 50-block east side area, its death toll undetermined.

Resulting from a series of thunderous explosions yesterday afternoon in the East Ohio Gas Co.'s $6,000,000 liquid gas storage plant, the holocaust's toll in 12 hours soared to at least 34 dead and 20 missing.

An estimated 3,600 persons were made homeless by flames cascading on the heels of blasts which sent tongues of fire towering to a height of 2,800 feet. Possibly 10,000 others were evacuated from yet undamaged homes because of utilities disruption and the danger of further blasts.

Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damage at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000," but added the estimate probably would be revised upwards. He said the blaze might continue most of the day.

Families from the stricken section choked nearby streets, most of them carrying children or lugging what few possessions they could grab.

Adj. Gen. Donald F. Pancoast of Ohio ordered 500 Cleveland State guards and Naval militiamen mobilized to patrol the burned area and protect property from looters.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

Football Scores

COLLEGE

(By The Associated Press)
Temple, 7; Syracuse 7 (tie).
Boston College, 42; New York University, 13.

Michigan State, 8; Maryland, 0.
Western Michigan, 27; Wooster, 0.

Hummelstown, 38; Duncannon, 0.
Huntingdon, 20; Lewistown, 0.

Tyrone, 6; Clearfield, 0.
Allentown, 12; Philipsburg, N. J., 0.

Greensburg, 0; Altoona, 0.
Hazleton, 7; Shamokin, 0.

Drexel To Resume Grid Play Today

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Drexel Institute of Technology will mark its return to Intercollegiate football today when the Dragons meet Bloomsburg State Teachers college at Bloomsburg.

The grid contest will be first in which the two schools have met in athletic competition.

OUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

(An Editorial from the Greenleaf, Pa., Echo-Pilot)

The time is nearly here when the people of this country must choose a President. It will be one of the most important elections in history. The readers of any newspaper, be it large or small, have a right to know its views on such an issue. We shall state our own position very simply.

We favor with heart and soul the re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Our political heritage has been Republican. We have been and are a registered Republican voter. We are proud that the Republican party once represented a great cause. We feel our party, in the light of its history, should have been the one in this century to carry on the crusade against human slavery. We are for Mr. Roosevelt not because he's a Democrat, but because he stands for our conception of Republicanism.

It was one thing to guarantee men political freedom. It was quite another to win them economic freedom. As long as a man had to work for starvation wages, as long as he could be fired for any protest, as long as his home or farm could be forfeit without mercy, the mere right to vote was cold comfort indeed. Mr. Roosevelt has gone a long way toward changing all this. He has not, to be sure, told the rich to sell their goods, but he has put into the laws of this land of ours a virtue that once was popular chiefly on Sundays. He has said that wealth and law must serve humanity and that rugged success is no substitute for charity. For every idler his measures may have encouraged, ten thousand worthy citizens are safer and happier. The critics may yell, but the people know the truth. Mr. Dewey himself has had to endorse these reforms.

We believe that, more than any other man in the world, Mr. Roosevelt has wrecked the Axis dream of conquest. Long ago he realized, as any farsighted man must realize, that in the world as in one's home town there can be no safety while murder stalks abroad. At enormous political risk, in those days of isolation, he rallied our moral forces against Hitler. He succeeded in arming hard-pressed England and Russia in time to foil the attack of the aggressors. By the time war struck us he had us almost ready. While other men scoffed at his goals he got the men and the machines, and effected co-operation of Allied leaders. He selected a staff that Mr. Dewey admits to be "superb" and has stuck by those men in the very threshold of victory. He has kept the home-front free from the scourge of inflation. He has had the courage to advocate, without ifs and buts, the only practical method of preserving world peace—a league of nations resolved to use force to punish the first disturber of law and order.

Eighty years ago, in the midst of another war, American voters had to make their choice. They were asked to replace a tired and haggard President with a self-assured young man who knew all the answers. They heard the shrieks of the press about inefficiency, they heard the charge of "liar" and "coward" and "dictator." To their everlasting credit they chose well. They knew the goodness of Abraham Lincoln's heart, and knew that their faith would never be betrayed. In choosing him they did more than elect a President. They hastened the day when bitterness should cease, and this war-torn land could once more be reunited. We hope that we in our time may choose as well. We hope that we shall show to the world at large the spectacle of a free nation grateful for enlightened leadership. We hope that, party and prejudice put aside, our people will say at the polls to President Roosevelt:

"We know you for the brave kind man you are. We know quite well who your enemies are—and why. We know the brand of 'freedom' they'd like to go back to. You've made us mad at times, but we know you're for us. You've shared with us the griefs of war and depression. No one but you deserves to share our victory!"

Published by an Adams County Voter

F. W. WEIGLE Dispersal Auction

Thursday, October 26 — Starting at 12:00 Noon

Aspers, Adams Co., Pa.

At farm which is located 10 miles north of Gettysburg on Route 234 between Heidlersburg and Biglerville, 28 miles south of Harrisburg. Turn west off Route 15 at Heidlersburg onto Route 234.

40 Registered Holstein Cattle
Recorded in Harrisburg Association

13 calves and bred and open heifers
3 Registered Guernseys
24 Milking cows
4 Ready for service bulls</

DEWEY ISSUES CHALLENGE TO MR. ROOSEVELT

By JACK BELL

En Route With Dewey To Albany, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking tonight on foreign policy in New York city, was challenged today to present "even the pretense of a program for the future" by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who declared that the New Deal is "a bankrupt organization living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

The Republican presidential nominee told a noisy, cheering crowd which bulged the 9,500-seat Hunt armory in Pittsburgh last night despite a steady downpour outside that Mr. Roosevelt had directed the American working people to "do as they are told and ask no questions."

"That is the end result under one-man government always," the New York governor cried.

"Bankrupt Deal"

"It is time to face the fact," he declared, "that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people. It did some good things in its youth, but now it seeks to live on its past."

"In this great national campaign," he continued, "my opponent has not offered to the people of this country even the pretense of a program for the future. He tells the working men and women of America to trust him, to do as they are told and to ask no questions."

"It is the inevitable end of a philosophy which sees no future for America," he continued. "It is the result of a viewpoint that can see nothing ahead but a repetition of its own peace-time failures—a return after the war to unemployment, with leaf raking and doles."

Returning to Albany for a week-end rest before he starts west Monday morning for major campaign addresses in Minneapolis Oct. 24 and Chicago Oct. 25, Dewey was expected to listen to the radio broadcast of President Roosevelt's foreign policy talk in New York city tonight.

"Waste And Decay"

Addressing himself primarily to labor problems, Dewey told his Pittsburgh audience in a nationally broadcast address that many Democrats "who deeply resent the kidnapping of their party by the Communists and the Political Action Committee," had joined with Republicans and Independents who "are fed up with the 12 years of quarreling, waste and decay" under the New Deal.

"In the same way," he asserted, "a change of administration offers the only future to the working people of America. x x x The slogan of the New Deal is: Back to normalcy with 10 million unemployed."

Declaring that the New Deal was attempting to "treat the social gains of the 1930's as its own property," Dewey said it now "sits by the fire-side and gazes back on its long lost youth with happy contemplation."

"It wants to spend its declining days clipping coupons on its political investments of the 1930's," the New York governor declared. "It wants to hold office in stalemated idleness. I say that social gains are not the property of any party. They are the property of the people of the United States and no party can exploit them for its political profit."

Distance of the moon from the earth varies as much as 30,000 miles.

The force of gravity on the moon is estimated at one-sixth the strength of that on earth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—When Penn State's Marine trainees were given their choice of pre-transfer furloughs and playing football against Colgate today, most of them took the furloughs. . . . It may be their last chance to go home before they head for the fighting fronts. . . . but blocking back Earl Bruhn decided to stick around on advice of his brother Milt, Colgate line coach. . . . When Milt was scouting the Nittany Lions, he told Earl: "You owe that much to Penn State." . . . If Warren Wright decides to ship Twilight Tear to California this winter, the filly will stand good chance of passing Top Flight's $275,000 winning record before Spring. . . . Now that the Phillies have acquired two hitters (Garland and Granville) they won't let the fans do all the knocking.

PIGSKIN PICKINS

(Notre Dame vs. Wisconsin). It's a crime the way the Irish win; if they lose it will be a Wis-con-sin.

(Navy vs. Georgia Tech). It's Tech, by heck, it ain't no wreck.

(Alabama vs. Tennessee). The volunteers will get the cheers.

(Great Lakes vs. Ohio State). You can bet your castle on Paul Brown from Massillon.

To cut more didoes. Than substitute widdoes.

NOT COOL BUT COLLECTED

Publisher Lee Allen of the Reds nominates as the most nervous rookie he ever saw Howard Carter, who played for Cincinnati in 1926. . . . In those days Hughie Critz almost never missed a game at second base, but when Critz was hurt one day, Manager Jack Hendrix sent Carter into his first major league game. . . . The kid trotted out to his position, then fainted dead away and had to be carried off.

SERVICE DEPT.

All five of the starters on the Camp Wolters, Tex., basketball team that ex-sports writer Sgt. Dub King coached to a state title last spring, are riflemen in infantry outfits in France. They are Rec Grossman, Joe Normington, Jack Clifford, John Hollinger and Chuck Liles. . . . when the Camp Peary, Va., Navy footballers face Bainbridge tomorrow it will be homecoming for 15 Peary players who trained at the Maryland camp.

CLEANING THE CUFF

When ticket-sellers at the Miami South Carolina football game last week told several hundred prospective customers they were "sold out," they weren't kidding. There still was room in the stadium but the pasteboards were all gone. . . . But that's no worse than Business-manager Bill Cross' experience at the Texas Aggies-Oklahoma game. He saw the first kickoff then missed all the rest because of repeated trips into town for more change.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press). New York—Tony Janiro, 138, Youngstown, Ohio, outpointed Santa Buca, 134½, Philadelphia, 8. Nat Litfin, 140½, New York, T.K.O. Jackie Connor, 146, Newark, N. J., Philadelphia—Johnny Wolgast, 118½, Philadelphia, knocked out Willie Alexander, 120½, Chester, Pa., 1. Danny Devlin, 172, Allentown, Pa., outpointed Nelson Canty, 166, Philadelphia, 6.

Baseball Draft To Be Held November 1

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—The annual draft meeting at which major league baseball clubs make selections from minor circuits will be held Nov. 1, the office of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today.

At the meeting, to be held in the commissioner's office, the clubs will pick in the reverse order in which they finished the 1944 season. The first choice this year will go to the National League's eighth place team—Philadelphia—with the American League's cellar club—Washington—getting second choice.

DAVIS SCORES NEW DEALERS

"I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers," U. S. Senator James J. Davis declared in a statement here Friday afternoon in which he expressed confidence in a Republican victory at the polls next month. The senator headed a group of six GOP candidates who spent several hours in Gettysburg en route from Chambersburg to York.

The senator's statement follows: "The New Dealers are convinced that the American people, and especially the American farmer, cannot think for themselves. The one-time inventors of agricultural scarcity have now become the apostles of abundance; the one-time opponents of small business freedom, now rise to announce themselves as the builders and encouragers of private enterprise; the New Dealers who have subjected the farmer to every whim of uncontrolled bureaucracy now piously announce that henceforth the farmer shall be a free and independent tiller of the soil."

"Yes, they who have given us 11 years of waste, inefficiency, confusion, increased taxes and a huge public debt, now say they are going to reduce taxes and put the government on a sound financial basis. "But I believe the American people are determined to be no longer duped by slick New Dealers, who sit on soft cushions in Washington and try to guide the destiny of the farmer and working man. It is my firm opinion that the bureaucrats who write directives to farmers have never built a barn, milked a cow or made a crop. But they claim to have superior knowledge in things agricultural."

"In my 13 years in the United States Senate I have consistently supported legislation sponsored and approved by Pennsylvania's farmers. My record will sustain this statement. I shall carry on fighting for good government at a minimum cost to the taxpayers of this state."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker approved four consent decrees filed yesterday, restraining meat dealers from selling in excess of ceiling prices. The dealers are W. C. McCoy, Alliquippa; William Kaplan, Kittanning; R. J. Leiper and H. C. Krause, both of Beaver Falls.

S. L. ALLISON
FAIRFIELD, PA.
Funeral Director and Embalmer
EFFICIENT SERVICE
RELIABLE
Phones: Fairfield 6
Emmitsburg 88

MINE LEADERS OUT FOR DEWEY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21 (AP)—More than 50 officials of seven United Mine workers' districts in Pennsylvania pledged their support to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey during a conference here yesterday because of what they said was his "promise to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country."

John O'Leary, international UMW vice president, said in a statement after the closed conference, also attended by Gov. Edward Martin:

"We're here today on account of the treatment we got from the present administration of our last negotiations (for a contract with the coal mine operators). We're against President Roosevelt because he is against us. Dewey has promised to give fair administration of the labor laws of this country, to favor no one or no one particular organization, and to give a square deal to all in the administration of the laws."

A similar statement was made by A. B. Vales, of Pittsburgh, director of the UMW District 50, which he said represented organized labor in the fields of agriculture, construction and other occupations.

The Republican presidential candidate also conferred with Negro leaders from Allegheny county. Afterward, Ira F. Lewis, president of the Pittsburgh Courier, largest Negro newspaper in the country, declared that the Democratic party was "getting jittery," adding, "a scared man can run, but he can't fight."

200 See Syracuse, Temple Play Tie

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Syracuse and Temple universities battled to a 7-7 tie last night at Temple stadium while 200 rain-soaked fans watched the two all-civilian football teams plow through a muddy field.

The Saline warriors, making their initial appearance on a local gridiron, chalked up their touchdown in the first quarter when Arden McConnell, speedy halfback from Lansing, Mich., skirted around left end from the orange 14 for the touchdown. Reeves Baysinger added the point from placement.

Temple's Jimmy Wilson, hampered by a heavy downpour whipped by high winds, got off the first pass of the game early in the final quarter in an aerial attack that carried the Owls to Syracuse's four. In three plays the Owls cracked the orange line with Wilson carrying over from the four and adding the point after touchdown.

Adams County Co-operative Egg Association

EGGS PRODUCED WITHIN OVERNIGHT

DISTANCE OF NEW YORK CITY

MAIN OFFICE 107 N. WASHINGTON ST. GETTYSBURG, PA. PHONE 257	Unwashed Clear Infertile	SALES OFFICE 138 READE ST. NEW YORK CITY BEckman 3-4145-6
---	--------------------------------	---

The Only SURE and PROFITABLE Way to Market Your Fancy Graded Eggs
Help Yourself and Your Neighbor
SELL ALL YOUR EGGS TO
ADAMS COUNTY CO-OP EGG ASSOCIATION
Phone 257 at the Farm Bureau, Gettysburg, Pa.

Rally Day

Trinity Lutheran Church
ARENDTSTVILLE

Sunday, October 22—10 to 11 A. M.
During the Regular Sunday School Hour

GUEST SPEAKER, FRED WENTZ
Of The Lutheran Theological Seminary

SPECIAL MUSIC Under the Direction of Mr. E. A. Rice
Let's Have A Good Attendance
Everybody Welcome

NO TRESPASSING

All persons are warned not to trespass on the premises of the undersigned, with dog, gun or trap for the purpose of taking game in any manner or for fishing or any way injuring or destroying property. All persons violating the laws of the Commonwealth with regard to trespassing on land of the undersigned will be dealt with under the provisions of the Act of June 24, 1939, P. L. 872, Section 954.

Miss Laura Booth, Butler Township, Gettysburg R. 4.
A. R. Orner, Butler Township, Gettysburg Route 3.
Thad. Keefer, Huntingdon Township, Idaville.
Grace E. Hummer, Franklin Township, Gettysburg Route 3.
Ethel Bucher, Hamiltonban Township, Iron Springs.
Clarence Hartlaub, Gettysburg, Pa., R. 5, Straban Township.
H. D. Crouse, Gettysburg, Pa., R. 1, Cumberland and Mt. Joy Townships.
W. Elmer Scott Farms, Freedom Township, Gettysburg Route 1.
L. S. Long, Property, Cumberland Township, Gettysburg, Pa., R. 3.

2x2 HARDWARE CLOTH

For Lining Corn Cribs
3 1/2c Square Foot

GETTYSBURGH HARDWARE STORE

J. C. SHANK Phone 16-X GETTYSBURG

Issues Plea For More Tin Cans

Shipments of prepared tin cans to detinning plants increased 122 tons in September over the month of August. Total shipments in August were 395 tons; in September 517 tons, the state Salvage Committee announced.

In June, Pennsylvania shipped 1,514 tons of prepared tin cans to detinning plants.

"From various parts of the state we are getting reports that in many cities and towns no cans have been collected for several months. Only a small percentage of the schools of the state participated in tin can collections in September."

"I cannot advise everyone too strongly that tin cans are a critical war material. In fact, tin is so critical that some manufacturers that formerly were allocated tin have been shut off entirely. It is most vital that everything possible be done to collect all the tin cans that can be collected in your county NOW."

"Please do not be misled by rumors that the need for tin has eased up; just the reverse is true."

"We have a most important task to do toward winning the war with tin. I trust that you will collect and ship prepared cans this month," said Colley S. Baker, of the state committee.

Myers Says Davis And Dewey Differ

Beaver Falls, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—Rep. Francis J. Myers, Democratic nominee for the U. S. senate, described his opponent, Sen. James J. Davis, as "already committed to the 'reservations' which Gov. Dewey agrees might wreck the next peace."

Speaking before Beaver county Democratic leaders last night, he said:

"In Dewey's foreign policy speech Wednesday night, the Republican presidential nominee conceded the danger of surrounding our participation in a world organization to keep peace with 'reservations' which Dewey said would 'nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression.'"

Esso

- Batteries
- Tire Recapping Service
- White Gas
- Varsol Cleaning Fluid

Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Burg
Phone 449-Z

34 DEAD, MANY ARE HOMELESS IN GAS BLAST

Cleveland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Wreaking the greatest devastation in Cleveland's history, a multi-million dollar fire burned into its second day today in a 50-block east side area, its death toll undetermined.

Resulting from a series of thunderous explosions yesterday afternoon in the East Ohio Gas Co.'s $6,000,000 liquid gas storage plant, the holocaust's toll in 12 hours soared to at least 34 dead and 20 missing.

An estimated 3,600 persons were made homeless by flames cascading on the heels of blasts which sent tongues of fire towering to a height of 2,800 feet. Possibly 10,000 others were evacuated from yet undamaged homes because of utilities disruption and the danger of further blasts.

Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damage at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000," but added the estimate probably would be revised upwards. He said the blaze might continue most of the day.

Families from the sticky section choked nearby streets, most of them carrying children or lugging what few possessions they could grab.

Adj. Gen. Donald F. Pancoast of Ohio ordered 500 Cleveland State guards and Naval militiamen mobilized to patrol the burned area and protect property from looters.

Navy combat vessels and harbors in invasion areas are serviced by more than 50 types of district craft, each with a specific job.

ROOFING

ROY E. COLDSMITH
37 Breckenridge St.—Phone 265-X
Gettysburg, Pa.

ARE YOUR FLOORS SHABBY?

It's Easy to Make Them Like New Again

Rent Our Floor Sander and Edger

37 Baltimore St. Gettysburg

H. T. MARING

Cemetery Memorials

GRANITE and MARBLE
MYRON H. KNOUSS
ARENDTSTVILLE
Phone Biglerville 2-R-5

EYES EXAMINED GLASSES FITTED

DR. J. C. DONLEY

Brehm Bldg. Wed., Thurs., Fri., Sat. Tel. 507-W
Office Hours Wed., Sat. Evenings

Football Scores COLLEGE

(By The Associated Press). Temple, 7; Syracuse 7 (tie). Boston College, 42; New York University, 13.

Michigan State, 8; Maryland, 0.

Western Michigan, 27; Wooster, 0.

HIGH SCHOOL
Hummelstown, 38; Duncannon, 0.
Huntingdon, 20; Lewistown, 0.
Tyrone, 6; Clearfield, 0.
Allentown, 12; Phillipsburg, N. J., 0.

Greensburg, 0; Altoona, 0.
Hazleton, 7; Shamokin, 0.

Drexel To Resume Grid Play Today

Philadelphia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Drexel Institute of Technology will mark its return to Intercollegiate football today when the Dragons meet Bloomsburg State Teachers college at Bloomsburg.

The grid contest will be first in which the two schools have met in athletic competition.

OUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

(An Editorial from the GreenCastle, Pa., Echo-Pilot)

The time is nearly here when the people of this country must choose a President. It will be one of the most important elections in history. The readers of any newspaper, be it large or small, have a right to know its views on such an issue. We shall state our own position very simply.

We favor with heart and soul the re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Our political heritage has been Republican. We have been and are a registered Republican voter. We are proud that the Republican party once represented a great cause. We feel our party, in the light of its history, should have been the one in this century to carry on the crusade against human slavery. We are for Mr. Roosevelt not because he's a Democrat, but because he stands for our conception of Republicanism.

It was one thing to guarantee men political freedom. It was quite another to win them economic freedom. As long as a man had to work for starvation wages, as long as he could be fired for any protest, as long as his home or farm could be forfeit without mercy, the mere right to vote was cold comfort indeed. Mr. Roosevelt has gone a long way toward changing all this. He has not, to be sure, told the rich to sell their goods, but he has put into the laws of this land of ours a virtue that once was popular chiefly on Sundays. He has said that wealth and law must serve humanity and that rugged success is no substitute for charity. For every idler his measures may have encouraged, ten thousand worthy citizens are safer and happier. The critics may yelp, but the people know the truth. Mr. Dewey himself has had to endorse these reforms.

We believe that, more than any other man in the world, Mr. Roosevelt has wrecked the Axis dream of conquest. Long ago he realized, as any farsighted man must realize, that in the world as in one's home town there can be no safety while murder stalks abroad. At enormous political risk, in those days of isolation, he rallied our moral forces against Hitler. He succeeded in arming hard-pressed England and Russia in time to foil the attack of the aggressors. By the time war struck us he had us almost ready. While other men scoffed at his goals he got the men and the machines, and effected co-operation of Allied leaders. He selected a staff that Mr. Dewey admits to be "superb" and has stuck by those men to the very threshold of victory. He has kept the home-front free from the scourge of inflation. He has had the courage to advocate, without ifs and buts, the only practical method of preserving world peace—a league of nations resolved to use force to punish the first disturber of law and order.

Eighty years ago, in the midst of another war, American voters had to make their choice. They were asked to replace a tired and haggard President with a self-assured young man who knew all the answers. They heard the shrieks of the press about inefficiency, they heard the charge of "liar" and "coward" and "dictator." To their everlasting credit they chose well. They knew the goodness of Abraham Lincoln's heart, and knew that their faith would never be betrayed. In choosing him they did more than elect a President. They hastened the day when bitterness should cease, and this war-torn land could once more be reunited.

We hope that we in our time may choose as well. We hope that we shall show to the world at large the spectacle of a free nation grateful for enlightened leadership. We hope that party and prejudice put aside, our people will say at the polls to President Roosevelt:

"We know you for the brave kind man you are. We know quite well who your enemies are—and why. We know the brand of 'freedom' they'd like to go back to. You've made us mad at times, but we know you're for us. You've shared with us the griefs of war and depression. No one but you deserves to share our victory!"

Published by an Adams County Voter

F. W. WEIGLE Dispersal Auction

Thursday, October 26 — Starting at 12:00 Noon

Aspers, Adams Co., Pa.

At farm which is located 10 miles north of Gettysburg on Route 234 between Heidlersburg and Biglerville, 28 miles south of Harrisburg. Turn west off Route 15 at Heidlersburg onto Route 234.

40 Registered Holstein Cattle

Recorded in Harrisburg Association

13 calves and bred and open heifers

3 Registered Guernseys

24 Milking cows

4 Ready for service bulls

T.B. Accredited and Bang Certified

A home raised offering and a complete dispersal.

THE 167 ACRE FARM SELLS

Good buildings, plenty of water, modern house and up-to-date stable. Land mostly tillable.

2 single unit DeLaval Speedway Milkers, stainless steel pails, Wilson 6-can electric milk cooler.

SALE HELD IN A BIG TENT, LUNCH WILL BE SERVED BY THE U.B. CHURCH

R. AUSTIN BACKUS,
Sales Manager and Auctioneer
Mexico, N. Y.

F. W. WEIGLE, Owner
P. O. Aspers, Adams Co., Pa.

Fourth Anniversary

AMB

Please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for making possible my Fourth Birthday in Gettysburg.

A FREE PERMANENT WAVE

During the week of October 23rd each patron is eligible for the free permanent wave given away each year.

ANN'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

ANN MAUST BACHENSKY, Owner

207 BALTIMORE ST.

PHONE 495-X

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

(A Daily Newspaper)
19-30 Carlisle Street
Telephone-640Published at regular intervals on each weekday byTimes and News Publishing Co.
A Pennsylvania corporation.President—Samuel G. Spangler
Manager—Carl A. Baum
Editor—Paul L. RoyNon-partisan in Politics
Entered at the Postoffice at Gettysburg as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Week (By Carrier)...12 cents
One Month (By Carrier)...50 cents
One Year...$6.00
Single copies...Three cents

Member of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Interstate Advertising Managers Association.

An Associated Press Newspaper
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use, for republication, of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representative: Fred Kimball, Incorporated, 67 W. 44th St., New York City.

Gettysburg, Pa., October 21, 1944

Just Folks

THE SEASONS

Four seasons fill the passing year
And never one the other sees.
Winter has never known the cheer
Of leaf and blossom on the trees.Drab are the woods and fields and hills
Till winter blankets them with snow,
For trilliums and daffodils
Are charms that winter cannot know.The springtime never sees the rose,
Nor the rich gold of ripened grain.
Always into the past it goes,
To wait the time to plant again.Then softly summer slips away
Out of the year beyond recall,
Denied the privilege to stay
And see the glory of the fall.

Today's Talk

PURE SENTIMENT

If all sentiment were to be extracted from life and living, I wonder how many of us would be kindly, thoughtful, considerate, or joyously happy? What basis would there be for the poet, the naturalist, the singer of songs, without sentiment?

I once heard a political address by Woodrow Wilson, while he was campaigning for his second term as President. He had given a masterly talk, and then near the end he hesitated, took a short step forward, and made this remark: "Ladies and gentlemen, the great things in this life are the things of sentiment!" That is the only thing that I can recall from that great address.

For years—some thirty of them—I have been a devoted admirer of the work and life of Carrie Jacobs Bond. She has written songs and poems that will live far into the years. Her one song, "A Perfect Day," will live long after that magazine editor and his publications are forgotten, who termed these songs of Carrie Jacobs Bond as "sugary old songs." Sure they are "sugary." That's what makes them so sweet—and that's why they will endure.

Take the sentiment out of love, and where would the world be? Take sentiment out of human companionship and where would the ennobling power of friendship be? We live by sentiment. Great books depend upon its elements to make them live. It saturates music, and its beauty tints every effort of man. What would the stage be without it? The vast circulations of our magazines and newspapers would sadly shrink with no note of sentiment to embellish them.

You see, sentiment is the breath of the heart, and if it were to be ignored, or cast aside as immaterial, life and all its joys would then melt aimlessly away.

It's sentiment that paints the rainbow, that gives color to the sunrise and to the sunset, that puts fragrance and beauty to the flower, and which makes us wonder at every sight of the blue sky, the starry night, the dew upon the grass, and the lacy roaming of every cloud in the sky. Sentiment is as permanent as God who created it!

Czar For College Basketball Urged

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 21 (AP)—Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, Kansas university basketball coach, and critic, sees gamblers as the terminus who are about to fello the castle of intercollegiate athletics, but denied today that he had said games were thrown in Madison Square Garden.

"I said there had been two known cases of college boys throwing basketball games in eastern tournaments," Phog explained when asked if he had received a telegram from Ned Irish, president of the Garden, asking for names of the offending players.

"Nothing Irish or any coach or promoter can do will stop the gamblers. Only the college presidents can stop it by appointing an absolute czar such as baseball has in Judge Landis."

The Almanac

Oct. 22—Sun rises 7:18; sets 6:11.
Moon sets 10:01 p. m.
Oct. 23—Sun rises 7:19; sets 6:09.
Moon sets 10:07 p. m.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the
Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Sons of Vets Officer Weds: Lieut. Richard S. Rudisill, of Gettysburg, and Miss Helen Marie Beleski, of Reading, were married at a military wedding ceremony in St. Luke's Lutheran church, White Hall, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The ring service of the Lutheran church was performed by the Rev. J. M. Myers in the presence of approximately 200 guests.

Lieutenant Rudisill and his bride entered the church under an arch of steel formed by 60 members of Gettysburg camp, Sons of Veterans' Reserves in which the bridegroom is an officer.

200 Rebekahs Attend Meet: Approximately two hundred members and guests attended a special meeting of the Rebekah assembly Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. Guests were present from Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. Daisy E. Wierman, district deputy president, and Anna Criswell presided at the meeting, at which time the exemplification of the Rebekah degree by the Mary Gettys lodge was conferred upon Dorothy Pissel, of Gettysburg.

The assembly degree was given to the following past noble grands: Mrs. Emma Mundorff, Mrs. Carrie Weikert, Mrs. Edna Hartzell and Mrs. Gladys Rudisill.

New Battery Shop: Victor Sponser has opened a service battery shop at 24 North Stratton street. J. W. Palmer will assist him as mechanic. The new establishment will be known as the Service Battery shop.

I. L. Taylor Resigns Position as President of Gettysburg National Bank: I. L. Taylor, president of the Gettysburg National bank since 1925, announces that he has resigned his position, effective November 1. Mr. Taylor said that he will remain an employee of the bank and that Charles W. Stock, cashier, would assume active management of the bank, November 1.

In announcing his resignation, Mr. Taylor said that during recent months his health has become seriously impaired. The attacks, Mr. Taylor said, made it difficult for him to continue his arduous duties as president of the institution.

O. A. Willis, of Greenstone, was elected chairman of the board of directors of the bank to succeed Mr. Taylor in that capacity.

Accepts School Post: Miss Miriam Taylor, Springs avenue, has accepted a position as teacher of English in the Steelton high school.

Couple Marries: Miss Catherine E. Sharetts and Clay C. Jenkins, of Gettysburg, were married on October 7 in the parsonage of Carroll Reformed church, near Westminster, Md. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert.

Legion Heads Are Installed: Newly elected officers of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion post were installed by District Commander Brown, of Waynesboro, at a meeting in the post home, Baltimore street, Monday evening.

The elective officers installed include William Timmins, commander; John Slaybaugh, first vice commander; E. E. Power, second vice commander; Edgar Moser, adjutant; George W. Boehner, finance officer; Thomas Cawthorn, chaplain; Horace E. Smiley, sergeant-at-arms and William Allison, historian.

The following appointive officers also were installed:

Frank Slonaker, service officer; George Ditchburn, John Diehl, William Allison and Frank E. Seacrest, house committee; C. J. Myers, Leroy H. Winebrenner and Arthur Warman, show committee.

Odd Fellows Convention Opens Monday: Opening sessions of the forty-first annual meeting of the Pennsylvania department council Patriarchs Militant, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the department association of the ladies' auxiliary were held Monday morning.

Resplendent in their navy blue uniforms and wearing swords, more than 150 members of the Patriarchs' Militant opened their annual convention in the Odd Fellows' hall, First National bank building.

College Prof. Buys Robert Bream Home: Prof. H. G. Hamme, 201 Chambersburg street, professor of Spanish and French at Gettysburg college, purchased the former Robert Bream home, Confederate avenue, at public sale on Saturday afternoon. The property, which was sold by Sheriff John C. Wible, brought $6,350.

Personal: Nick Meligakes and William Chritzman left Friday to spend a week at the World's fair in Chicago.

Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, Springs avenue, returned Friday evening from Harrisburg, where she spent the week attending the annual convention of the state federation of Pennsylvania women. Mrs. Eckert was elected recording secretary of State Federation of Pennsylvania women.

Landfall

by LINDA BEVERLY
AP Features

Chapter 8

Terry was very quiet undressing. He allowed Cherry to scrub his back under the shower. Usually this was a hilarious time, punctuated by little shouts and squeals of joy, but tonight he stood like a small brown statue under rain, solemn. "Is there really a raider going to get us in the night, like Pip said?"

Cherry cursed the wireless officer's thoughtlessness. "Of course not, darling. That was Mr. Phillip's joke. They always talk like that, like you say 'Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf!'"

"I'm glad. I wouldn't mind getting into the boats in the daytime. It would be rather nice, wouldn't it? With Rory—Mr. King. I mean. I do like him, don't you?"

"Yes, Terry. I do. I think we'd be quite safe with Mr. King." "But I'd hate to be torpedoed in the night. Rory might be asleep, and miss our boat. Hurro! Hurra! I'm a bird in the rain. Make it colder, much colder!" the little boy shouted, with a sudden change of mood.

If only they could all forget as easily, Cherry thought as she soaped the small brown body. The raider was real enough. Less than a week ago she had sunk a merchant vessel off the coast of New Zealand. Niss she might be anywhere. The peaceful blue days and nights of unutterable beauty were a snare and delusion that might be shattered abruptly at any minute of each twenty-four hours.

Cherry, accustomed now to the daily lifeboat drill and the feeling of being constantly on the alert, knew that an emergency would mean more than merely getting herself into her lifeboat; she was part of the crew.

The dinner gong sounded as she was tucking the little boy into his berth, and Julia drifted through on the way to her own cabin to say good night.

Cherry was slender and just under five-feet-five, but Julia always contrived to make her feel a strapping wench. Julia was incredibly small and compact and—finished was the word Cherry wanted. She was perfectly groomed, fragrant—complete.

Her gown was poison-green, a color one woman in a hundred could wear, but on Julia it looked exactly right. With it she wore a necklace of diamonds set in antique silver, and a deep, barbaric bracelet to match. She wafted Narcissus Noir across the wholesome smell of coal tar soap.

"I'd like a word with you, Miss Mayne, before you go."

"Certainly, madam," Cherry said. "Good night, darling," and followed Julia through the bathroom, switching out the light as she went.

In the cabin beyond Julia faced her, set and angry, twisting her diamond bracelet around and around so that it jingled. The gong had rung fifteen minutes ago, but she made a feature of going down to meals late. It gave her, in the big and almost empty dining saloon, the opportunity for a good entrance.

"Miss Mayne, do you think it is necessary to make such a fuss over Terry? He has been spoiled far too much already."

She disliked Cherry. The girl was too young and pretty to be a stewardess, too cultured to be treated as a servant. There was something fresh and yet oddly dignified about her, a quality Julia herself had never possessed in spite of her grooming and poise. Julia somehow blamed her for her failure to captivate Sir Douglas. Douglas was quite stupid about this child, as if she were a sort of Florence Nightingale. And Terry obviously adored her. Julia burned with jealousy and felt strangely incapable of dealing with Cherry's quiet honesty.

Cherry said simply, "I'm sorry if you think I have been spoiling Terry, Mrs. Scott-Price. I'm not in the habit of spoiling children. And you asked me to look after him."

"I know, I know," Julia was shrill with impatience. "You are giving a lot of time to the child. I'll make it well worth your while, don't worry."

Cherry looked her full in the eyes. "We are not allowed to accept tips or bribes, Mrs. Scott-Price. It is my job to look after women and children, and luckily I have the time to spare for Terry." Julia stared at her unbelievably. That this girl dared to give her a diffident rebuke, dared to refuse a tip—even to call it a bribe—was past her understanding. She could not believe there was any kind of service that money could not buy. Her eyes dropped before the candid scorn in Cherry's and her tone altered. "Well, that's very kind of you, Miss Mayne. I'm afraid Terry is a difficult child, and I don't want to return him to his parents thoroughly spoiled. They're quite ordinary people and would not like it."

She turned without waiting for Cherry's reply and walked rapidly down to dinner, seething with a rage she could not explain even to herself. That damned girl! She'd find some way of humbling her before the end of the voyage. But not to soon—she was too useful, just at present. There were ways and means of showing those hoity-toity chits their places!

Chapter 9

It was a few minutes past eight a. m. Terry had hurried through breakfast so they could be on deck when Rory King came off watch. Now, for the first time in her life, Cherry felt suddenly shy as they watched the tall, white-uniformed figure swinging along toward them.

Terry shouted, "Hello, Rory! Anything to report?"

"Good morning, Miss Mayne. Morning, Terry. Nothing to report. Fair weather, sea calm, and we're making good speed." He smiled down at Terry and the girl holding out lean, strong fingers which the boy grasped. "The captain says I may take you on the bridge this morning and show you how we work the ship."

"Oh, goody! Oh, Cherry, isn't that goody?"

"Very," Cherry agreed. She asked Rory, "Are you sure you don't mind being wailed every morning? Don't you have to sleep?"

"Oh, that's all right. These mornings are too good to sleep, anyway." His keen eyes swept the sparkling sea. The morning sunlight gleamed on their white uniforms, on their faces. The ship forged steadily through the blue sea that was apparently empty for hundreds of miles, canopied by a sky almost as blue. Rory laughed and drew a deep breath. "It's good to be alive on a day like this! In a day or two we shall be baked alive, and a fortnight after that we shall be freezing, probably."

He turned to Cherry, "Will it be all right if I keep him about half an hour?"

"Of course. I have plenty to do." Rory hesitated. A ship is a small world of its own. Small daily happenings grew big out of all proportion to world events.

At sea it was always like that, especially on this long voyage. And now, cut off by the war, from radio communication, with the knowledge that every day or night might be their last, it was more so. People got closer, drawn by a common humanity in the face of common danger. Or temperaments clashed more fiercely. Rory heard all the ship's gossip from the purser or the surgeon or the Old Man. It was unavoidable. He knew much more than Cherry dreamed about herself and Sir Douglas and Mrs. Scott-Price. He wanted to ask her what she was feeling about the Comorandell, how she liked her job. All he said, rather shyly, was, "Do you still like it at sea?"

"I love it!" She smiled with her eyes as well

Rose Tree Race Meet Opens Today

Media, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Rose Tree hunting club's annual race meeting opens today with five races scheduled, including a steeple-chase and two handicap events.

Walter M. Jeffords' Pavot, 2-year-old thoroughbred champion, will be exhibited at the meeting.

as her mouth. That look in her eyes would have answered him without words. Rory was pleased. "We'll turn you into a sailor for good, if you're not careful. The sea has magic, you know."

"I know. I'm not afraid." "Come on, do!" Terry cried impatiently.

"All right, old man, I'm coming." He added, for Cherry's benefit, "It's a good opportunity. All clear, as far as we can tell," and allowed himself to be dragged towards the bridge.

All clear, thought Cherry as she made beds. What lovely words they were! She hummed a happy, soft song as she worked, so that Bert, the steward, scrubbing out the next cabin, grinned suddenly to himself. Miss Mayne was a peach, a good sport if ever there was one. He liked to hear her happy as a lark. He'd been polishing ports just now and seen her on deck talking with Mr. King, and it didn't take much brain to add two and two. Bert was incurably romantic under his tough cockney mask. He hoped those two would make a go of it. It wouldn't in any case, be the usual silly shipboard romance. Mr. King was a good officer, with no damned nonsense of that sort about him. It was so wonderful to see him taking time off to speak to a woman, even. None of your holding-hands-in-the-moonlight about Mr. King.

He'd have his own snip in a year or two, if Bert knew anything about seamen — and Miss Mayne was just the girl for him. Sensible, with the real class that doesn't jibe at a hard job of work, not the rubbish show that women like Mrs. Scott-Price put on. Bert scrubbed the deck viciously, as if soap and water might remove the scented reminder of the cabin's owner. That jumped-up little piece of goods! The way she spoke to them all, especially Cherry, made his blood boil. Cherry never complained, but the galley had its hush telegraph. People like Mrs. Scott-Price didn't hold water down there, not by a long chalk. No amount of tipping ever altered the verdict below decks. Miss Mayne might be one of the crew, but she was a real lady—and that was something Mrs. Scott-Price could never be with all her money.

Not even if she hooked old Sir Douglas Fennimore, as they said she was trying hard enough to do. Bert whistled as he mopped the sill with a final flourish. He was always glad to finish that cabin. He couldn't get into it until it was almost time for inspection, and it was the devil of a rush to get into his white coat before the Old Man came around.

All clear sang Cherry's heart as she finished her dusting. It was a glorious morning. Rory was right. It was grand to be alive on such a day.

To be continued.

NOTICE

The Fairfield Chamber of Commerce requests all parents of Boys who have entered the Armed Forces to send their names within the next ten days to the Secretary.

Mrs. John Beard, Fairfield, Pa.

In order that these names will be placed on the Memorial tablet recently erected in front of the First National Bank of Fairfield.

Mrs. Russel Summers, Chairman.

Busy Little Beaver

Never saw anything as busy as beaver is this season. Going here, there and everywhere. Rushing to the office . . . dashing out for dates. Always looking its best, especially in a full tuxedo . . . or generous, full-faltering colors.

Andes . furs

237 EAST MARKET PHONE 2174

YORK, PA.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ROUTSONG and DUGAN

BENDERSVILLE, PA.

Phones: Biglerville Exchange 147-R-21 — 147-R-1

NEW RAIDS ON JAP SHIPPING

General MacArthur Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 21 (AP)—Diversionsary raids on southern and central targets in the Philippines by American aircraft in which Japanese shipping was set afire and grounded planes destroyed, were reported in a communique by General Douglas MacArthur today.

Fighter planes Friday harassed shipping in the Sulu islands and Zamboanga in the southern Philippines, damaging one medium and three small freighters and three coastal ships.

In the Cebu area of the central Philippines the same day three American fighter-bombers were lost to Japanese anti-aircraft fire in a raid on airbases in which an undetermined number of grounded Jap planes were destroyed. In addition a freighter and two tugboats were set afire. A B-24 patrol plane destroyed a floatplane at West Samar island.

Medium bombers and fighters hit airfields and exploded oil storage dumps in the Ceram-Boeroo area Oct. 17 and 18.

Rabaul, once a Japanese stronghold on New Britain island came into the news when more than 100 Corsairs and Dauntlesses dropped 43 tons of bombs on enemy barge concentrations on Gazelle peninsula and set buildings ablaze.

Chamber Office Has OPA Regulations

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, through its retailers' committee, made available today to local retailers of women's apparel copies of revised maximum price regulation No. 330. The new rules require proprietors of women's wear shops to file with the OPA certain data and figures within the next 30 days.

The copies of the regulations are available at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Kadel building.

Clouds are rarely observed more than six miles above the earth.

The Road To Berlin

(By The Associated Press)
1—Western front: 302 miles (from west of Duren).
2—Russian front: 310 miles (from Warsaw).
3—Italian front: 558 miles (from south of Bologna).

Four Years Ago

(By The Associated Press)
Oct. 21, 1940—Prime Minister Churchill broadcast an appeal to France not to take up arms against Britain. London announced that the Italian destroyer Francesco Nullo had been blown up by a torpedo.

Colgate And Lions In Ninth Meeting

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—Colgate university's Red Raiders oppose Penn State's Nittany Lions today in the ninth game of a series which stands at four-all.

The Raiders, harassed in the classrooms all week by school examinations which Coach Andy Kerr said might make them mentally tired, upset Cornell's Big Red 14-7 last Saturday.

VARIETY OF USES

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—William G. Lehman of the Office of Surplus War Property said 25,000 pairs of officers' spurs and several hundred thousand cartridge clips had been sold to radio advertisers, presumably for souvenir distribution; smudge pots have gone to citrus growers, 4,700 klaxon horns to boat builders, and 1,200,000 cuspidors with lids removed for use as stew pots.

A Good Supply of SPRINGS MATTRESSES AT MUMPERS

N. WASH. ST. — NEAR FARM BUREAU

This Year of Decision

"I wish I could burn this into your minds and memories for the next fifty years at least, and that is, the human race this hour, this day, this week, this year, is confronted by the gravest crisis in all its experience and that we who are here on this scene of action at this critical time have the responsibility of saying what way the world is going for the next fifty years to come."

—CORDELL HULL,
Secretary of State.

We, the people, have a responsibility to meet in this year of crisis. This year—now—is the year of decision for us.

We must elect as our Representatives in government men who measure up to the crisis.

They must be men of integrity.

They must be men of outstanding ability.

They must be men who have schooled themselves in the people's problems.

They must be men who have devoted themselves unselfishly in the people's cause.

We commend to you as a man who fully measures up to the responsibilities of the times—

Josiah W. Gitt

For Representative in Congress

Business Men's Committee for the Election of Josiah W. Gitt to Congress
Francis Farquhar, Chairman A. D. Cohn, Treasurer

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

(A Daily Newspaper)
18-20 Carlisle Street
Telephone-648
Published at regular intervals on each weekday by
Times and News Publishing Co.
A Pennsylvania corporation.

President—Samuel G. Spangler
Manager—Carl A. Baum
Editor—Paul L. Roy

Non-partisan in Politics
Entered at the Postoffice at Gettysburg as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Week (By Carrier) 12 cents
One Month (By Carrier) 50 cents
One Year 6.00
Single copies Three cents

Member of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association.

An Associated Press Newspaper
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representative: Fred Kimball, Incorporated, 67 W. 44th St., New York City.

Gettysburg, Pa., October 21, 1944

Just Folks

THE SEASONS
Four seasons fill the passing year
And never one the other sees.
Winter has never known the cheer
Of leaf and blossom on the trees.

Drab are the woods and fields and hills
Till winter blankets them with snow,
For trilliums and daffodils
Are charms that winter cannot know.

The springtime never sees the rose,
Nor the rich gold of ripened grain.
Always into the past it goes,
To wait the time to plant again.

Then softly summer slips away
Out of the year beyond recall,
Denied the privilege to stay
And see the glory of the fall.

Today's Talk

PURE SENTIMENT
If all sentiment were to be extracted from life and living, I wonder how many of us would be kindly, thoughtful, considerate, or joyously happy? What basis would there be for the poet, the naturalist, the singer of songs, without sentiment?

I once heard a political address by Woodrow Wilson, while he was campaigning for his second term as President. He had given a masterly talk, and then near the end he hesitated, took a short step forward, and made this remark: "Ladies and gentlemen, the great things in this life are the things of sentiment!" That is the only thing that I can recall from that great address.

For years—some thirty of them—I have been a devoted admirer of the work and life of Carrie Jacobs Bond. She has written songs and poems that will live far into the years. Her one song, "A Perfect Day," will live long after that magazine editor and his publications are forgotten, who termed these songs of Carrie Jacobs Bond as "sugary old songs." Sure they are "sugary." That's what makes them so sweet—and that's why they will endure.

Take the sentiment out of love, and where would the world be? Take sentiment out of human companionship and where would the ennobling power of friendship be? We live by sentiment. Great books depend upon its elements to make them live. It saturates music, and its beauty tints every effort of man. What would the stage be without it? The vast circulations of our magazines and newspapers would sadly shrink with no note of sentiment to embellish them.

You see, sentiment is the breath of the heart, and if it were to be ignored, or cast aside as immaterial, life and all its joys would then melt aimlessly away.

It's sentiment that paints the rainbow, that gives color to the sunrise and to the sunset, that puts fragrance and beauty to the flower, and which makes us wonder at every sight of the blue sky, the starry night, the dew upon the grass, and the lacy roaming of every cloud in the sky. Sentiment is as permanent as God who created it!

Czar For College Basketball Urged

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 21 (AP)—Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, Kansas university basketball coach, and critic, sees gamblers as the termites who are about to fello the castle of intercollegiate athletics, but denied today that he had said games were thrown in Madison Square Garden.

"I said there had been two known cases of college boys throwing basketball games in eastern tournaments," Phog explained when asked if he had received a telegram from Ned Irish, president of the Garden, asking for names of the offending players.

"Nothing Irish or any coach or promoter can do will stop the gamblers. Only the college presidents can stop it by appointing an absolute czar such as baseball has in Judge Landis."

The Almanac

Oct. 22—Sun rises 7:18; sets 6:11.
Moon sets 10:51 p. m.
Oct. 23—Sun rises 7:19; sets 6:09.
Moon sets 10:57 p. m.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the
Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Sons of Vets Officer Weds: Lieut. Richard S. Rudisill, of Gettysburg, and Miss Helen Marie Beleski, of Reading, were married at a military wedding ceremony in St. Luke's Lutheran church, White Hall, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The ring service of the Lutheran church was performed by the Rev. J. M. Myers in the presence of approximately 200 guests.

Lieutenant Rudisill and his bride entered the church under an arch of steel formed by 60 members of Gettysburg camp, Sons of Veterans' Reserves in which the bridegroom is an officer.

200 Rebekahs Attend Meet: Approximately two hundred members and guests attended a special meeting of the Rebekah assembly Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. Guests were present from Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. Daisy E. Wierman, district president, and Anna Criswell presided at the meeting, at which time the exemplification of the Rebekah degree by the Mary Gettys Lodge was conferred upon Dorothy Fische, of Gettysburg.

The assembly degree was given to the following past noble grands: Mrs. Emma Mundorff, Mrs. Carrie Weikert, Mrs. Edna Hartzell and Mrs. Gladys Rudisill.

New Battery Shop: Victor Spangler has opened a service battery shop at 24 North Stratton street. J. W. Palmer will assist him as mechanic. The new establishment will be known as the Service Battery shop.

I. L. Taylor Resigns Position as President of Gettysburg National Bank: I. L. Taylor, president of the Gettysburg National bank since 1925, announces that he has resigned his position, effective November 1. Mr. Taylor said that he will remain an employee of the bank and that Charles W. Stock, cashier, would assume active management of the bank, November 1.

In announcing his resignation, Mr. Taylor said that during recent months his health has become seriously impaired. The attacks, Mr. Taylor said, made it difficult for him to continue his arduous duties as president of the institution.

O. A. Willis, of Greenstone, was elected chairman of the board of directors of the bank to succeed Mr. Taylor in that capacity.

Accepts School Post: Miss Miriam Taylor, Springs avenue, has accepted a position as teacher of English in the Steelton high school.

Couple Marries: Miss Catherine E. Sharets and Clay C. Jenkins, of Gettysburg, were married on October 7 in the parsonage of Carroll Reformed church, near Westminster, Md. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert.

Legion Heads Are Installed: Newly elected officers of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion post were installed by District Commander Brown, of Waynesboro, at a meeting in the post home, Baltimore street, Monday evening.

The elective officers installed include William Timmins, commander; John Slaybaugh, first vice commander; E. E. Power, second vice commander; Edgar Moser, adjutant; George W. Boehner, finance officer; Thomas Cawthorn, chaplain; Horace E. Smiley, sergeant-at-arms and William Allison, historian.

The following appointive officers also were installed:

Frank Slonaker, service officer; George Ditchburn, John Diehl, William Allison and Frank E. Seacrest, house committee; C. J. Myers, Leroy H. Winebrenner and Arthur Warman, show committee.

Odd Fellows Convention Opens Monday: Opening sessions of the forty-first annual meeting of the Pennsylvania department council Patriarchs Militant, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the department association of the ladies' auxiliary were held Monday morning.

Resplendent in their navy blue uniforms and wearing swords, more than 150 members of the Patriarchs' Militant opened their annual convention in the Odd Fellows' hall, First National bank building.

College Prof. Buys Robert Bream Home: Prof. H. G. Hamme, 201 Chambersburg street, professor of Spanish and French at Gettysburg college, purchased the former Robert Bream home, Confederate avenue, at public sale on Saturday afternoon. The property, which was sold by Sheriff John C. Wible, brought $6,350.

Personal: Nick Meligakes and William Chritzman left Friday to spend a week at the World's fair in Chicago.

Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, Springs avenue, returned Friday evening from Harrisburg, where she spent the week attending the annual convention of the state federation of Pennsylvania women. Mrs. Eckert was elected recording secretary of State Federation of Pennsylvania women.

Landfall

by LINDA
BEVERLY
AP Features

Chapter 3

Terry was very quiet undressing. He allowed Cherry to scrub his back under the shower. Usually this was a hilarious time, punctuated by little shouts and squeals of joy, but tonight he stood like a small brown statue under rain, solemn. "Is there really a raider going to get us in the night, like Pip said?"

Cherry cursed the wireless officer's thoughtlessness. "Of course not, darling. That was Mr. Phillip's joke. They always talk like that, like you say 'Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf!'"

"I'm glad. I wouldn't mind getting into the boats in the daytime. It would be rather nice, wouldn't it? With Rory—Mr. King. I mean. I do like him, don't you?"

"Yes, Terry. I do. I think we'd be quite safe with Mr. King."

"But I'd hate to be torpedoed in the night. Rory might be asleep, and miss our boat. Hurroo! Hurroo! I'm a bird in the rain. Make it colder, make it colder!" the little boy shouted, with a sudden change of mood.

If only they could all forget as easily, Cherry thought as she soaped the small brown body. The raider was real enough. Less than a week ago she had sunk a merchant vessel off the coast of New Zealand. Now she might be anywhere. The peaceful blue days and nights of unutterable beauty were a snare and delusion that might be shattered abruptly at any minute of each twenty-four hours.

Cherry, accustomed now to the daily lifeboat drill and the feeling of being constantly on the alert, knew that an emergency would mean more than merely getting herself into her lifeboat; she was part of the crew.

The dinner gong sounded as she was tucking the little boy into his berth, and Julia drifted through on the way to her own cabin to say good night.

Cherry was slender and just under five-feet-five, but Julia always contrived to make her feel a strapping wench. Julia was incredibly small and compact and—finished was the word Cherry wanted. She was perfectly groomed, fragrant—complete. Her gown was poison-green, a color one woman in a hundred could wear, but on Julia it looked exactly right.

With it she wore a necklace of diamonds set in antique silver, and a deep, barbaric bracelet to match. She wafted Narcisse Noir across the wholesome smell of coal tar soap.

"I'd like a word with you, Miss Mayne, before you go."

"Certainly, madam," Cherry said, "Good night, darling," and followed Julia through the bathroom, switching out the light as she went.

In the cabin beyond Julia faced her, set and angry, twisting her diamond bracelet around and around so that it jingled. The gong had rung fifteen minutes ago, but she made a feature of going down to meals late. It gave her, in the big and almost empty dining saloon, the opportunity for a good entrance.

"Miss Mayne, do you think it is necessary to make such a fuss over Terry? He has been spoiled far too much already."

She disliked Cherry. The girl was too young and pretty to be a stewardess, too cultured to be treated as a servant. There was something fresh and yet oddly dignified about her, a quality Julia herself had never possessed in spite of her grooming and poise. Julia somehow blamed her for her failure to captivate Sir Douglas. Douglas was quite stupid about this child, as if she were a sort of Florence Nightingale. And Terry obviously adored her. Julia burned with jealousy and felt strangely incapable of dealing with Cherry's quiet honesty.

Cherry said simply, "I'm sorry if you think I have been spoiling Terry, Mrs. Scott-Price. I'm not in the habit of spoiling children. And you asked me to look after him."

"I know, I know," Julia was shrill with impatience. "You are giving a lot of time to the child. I'll make it well worth your while, don't worry."

Cherry looked her full in the eyes. "We are not allowed to accept tips or bribes, Mrs. Scott-Price. It is my job to look after women and children, and luckily I have the time to spare for Terry."

Julia stared at her unbelievably. That this girl dared to give her a dignified rebuke, dared to refuse a top—even to call it a bribe—was past her understanding. She could not believe there was any kind of service that money could not buy. Her eyes dropped before the candid scorn in Cherry's and her tone altered. "Well, that's very kind of you, Miss Mayne. I'm afraid Terry is a difficult child, and I don't want to return him to his parents thoroughly spoiled. They're quite ordinary people and would not like it."

She turned without waiting for Cherry's reply and walked rapidly down to dinner, seething with a rage she could not explain even to herself. That damned girl! She'd find some way of humbling her before the end of the voyage. But not to soon—she was too useful, just at present. There were ways and means of showing those hoity-toity chits their places!

Chapter 9

It was a few minutes past eight a. m. Terry had hurried through breakfast so they could be on deck when Rory King came off watch. Now, for the first time in her life, Cherry felt suddenly shy as they watched the tall, white-uniformed figure swinging along toward them.

Terry shouted, "Hello, Rory! Anything to report?"

"Good morning, Miss Mayne. Morning, Terry. Nothing to report. Fair weather, sea calm, and we're making good speed." He smiled down at Terry and the girl holding out lean, strong fingers which the boy grasped. "The captain says I may take you on the bridge this morning and show you how we work the ship."

"Oh, goody! Oh, Cherry, isn't that goody?"

"Very," Cherry agreed. She asked Rory, "Are you sure you don't mind being wailed every morning? Don't you have to sleep?"

"Oh, that's all right. These mornings are too good to sleep, anyway." His keen eyes swept the sparkling sea. The morning sunlight gleamed on their white uniforms, on their faces. The ship forged steadily through the blue sea that was apparently empty for hundreds of miles, canopied by a sky almost as blue. Rory laughed and drew a deep breath. "It's good to be alive on a day like this! In a day or two we shall be baked alive, and a fortnight after that we shall be freezing, probably."

He turned to Cherry, "Will it be all right if I keep him about half an hour?"

"Of course, I have plenty to do," Rory hesitated. A ship is a small world of its own. Small daily happenings grew big out of all proportion to world events.

At sea it was always like that, especially on this long voyage. And now, cut off by the war, from radio communication, with the knowledge that every day or night might be their last, it was more so. People got closer, drawn by a common humanity in the face of common danger. Or temperaments clashed more fiercely. Rory heard all the ship's gossip from the purser or the surgeon or the Old Man. It was unavoidable. He knew much more than Cherry dreamed about herself and Sir Douglas and Mrs. Scott-Price.

He wanted to ask her what she was feeling about the Coromandel, how she liked her job. All he said, rather shyly, was, "Do you still like it at sea?"

"I love it!" She smiled with her eyes as well.

Rose Tree Race Meet Opens Today

Media, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Rose Tree hunting club's annual race meeting opens today with five races scheduled, including a steeple-chase and two handicap events.

Walter M. Jeffords' Pavot, 2-year-old thoroughbred champion, will be exhibited at the meeting.

as her mouth. That look in her eyes would have answered him without words. Rory was pleased. "We'll turn you into a sailor for good, if you're not careful. The sea has magic, you know."

"I know. I'm not afraid."

"Come on, do!" Terry cried impatiently.

"All right, old man, I'm coming." He added, for Cherry's benefit, "It's a good opportunity. All clear, as far as we can tell," and allowed himself to be dragged towards the bridge.

All clear, thought Cherry as she made beds. What lovely words they were! She hummed a happy, soft song as she worked, so that Bert, the steward, scrubbing out the next cabin, grinned suddenly to himself. Miss Mayne was a peach, a good sport if ever there was one. He liked to hear her happy as a lark. He'd been polishing ports just now and seen her on deck talking with Mr. King, and it didn't take much brain to add two and two. Bert was incurably romantic under his tough cockney mask. He hoped those two would make a go of it. It wouldn't in any case, be the usual silly shipboard romance. Mr. King was a good officer, with no damned nonsense of that sort about him. It was so wonderful to see him taking time off to speak to a woman, even. None of your holding-hands-in-the-moonlight about Mr. King.

He'd have his own ship in a year or two, if Bert knew anything about seamen — and Miss Mayne was just the girl for him. Sensible, with the real class that doesn't jibe at a hard job of work, not the rubbishish sort that women like Mrs. Scott-Price put on. Bert scrubbed the deck viciously, as if soap and water might remove the scented reminder of the cabin's owner. That jumped-up little piece of goods! The way she spoke to them all, especially Cherry, made his blood boil. Cherry never complained, but the galley had its hush telegraph. People like Mrs. Scott-Price didn't hold water down there, not by a long chalk. No amount of tipping ever altered the verdict below decks. Miss Mayne might be one of the crew, but she was a real lady—and that was something Mrs. Scott-Price could never be with all her money. Not even if she hooked old Sir Douglas Pennimore, as they said she was trying hard enough to do. Bert whistled as he mopped the sill with a final flourish. He was always glad to finish that cabin. He couldn't get into it until it was almost time for inspection, and it was the devil of a rush to get into his white coat before the Old Man came around.

All clear sang Cherry's heart as she finished her dusting. It was a glorious morning. Rory was right. It was grand to be alive on such a day.

To be continued.

NOTICE

The Fairfield Chamber of Commerce requests all parents of Boys who have entered the Armed Forces to send their names within the next ten days to the Secretary.

Mrs. John Beard, Fairfield, Pa.

in order that these names will be placed on the Memorial tablet recently erected in front of the First National Bank of Fairfield.

Mrs. Russel Summers, Chairman.

Busy Little Beaver

Never saw anything as busy as beaver is this season. Going here, there and everywhere. Rushing to the office . . . dashing out for dates. Always looking its best, especially in a full tuxedo . . . or generous, full-faltering colors.

Andes . furs

237 EAST MARKET YORK, PA. PHONE 2174

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ROUTSONG and DUGAN
BENDERSVILLE, PA.

Phones: Biglerville Exchange
147-R-21 — 147-R-21

NEW RAIDS ON JAP SHIPPING

General MacArthur Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 21 (AP)—Diversionsary raids on southern and central targets in the Philippines by American aircraft in which Japanese shipping was set afire and grounded planes destroyed, were reported in a communique by General Douglas MacArthur today.

Fighter planes Friday harassed shipping in the Sulu islands and Zamboanga in the southern Philippines, damaging one medium and three small freighters and three coastal ships.

In the Cebu area of the central Philippines the same day three American fighter-bombers were lost to Japanese anti-aircraft fire in a raid on airdromes in which an undetermined number of grounded Japanese planes were destroyed. In addition a freighter and two tugboats were set afire. A B-24 patrol plane destroyed a floatplane at West Samar island.

Medium bombers and fighters hit airfields and exploded oil storage dumps in the Ceram-Boeroe area Oct. 17 and 18.

Rabaul, once a Japanese stronghold on New Britain island came into the news when more than 100 Corsairs and Dauntlesses dropped 43 tons of bombs on enemy barge concentrations on Gazelle peninsula and set buildings ablaze.

Chamber Office Has OPA Regulations

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, through its retailers' committee, made available today to local retailers of women's apparel copies of revised maximum price regulation No. 330. The new rules require proprietors of women's wear shops to file with the OPA certain data and figures within the next 30 days.

The copies of the regulations are available at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Kadel building.

Clouds are rarely observed more than six miles above the earth.

The Road To Berlin

(By The Associated Press)
1—Western front: 302 miles (from west of Duren).
2—Russian front: 310 miles (from Warsaw).
3—Italian front: 558 miles (from south of Bologna).

Four Years Ago

(By The Associated Press)
Oct. 21, 1940—Prime Minister Churchill broadcast an appeal to France not to take up arms against Britain. London announced that the Italian destroyer Francesco Nullo had been blown up by a torpedo.

Colgate And Lions In Ninth Meeting

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—Colgate university's Red Raiders oppose Penn State's Nittany Lions today in the ninth game of a series which stands at four-all.

The Raiders, harassed in the classrooms all week by school examinations which Coach Andy Kerr said might make them mentally tired, upset Cornell's Big Red 14-7 last Saturday.

VARIETY OF USES

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—William G. Lehman of the Office of Surplus War Property said 25,000 pairs of officers' spurs and several hundred thousand cartridge clips had been sold to radio advertisers, presumably for souvenir distribution; smudge pots have gone to citrus growers, 4-700 klaxon horns to boat builders, and 1,200,000 cuspidors with lids removed for use as stew pots.

Orrtanna

Orrianna—Miss Mary Jones, Danville, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd King.

Mrs. Blair Biesecker has returned home after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. John Blessing, Hallam. Mrs. Robert Jones spent the last week-end with relatives in Hershey. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Baker, Willard, Ohio, are spending a vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Saum. Mrs. I. Z. Musselman has returned home after spending some time with her mother, Mrs. John Ranck, New Holland.

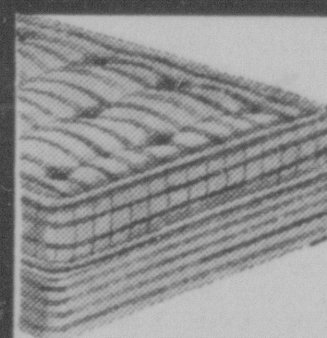

S. Sgt. Charles Pryor, Camp Reynolds, Pa., has returned to his camp after spending some time with his wife at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson, Mrs. S. C. Donaldson, Jr., Cherry Tree, Indiana county, visited her parents-in-law recently.

Miss Cora Stoner, Hallam, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Blair Biesecker. Mrs. Lydia Marshall recently sold her property to Samuel Baumgardner, Seven Stars, for $1,800. Mrs. Marshall will go to Danville to make her home with her son, James, and family.

British Advance North Of Athens

Rome, Oct. 21 (AP)—British patrols are closing in on the Greek town of Lamia about 100 miles northwest of Athens, Allied headquarters announced today.

German troops are believed to have withdrawn from the town. It is 65 miles beyond Thebes, which Allied troops were reported yesterday to have occupied.

A Good Supply of
SPRINGS MATTRESSES
AT
MUMPERS

N. WASH. ST. — NEAR FARM BUREAU

This Year of Decision

"I wish I could burn this into your minds and memories for the next fifty years at least, and that is, the human race this hour, this day, this week, this year, is confronted by the gravest crisis in all its experience and that we who are here on this scene of action at this critical time have the responsibility of saying what way the world is going for the next fifty years to come."

—CORDELL HULL,
Secretary of State.

We, the people, have a responsibility to meet in this year of crisis. This year—now—is the year of decision for us.

We must elect as our Representatives in government men who measure up to the crisis.

They must be men of integrity.

They must be men of outstanding ability.

They must be men who have schooled themselves in the people's problems.

They must be men who have devoted themselves unselfishly in the people's cause.

We commend to you as a man who fully measures up to the responsibilities of the times—

Josiah W. Gitt

For Representative in Congress

Business Men's Committee for the Election of Josiah W. Gitt to Congress
Francis Farquhar, Chairman A. D. Cohn, Treasurer

FDR LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN INTO NEW YORK CITY

By HOWARD FLIEGER
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt personally carried the fourth term bid into vote-laden New York city today, casting aside the military secrecy that has shrouded his travels during the war to resume the role of a political campaigner.

On his crowded schedule were an appearance at an Ebbets field Democratic rally, visits to four of the city's boroughs and a major address before the foreign policy association in the Waldorf Astoria hotel at 9:30 p. m. (EWT, NBC and Blue).

It was Mr. Roosevelt's first public appearance outside Washington since the campaign reached the intensive stage, and it predated other political trips for the chief executive.

Other Appearances
Already scheduled are speeches in Philadelphia next Friday and in Boston probably the night of November 4. Chicago and Cleveland are other likely appearance spots.

Thirty seven reporters, photographers and radio men accompanied the President from Washington, the first time they have boarded a presidential train since Pearl Harbor. On other war-time trips he either has been unaccompanied by correspondents or has taken with him only the White House reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service.

Also in the President's party were Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Presidential Secretaries Stephen Early and William D. Hassett, Robert Sherwood, the writer who recently left the office of war information to join the White House staff, and Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, the President's physician. Mrs. Roosevelt joined the party shortly before the President began his tour of the city.

No Censorship
Early said Mr. Roosevelt had no intention of concealing himself today behind voluntary censorship.

His appearance at Ebbets field will mark the first time in the campaign that the President has turned up at a political rally, although he will repeat next Friday at Philadelphia's Shibe park. His opening campaign speech in Washington last month was at a dinner meeting of the AFL teamsters union where admission was by ticket only. Other talks he has made have been delivered by radio from the White House.

Bad Weather May Hamper Grid Tilts

By TED MEIER
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Inclement weather may hamper today's curtailed college football program, although rabid fans are expected to turn out as usual.

In one of the top three games of the afternoon the country's No. 1 eleven, Notre Dame, runs against a Wisconsin team at South Bend, Ind., that may spoil the Irish's dream of an undefeated, untied campaign.

At Columbus, Ohio, a crowd of some 60,000 is expected to disregard the elements to watch Ohio State's Buckeyes tangle with Paul Brown's Great Lakes aggregation.

The third headline game of the day is at Atlanta, Ga., where Navy's No. 9 eleven bumps into Georgia Tech's No. 8 outfit.

Army's unbeaten and untied team, ranked No. 2 in the latest Associated Press poll, meets the U. S. Coast Guard academy at West Point in the leading eastern fray. The Colgate-Penn State and Cornell-Sampson Naval engagements also are of interest in the east.

Pacific coast rainfall ranges from 100 inches a year in northern Washington to two inches in the California desert.

Get your CAR ready for The Cold Winter Months Ahead

INSPECTION Starts November 1

You must have it done early if you expect to drive your car or truck. Parts are very hard to get and the longer you wait, the worse it will get. The garage man is busier today than ever in the history of automobiles and you help him as well as yourself if you will come in early instead of waiting until the end of the season.

BETTER CHECK YOUR TIRES!
If they happen to be badly worn, your car will not pass and you will be without a sticker.

PHIEL'S GARAGE
438 YORK ST. PHONE 369 GETTYSBURG, PA.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Ben Franklin must have been thinking of today's motoring when he said that the way to be safe is never to be secure.

Explains A Skip

Faltering of the engine when trying to pick up speed after a slow-down invariably hints of spark plug trouble, and in nine cases out of ten the plugs are found to have too much gap between their points. This comes about in two rather natural ways and so gradually that even the most seasoned motorists are apt to overlook them. First, there is the normal wear on points, a condition that increases the gap between them. Then there is the abnormal wear due to the plugs being of the wrong heat type. If plugs are not short enough, and the engine is inclined to run hot, the electrodes will eat away more rapidly. All this adds up to the sort of motor hesitation which, on first thought, usually suggests a fuel or a more serious ignition condition.

One Way To Save

Here is a simple little trick that will save gasoline when you are getting started in cold weather:

Instead of gunning the engine on the theory that this helps warm it up by improving the mixture just let the engine run at what is called "fast idle" idling just above the normal. When you open the throttle wide you lower intake manifold suction and thus rob the engine of its best means of vaporizing the fuel. Suction is greatest when the throttle is closed to the idling point, and it is at this speed that you get not only maximum efficiency with cold fuel but the best mileage.

One They Overlook

It is a strange but true fact that when they search for possible causes of engine overheating most people forget about the by-pass valve in the cooling system. This is the valve that opens when the motor thermostat is closed and which should close when the thermostat opens to allow water to make the normal circuit through the radiator. This by-pass valve is a spring loaded affair. It opens when pressure within the system is high as when the water can't go through to the radiator.

Should this valve stick closed of course the engine will quickly heat up, force the motor thermostat to open and permit water to spill out the overflow because of the steam pressure behind it. On the other hand if it remains open a certain amount of water will keep circulating around the block instead of going through to the radiator to be cooled. In either case overheating is the result.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"I wish more of my customers would look on repair work as prevention of bigger trouble rather than just as something to correct what has already happened. Any service job on the car pays an extra dividend that may be unnoticed because it's always hard to appreciate what troubles you are being spared."

"I just replaced a badly neglected hydraulic shock absorber, and I know the owner is going to be pleased with the increased riding comfort from his car. What he probably won't realize is that this repair job is going to prevent breakage of one of the rear springs. In another case where I replaced a front shock the extra dividend is freedom from a lot of shimmy and tire wear which would follow loss of front-end control."

Pointer On Starting

Doubtless you have heard that unless cranking speed is up to par no engine will start properly, but did you ever stop to realize that this may not be due to use of an undersized generator or to the engine oil being too heavy but to the starter-motor being handicapped by dirt or grease on its commutator? Under such conditions it can't get up to normal cranking speed. The commutator itself never should be lubricated.

Many cars today "ping" almost as badly when accelerated in second gear as in high. This is due to the fact that modern second gear is designed as a high speed gear for hill work and for traffic. It might be called a "low" high rather than an intermediate gear.

The fact that hydraulic brakes hold well down to the last shred of brake lining is a questionable virtue since this invariably results in scoring the brake drums. Solution is to inspect brake lining more often.

Brake drums are most likely to be abused, and warped, following a re-lining. The driver is then tempted to use the increased braking power of the new lining at low speeds when maximum braking isn't needed.

Back For Revision

It still is a good idea to over-lubricate the tires for a short run following a lubrication of the chassis to decide whether or not the work was properly done. The effect of this, of course, is to reduce the tire's cushioning effect and to place all the shock absorption load on the springs, shackles and shock absorbers. If you hear some new squeaks or evidences that the cushioning effect is poor, you will be wise to go back to the grease lit for a little more attention to the chassis.

The Motor Primer

In spite of the fact that gasoline is hot stuff it has to be warmed up before it is much good for powering your car. Not only is it brought up to nearly the vaporizing point en route from the pump to the carburetor but as it travels in vapor form through the intake manifold it is treated to further warming by means of what are known as "hot spots."

These are points in the manifold where heat from the adjoining exhaust manifold helps play its part in the process. Some engines have what are called "stoves" to help preheat the mixture. There is, of course, thermostat control of the stoves or the manifold heater so that as the engine warms up and the need for preheating lessens it can be checked. These controls are difficult to keep in condition because of the habit of their valve shaft to stick. It explains much difficulty with cold engines or incorrect mixture when the engine is hot, depending on which way the valve sticks.

How To Prove It

If you think the gas mixture is too lean and that the excessive ping of the motor is a direct cause of it you can use another simple observation to prove your point. Note if the engine pings as badly when the engine is cool, but not cold. During the first mile of operation the choke valve will be partly closed and the mixture then quite rich. Run awhile, then lift the hood to see if the choke valve is fully open, then check for ping. If this ping doesn't become sharp until the engine is warm or hot, then the mixture certainly hasn't been too lean.

Keep It For Reference

In the old days when leaks in the gasoline tank were more common it was not unusual to see a motorist whip out a bar of soap and plug the leak temporarily with the aid of this homely substance. So better take along some soap in the event that you have to cope with the pitiful sight of your precious fuel leaking out on the road.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. The engine of my car doesn't operate very well in spite of checking ignition timing and gas mixture. Do you think the valves need retiming? G. L. S.

A. It isn't necessary to retine valves unless the gears are being replaced, the engine has been disassembled or the timing chain has jumped. The rough going of this motor may be due to wide variation in compression between the different cylinders.

Q. What happens to unburned gasoline vapor that gets into the cylinders? Wm. K. L.

A. It may pass into the exhaust, turn to carbon and gum deposits in the cylinders or run down past the pistons into the crankcase.

Q. There is a persistent miss in the engine of my car. This has been going on for six months. A valve job has not helped, nor all new spark plugs, nor a new carburetor. I am about to replace the distributor although nothing seems to be wrong with the present one. L. L. W.

A. I would check for a cracked intake manifold that leaks out the mixture by testing extra air suck in.

Q. Ever since adjusting the fan belt on my car there has developed a leak at the water pump. This is letting anti-freeze escape and may give me a lot of trouble in cold weather. What is your opinion of this? F. G.

A. The fan belt on your job operates the water pump as well as the generator. Evidently you have adjusted the belt so tight that it pulls the water pump impeller shaft out of alignment. This causes wear on the pump bearings, and leakage.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

White Run

White Run.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lightner, of Landsburg, visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher.

Miss Betty Crouse, Miss Chesson and Miss Hillman, cadet nurses, from the Church Home and Hospital, Baltimore, spent a short time Sunday at the home of Miss Crouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Westfall and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Miller and son, Freddie, and daughter, Sophia, Mechanicsburg, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Edward Hartman, merchant seaman, New York, spent the last week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hartman, Baltimore road.

Corporal C. W. Crouse, of Loveland, Texas, spent the last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hogentogler, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leister, of Hazleton, spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ada Leister.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg.—The Women's club recently held an "Afternoon of Games" at the Freeman's hall. The high score in 500 was made by Mrs. H. Neighbors, the second highest by Mrs. John Wagerman. Mrs. Frank Rowe scored the highest in the bingo games. Mrs. John Hollinger drew the door prize. A luncheon was provided by the individual members. The guests were Mrs. Helen Brown, Mrs. Frank Stoner, Mrs. James Arnold, Mrs. Charles Keepers, Mrs. Harry Hull, Mrs. E. C. Sperry, Mrs. Mary Keilam, Mrs. Elmore Humerick, Mrs. Agnes Garner, Mrs. H. Neighbor, Moly Reynolds, Mrs. James Kelly, Sara Rhodes. The members attending were: Mrs. Ralph Sperry, Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Daugherty, Mrs. George Eyster, Mrs. Ora Wagerman, Mrs. John Wagerman, Mrs. Lewis Higbee, Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. George Paxson, Mrs. John Zacharias, Mrs. Richard Zacharias, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Frank Rowe, Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. Charles Landers, Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Mrs. Joseph Hoke, Mrs. Charles Harner, Mrs.

Carrie Hartell, Mrs. Albert Leary, Mrs. Thornton Rodgers and the Misses Louise Sebold, and Ann Ocken.

Patty Jean Bower recently was given a party by her mother, Mrs. Fred Bower, 123 East Main street, in celebration of her third birthday. Games were played, and refreshments served to 14 children. The guests included: Mike Humerick, Mickey and Beckie Gansmer, Tony Elliott, Sue Daugherty, Margaret Neighbors, Terry Fleagle, Thurm-mont, Mary Hoffman, Thurm-mont, Julia Ann, Mary Ann Flowers, Freddie Kugler, Butch Paxson, Tommy Willhide and Penny Gingle.

Mrs. John Dietz of Ellipton City, spent the week-end as house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilelan, 321 East Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. "Rock" Eyster, of Philadelphia, recently spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilelan, 321 East Main street.

The first subway, one block long, was built in New York in the 1890's and the fare was 25 cents.

The longest railroad bridge in the world is the 12-mile trestle over the Great Salt Lake, Utah.

Nevada has the smallest population of any state in the union.

SPECIALS on Winter Needs

For Your Automobile or Truck

ANTI-FREEZE
HOT WATER HEATERS
DEFROSTER FANS
(Pre-War)
GENERAL BATTERIES
AUTO CHAINS
OIL-CHANGE
LUBRICATION

Don't Wait,
Remember
Last
Year

GENERAL First Line Tires and Tubes

REEL General Tire Service

250 Buford Ave. Phone 224-Z
Gettysburg, Pa.

If you don't have a certificate for a new tire we'll recap the
old ones.

We are pledged to help make your car last longer.

Get ready for

COLD WEATHER

Anti-Freeze — Zeron — Thermo Royal
Thermostats — Defroster Fans
Hot Water Heaters — Batteries
Chains — Champion Spark Plugs
Heater and Radiator Hose
Battery Charging "While You Wait"

Phone
665-X
or
449-X

Auto and Truck
Repair Service in Charge of
Mr. Arthur Keefer
Foreman of Our
Mechanical
Department

USED CARS

'33 Chev. Coach '36 Chev. 4 D.
'36 Ford 2 D. '32 Pontiac 4 D.
'32 Ford BB Cp. '33 Plymouth Cp.
'33 Ford 2 D., Excellent Motor.

HANKEY and PLANK

York Street Extended Roy Hankey—Ira Plank

PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE WILL HELP

For the duration, we are specializing in preventive maintenance service — not only the must kind of repairs and replacements, but service designed to prolong the life of your car.

If your car is ailing — in even minor ways — bring it to us. We can put it in good running condition — and can help you keep it that way.

Warren Chevrolet Sales

C. J. Fisher, Serv. Mgr.
YORK STREET GETTYSBURG, PA.

S. C. FINKBONER'S Complete Service

• Anti-freeze
• Lubrication
• Crankcase Service
• Washing • Polishing

DON'T DELAY — DO IT TODAY
EAST END GULF SERVICE
YORK STREET GETTYSBURG, PA.

S. C. FINKBONER, Prop.

DO NOT SELL YOUR CAR UNTIL YOU SEE US!

Write Us — Phone Us — or Drive It In

NO WAITING — SPOT CASH IMMEDIATELY

No bother or delay — We arrange for and aid you in obtaining and completing all necessary forms. No worries—We'll thoroughly check your car and pay you the highest possible legitimate price, depending upon its condition.

No regrets—You'll be performing a worthy, patriotic duty by furnishing transportation, now seriously needed for workers in the war effort.

FIRST CHOOSE YOUR DEALER, THEN YOUR CAR

K U H N

AUTO SALES & SERVICE
Authorized Pontiac Dealer

763 Carlisle St.
875 Broadway
HANOVER, PA.

Winterize and Get Your

Auto Supplies

Tires Tubes Floor Mats
Anti-Freeze Pre-War Heaters
Batteries—Fog Lights and Tire Pumps
Bicycle Tires Defrosters
Outside Mirrors Chains

PROMPT SERVICE ON RECAPS

BLUE RIDGE SERVICE STATION

J. F. Powell, Mgr.
COMPLETE ONE STOP STATION
Expert Lubrication, Washing and Polishing, Cars Called For and Delivered
COR. 5th & YORK STS. Phone 88-W GETTYSBURG, PA.

WE HAVE YOUR TIRES IN STOCK

In All the Popular Sizes
LEE GOODYEAR DUNLOP
If you have been granted a certificate authorizing you to purchase new tires we can supply them at once from our stock in these popular sizes

600x16 450x21 550x18
650x16 475x19 550x17
700x16
COMMERCIAL LIGHT TRUCK
600x16 650x16

If You Need Inner Tubes We Can Also Supply Them in All Popular Sizes

KEMPER'S SERVICE STATION

GETTYSBURG R. D. 4 HEIDELSBURG
Phone York Springs 75-R-13

FDR LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN INTO NEW YORK CITY

By HOWARD FLEGER

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt personally carried the fourth term bid into vote-laden New York city today, casting aside the military secrecy that has shrouded his travels during the war to resume the role of a political campaigner.

On his crowded schedule were an appearance at an Ebbets field Democratic rally, visits to four of the city's boroughs and a major address before the foreign policy association in the Waldorf Astoria hotel at 9:30 p. m. (EWT, NBC and Blue).

It was Mr. Roosevelt's first public appearance outside Washington since the campaign reached the intensive stage, and it presaged other political trips for the chief executive.

Other Appearances

Already scheduled are speeches in Philadelphia next Friday and in Boston following the night of November 4. Chicago and Cleveland are other likely appearance spots.

Thirty seven reporters, photographers and radio men accompanied the President from Washington, the first time they have boarded a presidential train since Pearl Harbor. On other war-time trips he either has been unaccompanied by correspondents or has taken with him only the White House reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service.

Also in the President's party were Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Presidential Secretaries Stephen Early and William D. Hassett, Robert Sherwood, the writer who recently left the office of war information to join the White House staff, and Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, the President's physician. Mrs. Roosevelt joined the party shortly before the President began his tour of the city.

No Censorship

Early said Mr. Roosevelt had no intention of concealing himself today behind voluntary censorship.

His appearance at Ebbets field will mark the first time in the campaign that the President has turned up at a political rally, although he will repeat next Friday at Philadelphia's Shibe park. His opening campaign speech in Washington last month was at a dinner meeting of the AFL teamsters union where admission was by ticket only. Other talks he has made have been delivered by radio from the White House.

Bad Weather May Hamper Grid Tilts

By TED MEIER

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Inclement weather may hamper today's curtailed college football program, although rabid fans are expected to turn out as usual.

In one of the top three games of the afternoon the country's No. 1 eleven, Notre Dame, runs against a Wisconsin team at South Bend, Ind., that may spoil the Irish's dream of an undefeated, untied campaign.

At Columbus, Ohio, a crowd of some 60,000 is expected to disregard the elements to watch Ohio State's Buckeyes tangle with Paul Brown's Great Lakes aggregation.

The third headline game of the day is at Atlanta, Ga., where Navy's No. 9 eleven bumps into Georgia Tech's No. 8 outfit.

Army's unbeaten and untied team, ranked No. 2 in the latest Associated Press poll, meets the U. S. Coast Guard academy at West Point in the leading eastern fray. The Colgate-Penn State and Cornell-Sampson Naval engagements also are of interest in the east.

Pacific coast rainfall ranges from 100 inches a year in northern Washington to two inches in the California desert.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Ben Franklin must have been thinking of today's motoring when he said that the way to be safe is never to be secure.

Explains A Skip

Faltering of the engine when trying to pick up speed after a slow-down invariably hints of spark plug trouble, and in nine cases out of ten the plugs are found to have too much gap between their points. This comes about in two rather natural ways and so gradually that even the most seasoned motorists are apt to overlook them. First, there is the normal wear on points, a condition that increases the gap between them. Then there is the abnormal wear due to the plugs being of the wrong heat type. If plugs are not short enough, and the engine is inclined to run hot, the electrodes will eat away more rapidly. All this adds up to the sort of motor hesitation which, on first thought, usually suggests a fuel or a more serious ignition condition.

One Way To Save

Here is a simple little trick that will save gasoline when you are getting started in cold weather:

Instead of gunning the engine on the theory that this helps warm it up by improving the mixture just let the engine run at what is called "fast idle" (idling just above the normal). When you open the throttle wide you lower intake manifold suction and thus rob the engine of its best means of vaporizing the fuel. Suction is greatest when the throttle is closed to the idling point, and it is at this speed that you get not only maximum efficiency with cold fuel but the best mileage.

One They Overlook

It is a strange but true fact that when they search for possible causes of engine overheating most people forget about the by-pass valve in the cooling system. This is the valve that opens when the motor thermostat is closed and which should close when the thermostat opens to allow water to make the normal circuit through the radiator. This by-pass valve is a spring loaded affair. It opens when pressure within the system is high as when the water can't go through to the radiator.

Should this valve stick closed of course the engine will quickly heat up, force the motor thermostat to open and permit water to spill out the overflow because of the steam pressure behind it. On the other hand if it remains open a certain amount of water will keep circulating around the block instead of going through to the radiator to be cooled. In either case overheating is the result.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"I wish more of my customers would look on repair work as prevention of bigger trouble rather than just as something to correct what has already happened. Any service job on the car pays an extra dividend that may be unnoticed because it's always hard to appreciate what troubles you are being spared.

"I just replaced a badly neglected hydraulic shock absorber, and I know the owner is going to be pleased with the increased riding comfort from his car. What he probably won't realize is that this repair job is going to prevent breakage of one of the rear springs. In another case where I replaced a front shock the extra dividend is freedom from a lot of shimmy and tire wear which would follow loss of front-end control."

Pointer On Starting

Doubtless you have heard that unless cranking speed is up to par no engine will start properly, but did you ever stop to realize that this may not be due to use of an undersized generator or to the engine oil being too heavy but to the starter-motor being handicapped by dirt or grease on its commutator? Under such conditions it can't get up to normal cranking speed. The commutator itself never should be lubricated.

Many cars today "ping" almost as badly when accelerated in second gear as in high. This is due to the fact that modern second gear is designed as a high speed gear for hill work and for traffic. It might be called a "low" high rather than an intermediate gear.

The fact that hydraulic brakes hold well down to the last shred of brake lining is a questionable virtue since this invariably results in scoring the brake drums. Solution is to inspect brake lining more often.

Brake drums are most likely to be abused, and warped, following a re-lining. The driver is then tempted to use the increased braking power of the new lining at low speeds when maximum braking isn't needed.

Back For Revision

It still is a good idea to overinflate the tires for a short run following a lubrication of the chassis to decide whether or not the work was properly done. The effect of this, of course, is to reduce the tire's cushioning effect and to place all the shock absorption load on the springs, shackles and shock absorbers. If you hear some new squeaks or evidences that the cushioning effect is poor, you will be wise to go back to the grease lift for a little more attention to the chassis.

The Motor Primer

In spite of the fact that gasoline is hot stuff it has to be warmed up before it is much good for powering your car. Not only is it brought up to nearly the vaporizing point en route from the pump to the carburetor but as it travels in vapor form through the intake manifold it is treated to further warming by means of what are known as "hot spots." These are points in the manifold where heat from the adjoining exhaust manifold helps play its part in the process. Some engines have what are called "stoves" to help preheat the mixture. There is, of course, thermostat control of the stoves or the manifold heater so that as the engine warms up and the need for preheating lessens it can be checked. These controls are difficult to keep in condition because of the habit of their valve shaft to stick. It explains much difficulty with cold engines or incorrect mixture when the engine is hot, depending on which way the valve sticks.

How To Prove It

If you think the gas mixture is too lean and that the excessive plunging of the motor is a direct cause of it you can use another simple observation to prove your point. Note if the engine pings as badly when the engine is cool, but not cold. During the first mile of operation the choke valve will be partly closed and the mixture then quite rich. Run awhile, then lift the hood to see if the choke valve is fully open, then check for ping. If this pinging doesn't become sharp until the engine is warm or hot then the mixture certainly hasn't been too lean.

Keep It For Reference

In the old days when leaks in the gasoline tank were more common it was not unusual to see a motorist whip out a bar of soap and plug the leak temporarily with the aid of this homely substance. So better take along some soap in the event that you have to cope with the pitiful sight of your precious fuel leaking out on the road.

What's On Your Mind?

Q The engine of my car doesn't operate very well in spite of checking ignition timing and gas mixture. Do you think the valves need retiming? G. L. S.

A It isn't necessary to retime valves unless the gears are being replaced, the engine has been disassembled or the timing chain has jumped. The rough going of this motor may be due to wide variation in compression between the different cylinders.

Q What happens to unburned gasoline vapor that gets into the cylinders? Wm. K. L.

A It may pass into the exhaust, turn to carbon and gum deposits in the cylinders or run down past the pistons into the crankcase.

Q There is a persistent miss in the engine of my car. This has been going on for six months. A valve job has not helped, nor all new spark plugs, nor a new carburetor. I am about to replace the distributor although nothing seems to be wrong with the present one. L. L. W.

A I would check for a cracked intake manifold that leaks out the mixture by letting extra air suck in.

Q Ever since adjusting the fan belt on my car there has developed a leak at the water pump. This is letting anti-freeze escape and may give me a lot of trouble in cold weather. What is your opinion of this? F. G.

A The fan belt on your job operates the water pump as well as the generator. Evidently you have adjusted the belt so tight that it pulls the water pump impeller shaft out of alignment. This causes wear on the pump bearings, and leakage.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

White Run

White Run.—Mr. and Mrs. Noy Lightner, of Landsburg, visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher.

Miss Betty Crouse, Miss Chesson and Miss Hillman, cadet nurses, from the Church Home and Hospital, Baltimore, spent a short time Sunday at the home of Miss Crouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Westfall and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Miller and son, Freddie, and daughter, Sophia, Mechanicsburg, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Edward Hartman, merchant seaman, New York, spent the last week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hartman, Baltimore road.

Corporal C. W. Crouse, of Lovefield, Texas, spent the last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hogentogler, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leister, of Hazleton, spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ada Leister.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg.—The Women's club recently held an "Afternoon of Games" at the Firemen's hall. The high score in 500 was made by Mrs. H. Neighbors, the second highest by Mrs. John Wagerman. Mrs. Frank Rowe scored the highest in the bingo games. Mrs. John Hollinger drew the door prize. A luncheon was provided by the individual members. The guests were Mrs. Helen Brown, Mrs. Frank Stoner, Mrs. James Arnold, Mrs. Charles Keepers, Mrs. Harry Hull, Mrs. E. C. Sperry, Mrs. Mary Kellam, Mrs. Elmore Humerick, Mrs. Agnes Garner, Mrs. H. Neighbor, Molly Reynolds, Mrs. James Kelly, Sara Rhodes. The members attending were: Mrs. Ralph Sperry, Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Daugherty, Mrs. George Eyster, Mrs. Ora Wagerman, Mrs. Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. George Paxson, Mrs. John Zacharias, Mrs. Richard Zacharias, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Frank Rowe, Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. Charles Landers, Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Mrs. Joseph Hoke, Mrs. Charles Harner, Mrs.

Carrie Hartzell, Mrs. Albert Leary, Mrs. Thornton Rodgers and the Misses Louise Sebold and Ann Codori.

Patty Jean Bower recently was given a party by her mother, Mrs. Fred Bower, 123 East Main street, in celebration of her third birthday. Games were played, and refreshments served to 14 children. The guests included: Mike Humerick, Micky and Beekie Chrismer, Toney Elliott, Sue Daugherty, Margaret Neighbors, Terry Fleagle, Thurmont, Mary Hoffman, Thurmont, Julia Ash, Mary Ann Flowers, Freddie Kugler, Butch Paxson, Tommy Willhide and Pinny Gingle.

Mrs. John Ditch of Ellicott City, spent the week-end as house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillelan, 321 East Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bollinger, 123 East Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. "Rock" Eyster, of Philadelphia, recently spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillelan, 321 East Main street.

The first subway, one block long, was built in New York in the 1860's and the fare was 25 cents.

The longest railroad bridge in the world is the 12-mile trestle over the Great Salt Lake, Utah.

Nevada has the smallest population of any state in the union.

SPECIALS on Winter Needs

For Your Automobile or Truck

ANTI-FREEZE
HOT WATER HEATER
DEFROSTER FANS
(Pre-War)
GENERAL BATTERIES
AUTO CHAINS
OIL-CHANGE
LUBRICATION

Don't Wait,
Remember
Last
Year

GENERAL First Line Tires and Tubes

REEL

General
Tire Service

If you don't have a certificate for a new tire we'll recap the
old ones.

We are pledged to help
make your car last longer.

250 Buford Ave. Phone 224-Z
Gettysburg, Pa.

DO NOT SELL YOUR CAR UNTIL YOU SEE US!

Write Us — Phone Us — or Drive It In

NO WAITING — SPOT CASH IMMEDIATELY

No bother or delay — We arrange for and aid you in obtaining and completing all necessary forms. No worries—We'll thoroughly check your car and pay you the highest possible legitimate price, depending upon its condition.

No regrets—You'll be performing a worthy, patriotic duty by furnishing transportation, now seriously needed for workers in the war effort.

FIRST CHOOSE YOUR DEALER, THEN YOUR CAR

K U H N

AUTO SALES & SERVICE

Authorized Pontiac Dealer

765 Carlisle St.

875 Broadway

Phone 6145

Phone 2-3159

HANOVER, PA.

Winterize and Get Your

Auto Supplies

Tires Tubes Floor Mats
Anti-Freeze Pre-War Heaters
Batteries—Fog Lights and Tire Pumps
Bicycle Tires Defrosters
Outside Mirrors Chains
PROMPT SERVICE ON RECAPS

BLUE RIDGE SERVICE STATION

J. P. Powell, Mgr.
COMPLETE ONE STOP STATION
Expert Lubrication, Washing and Polishing, Cars Called For and Delivered
COR. 5th & YORK STS. Phone 88-W GETTYSBURG, PA.

WE HAVE YOUR TIRES IN STOCK In All the Popular Sizes

LEE GOODYEAR DUNLOP
If you have been granted a certificate authorizing you to purchase new tires we can supply them at once from our stock in these popular sizes.

600x16 450x21 550x18
650x16 475x19 550x17
700x16

COMMERCIAL LIGHT TRUCK
600x16 650x16

If You Need Inner Tubes We Can Also Supply Them in All Popular Sizes

KEMPER'S SERVICE STATION
GETTYSBURG R. D. 4 HEIDELSBURG
Phone York Springs 75-R-13

Get your CAR ready for The Cold Winter Months Ahead

INSPECTION
Starts November 1

You must have it done early if you expect to drive your car or truck. Parts are very hard to get and the longer you wait, the worse it will get. The garage man is busier today than ever in the history of automobiles and you help him as well as yourself if you will come in early instead of waiting until the end of the season.

BETTER CHECK YOUR TIRES!

If they happen to be badly worn, your car will not pass and you will be without a sticker.

PHIEL'S GARAGE

438 YORK ST.

PHONE 369

GETTYSBURG, PA.

Winterize Early This Year!

HAVE THIS DONE NOW

- ★ Flush radiator
- ★ Clean cooling system
- ★ Replace with anti-freeze
- ★ Tighten hose connections
- ★ Check heater
- ★ Tighten fan belt
- ★ Check generator
- ★ Check battery
- ★ Change to lighter oil
- ★ Check rear end
- ★ Check transmission
- ★ High pressure lubrication

MY TRUCK DELIVERS TO YOUR FARM

SINCLAIR GASOLINE
KEROSENE LUBRICANTS

JOHN C. HARTMAN
Agent

SINCLAIR REFINING CO.
Office, Rear North Washington St.
GETTYSBURG, PA.

Open Daily
Phones: Office 86-W; Res. 937-R-5

QUESTION:
HOW GOOD ARE SYNTHETIC
B.F. Goodrich
SILVERTOWNS?

SATISFIED USERS SAY:
"AS GOOD AS
PRE-WAR
TIRES!"

Drive in today! If our inspection shows you can qualify for new tires, we'll handle your certificate application with the ration board. When it's granted, we'll equip your car with these proven all-synthetic B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns—the only synthetic tires backed by three years' extra synthetic tire experience.

$16.05 plus tax
8.00-16 size
EASY TERMS

Tire Information Headquarters
Truck and Tractor Tires and Tubes
Large Stock

Citizens Oil Co.
DISTRIBUTORS

46 York Street Phone 264
GETTYSBURG, PA.

And All Adams County Goodrich Dealers

How's your car holding out? PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE WILL HELP

For the duration, we are specializing in preventive maintenance service — not only the most kind of repairs and replacements, but service designed to prolong the life of your car.

If your car is ailing — in even minor ways — bring it to us. We can put it in good running condition — and can help you keep it that way.

Warren Chevrolet Sales

C. J. Fisher, Serv. Mgr.

YORK STREET

GETTYSBURG, PA.

S. C. FINKBONER'S
Complete Service

- Anti-freeze
- Lubrication
- Crankcase Service
- Washing
- Polishing

DON'T DELAY — DO IT TODAY

EAST END GULF SERVICE

YORK STREET

GETTYSBURG, PA.

S. C. FINKBONER, Prop.

FDR LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN INTO NEW YORK CITY

By HOWARD FLIEGER
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt personally carried the fourth term bid into vote-laden New York City today, casting aside the military secrecy that has shrouded his travels during the war to resume the role of a political campaigner.

On his crowded schedule were an appearance at an Ebbets field Democratic rally, visits to four of the city's boroughs and a major address before the foreign policy association in the Waldorf Astoria hotel at 9:30 p. m. (EWT, NBC and Blue).

It was Mr. Roosevelt's first public appearance outside Washington since the campaign reached the intensive stage, and it presaged other political trips for the chief executive.

Other Appearances

Already scheduled are speeches in Philadelphia next Friday and in Boston probably the night of November 4. Chicago and Cleveland are other likely appearance spots.

Thirty seven reporters, photographers and radio men accompanied the President from Washington, the first time they have boarded a presidential train since Pearl Harbor. On other war-time trips he either has been accompanied by correspondents or has taken with him only the White House reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service.

Also in the President's party were Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Presidential Secretaries Stephen Early and William D. Hassett, Robert Sherwood, the writer who recently left the office of war information to join the White House staff, and Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, the President's physician. Mrs. Roosevelt joined the party shortly before the President began his tour of the city.

No Censorship

Early said Mr. Roosevelt had no intention of concealing himself today behind voluntary censorship.

His appearance at Ebbets field will mark the first time in the campaign that the President has turned up at a political rally, although he will repeat next Friday at Philadelphia's Shibe park. His opening campaign speech in Washington last month was at a dinner meeting of the AFL teamsters union where admission was by ticket only. Other talks he has made have been delivered by radio from the White House.

Bad Weather May Hamper Grid Tilts

By TED MEIER
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Inclement weather may hamper today's curtailed college football program, although rabid fans are expected to turn out as usual.

In one of the top three games of the afternoon the country's No. 1 eleven, Notre Dame, runs against a Wisconsin team at South Bend, Ind., that may spoil the Irish's dream of an undefeated, untied campaign.

At Columbus, Ohio, a crowd of some 60,000 is expected to disregard the elements to watch Ohio State's Buckeyes tangle with Paul Brown's Great Lakes aggregation.

The third headline game of the day is at Atlanta, Ga., where Navy's No. 9 eleven bumps into Georgia Tech's No. 8 outfit.

Army's unbeaten and untied team, ranked No. 2 in the latest Associated Press poll, meets the U. S. Coast Guard academy at West Point in the leading eastern fray. The Colgate-Penn State and Cornell-Sampson Naval engagements also are of interest in the east.

Pacific coast rainfall ranges from 100 inches a year in northern Washington to two inches in the California desert.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Ben Franklin must have been thinking of today's motoring when he said that the way to be safe is never to be secure.

Explains A Skip

Faltering of the engine when trying to pick up speed after a slow-down invariably hints of spark plug trouble, and in nine cases out of ten the plugs are found to have too much gap between their points. This comes about in two rather natural ways and so gradually that even the most seasoned motorists are apt to overlook them. First, there is the normal wear on points, a condition that increases the gap between them. Then there is the abnormal wear due to the plugs being of the wrong heat type. If plugs are not short enough, and the engine is inclined to run hot, the electrodes will eat away more rapidly. All this adds up to the sort of motor hesitation which, on first thought, usually suggests a fuel or a more serious ignition condition.

One Way To Save

Here is a simple little trick that will save gasoline when you are getting started in cold weather:

Instead of gunning the engine on the theory that this helps warm it up by improving the mixture just let the engine run at what is called "fast idle" (idling just above the normal). When you open the throttle valve you lower intake manifold suction and thus rob the engine of its best means of vaporizing the fuel. Suction is greatest when the throttle is closed to the idling point, and it is at this speed that you get not only maximum efficiency with cold fuel but the best mileage.

One They Overlook

It is a strange but true fact that when they search for possible causes of engine overheating most people forget about the by-pass valve in the cooling system. This is the valve that opens when the motor thermostat is closed and which should close when the thermostat opens to allow water to make the normal circuit through the radiator. This by-pass valve is a spring loaded affair. It opens when pressure within the system is high as when the water can't go through to the radiator.

Should this valve stick closed of course the engine will quickly heat up, force the motor thermostat to open and permit water to spill out the overflow because of the steam pressure behind it. On the other hand if it remains open a certain amount of water will keep circulating around the block instead of going through to the radiator to be cooled. In either case overheating is the result.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"I wish more of my customers would look on repair work as prevention of bigger trouble rather than just as something to correct what has already happened. Any service job on the car pays an extra dividend that may be unnoticed because it's always hard to appreciate what troubles you are being spared."

"I just replaced a badly neglected hydraulic shock absorber, and I know the owner is going to be pleased with the increased riding comfort from his car. What he probably won't realize is that this repair job is going to prevent breakage of one of the rear springs. In another case where I replaced a front shock the extra dividend is freedom from a lot of shimmy and tire wear which would follow loss of front-end control."

Pointer On Starting

Doubtless you have heard that unless cranking speed is up to par no engine will start properly, but did you ever stop to realize that this may not be due to use of an undersized generator or to the engine oil being too heavy but to the starter-motor being handicapped by dirt or grease on its commutator? Under such conditions it can't get up to normal cranking speed. The commutator itself never should be lubricated.

Many cars today "ping" almost as badly when accelerated in second gear as in high. This is due to the fact that modern second gear is designed as a high speed gear for hill work and for traffic. It might be called a "low" high rather than an intermediate gear.

The fact that hydraulic brakes hold well down to the last shred of brake lining is a questionable virtue since this invariably results in scaring the brake drums. Solution is to inspect brake lining more often.

Brake drums are most likely to be abused, and warped, following a retuning. The driver is then tempted to use the increased braking power of the new lining at low speeds when maximum braking isn't needed.

Back For Revision

It still is a good idea to overinflate the tires for a short run following a lubrication of the chassis to decide whether or not the work was properly done. The effect of this, of course, is to reduce the tire's cushioning effect and to place all the shock absorption load on the springs, shackles and shock absorbers. If you hear some new squeaks or evidences that the cushioning effect is poor, you will be wise to go back to the grease lift for a little more attention to the chassis.

The Motor Primer

In spite of the fact that gasoline is hot stuff it has to be warmed up before it is much good for powering your car. Not only is it brought up to nearly the vaporizing point en route from the pump to the carburetor but as it travels in vapor form through the intake manifold it is treated to further warming by means of what are known as "hot spots." These are points in the manifold where heat from the adjoining exhaust manifold helps play its part in the process. Some engines have what are called "stoves" to help preheat the mixture. There is, of course, thermostat control of the stoves or the manifold heater so that as the engine warms up and the need for preheating lessens it can be checked. These controls are difficult to keep in condition because of the habit of their valve shaft to stick. It explains much difficulty with cold engines or incorrect mixture when the engine is hot, depending on which way the valve sticks.

How To Prove It

If you think the gas mixture is too lean and that the excessive pinging of the motor is a direct cause of it you can use another simple observation to prove your point. Note if the engine pings as badly when the engine is cool, but

"It Won't Be Long Now"

- Mild Days
- Sudden Cold Snaps
- Variable Temperatures

... all of these demand Automobile attention at once.

It All Means That You Should Winterize Now

- Anti-freeze
- Lighter Oils
- Lubrication
- Tune-up

IF YOU NEED IT, WE HAVE

- Batteries
- Heaters
- Chains
- Heater Hose
- Radiator Hose

Topper's

Atlantic Service

East Line Ave. & Hbg. Road
Gettysburg Phone 663-X

not cold. During the first mile of operation the choke valve will be partly closed and the mixture then quite rich. Run awhile, then lift the hood to see if the choke valve is fully open, then check for ping. If this pinging doesn't become sharp until the engine is warm or hot then the mixture certainly hasn't been too lean.

Keep It For Reference

In the old days when leaks in the gasoline tank were more common it was not unusual to see a motorist whip out a bar of soap and plug the leak temporarily with the aid of this homely substance. So better take along some soap in the event that you have to cope with the pitiful sight of your precious fuel leaking out on the road.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. The engine of my car doesn't operate very well in spite of checking ignition timing and gas mixture. Do you think the valves need retiming? G. L. S.

A. It isn't necessary to retune valves unless the gears are being replaced, the engine has been disassembled or the timing chain has jumped. The rough going of this motor may be due to wide variation in compression between the different cylinders.

Q. What happens to unburned gasoline vapor that gets into the cylinders? Wm. K. L.

A. It may pass into the exhaust, turn to carbon and gum deposits in the cylinders or run down past the pistons into the crankcase.

Q. There is a persistent miss in the engine of my car. This has been going on for six months. A valve job has not helped, nor all new spark plugs, nor a new carburetor. I am about to replace the distributor although nothing seems to be wrong with the present one. L. L. W.

A. I would check for a cracked intake manifold that leaks out the mixture by letting extra air suck in.

Q. Ever since adjusting the fan belt on my car there has developed a leak at the water pump. This is letting anti-freeze escape and may give me a lot of trouble in cold weather. What is your opinion of this? F. G.

A. The fan belt on your job operates the water pump as well as the generator. Evidently you have adjusted the belt so tight that it pulls the water pump impeller shaft out of alignment. This causes wear on the pump bearings, and leakage. Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

White Run

White Run.—Mr. and Mrs. Noy Lightner, of Landisburg, visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher.

Miss Betty Crouse, Miss Chesson and Miss Hillman, cadet nurses, from the Church Home and Hospital, Baltimore, spent a short time Sunday at the home of Miss Crouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Westfall and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Miller and son, Freddie, and daughter, Sophia, Mechanicsburg, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Edward Hartman, merchant seaman, New York, spent the last week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hartman, Baltimore road.

Corporal C. W. Crouse, of Lovefield, Texas, spent the last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Crouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hogenogler, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leister, of Hazleton, spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ada Leister.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg.—The Women's club recently held an "Afternoon of Games" at the Firemen's hall. The high score in 500 was made by Mrs. H. Neighbors, the second highest by Mrs. John Wagerman. Mrs. Frank Rowe scored the highest in the bingo games. Mrs. John Hollinger drew the door prize. A luncheon was provided by the individual members. The guests were Mrs. Helen Brown, Mrs. Frank Stoner, Mrs. James Arnold, Mrs. Charles Keepers, Mrs. Harry Hull, Mrs. E. C. Sperry, Mrs. Mary Kellam, Mrs. Elmore Humerick, Mrs. Agnes Garner, Mrs. H. Neighbor, Molly Reynolds, Mrs. James Kelly, Sara Rhodes. The members attending were: Mrs. Ralph Sperry, Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Daugherty, Mrs. George Eyster, Mrs. Ora Wagerman, Mrs. John Wagerman, Mrs. Lewis Higbee, Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. George Paxson, Mrs. John Zacharias, Mrs. Richard Zacharias, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Frank Rowe, Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. Charles Landers, Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Mrs. Joseph Hoke, Mrs. Charles Harner, Mrs.

TIRE HEADQUARTERS

War transportation problems cheerfully answered—Ration forms available.

RECAPPING

High Pressure
Greasing
Washing and Polishing

Oyler Tire Co.

103-111 Carlisle Street
Gettysburg, Pa.

Get ready for

COLD WEATHER

Anti-Freeze — Zerone — Thermo Royal
Thermostats — Defroster Fans
Hot Water Heaters — Batteries
Chains — Champion Spark Plugs
Heater and Radiator Hose
Battery Charging "While You Wait"

Phone
665-X
or
449-X

Auto and Truck
Repair Service in Charge of
Mr. Arthur Keefe
Foreman of Our
Mechanical
Department

USED CARS

'35 Chev. Coach '36 Chev. 4 D.
'36 Ford 2 D. '32 Pontiac 4 D.
'32 Ford BB Cp. '33 Plymouth Cp.
'33 Ford 2 D., Excellent Motor.

HANKEY and PLANK

York Street Extended Roy Hankey—Ira Plank

How's your car holding out?

PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE WILL HELP

For the duration, we are specializing in preventive maintenance service — not only the must kind of repairs and replacements, but service designed to prolong the life of your car.

If your car is ailing — in even minor ways — bring it to us. We can put it in good running condition — and can help you keep it that way.

Warren Chevrolet Sales

C. J. Fisher, Serv. Mgr.

YORK STREET GETTYSBURG, PA.

S. C. FINKBONER'S Complete Service

- Anti-freeze
- Lubrication
- Crankcase Service
- Washing
- Polishing

DON'T DELAY — DO IT TODAY

EAST END GULF SERVICE

YORK STREET GETTYSBURG, PA.
S. C. FINKBONER, Prop.

Carrie Hartzell, Mrs. Albert Leary, Mrs. Thornton Rodgers and the Misses Louise Sebald and Ann Cadori.

Patty Jean Bower recently was given a party by her mother, Mrs. Fred Bower, 123 East Main street, in celebration of her third birthday. Games were played, and refreshments served to 14 children. The guests included: Mike Humerick, Micky and Beckie Chrismer, Toney Elliott, Sue Daugherty, Margaret Neighbors, Terry Fleagle, Thurmont, Mary Hoffman, Thurmont, Julia Ash, Mary Ann Flowers, Freddie Kugler, Butch Paxson, Tommy Willhide and Pinny Gingle. Mrs. John Ditch of Ellicott City, spent the week-end as house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillelan, 321 East Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bollinger, 123 East Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. "Rock" Eyster, of Philadelphia, recently spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillelan, 321 East Main street.

The first subway, one block long, was built in New York in the 1860's and the fare was 25 cents.

The longest railroad bridge in the world is the 12-mile trestle over the Great Salt Lake, Utah.

Nevada has the smallest population of any state in the union.

SPECIALS on Winter Needs

For Your Automobile or Truck

ANTI-FREEZE
HOT WATER HEATER'S
DEFROSTER FANS
(Pre-War)
GENERAL BATTERIES
AUTO CHAINS
OIL-CHANGE
LUBRICATION

Don't Wait,
Remember
Last
Year

GENERAL First Line Tires and Tubes

REEL

General Tire Service

250 Buford Ave. Phone 224-Z
Gettysburg, Pa.

If you don't have a certificate for a new tire we'll recap the old ones.

We are pledged to help make your car last longer.

DO NOT SELL YOUR CAR UNTIL YOU SEE US!

Write Us — Phone Us — or Drive It In

NO WAITING — SPOT CASH IMMEDIATELY

No bother or delay — We arrange for and aid you in obtaining and completing all necessary forms. No worries—We'll thoroughly check your car and pay you the highest possible legitimate price, depending upon its condition.

No regrets—You'll be performing a worthy, patriotic duty by furnishing transportation, now seriously needed for workers in the war effort.

FIRST CHOOSE YOUR DEALER, THEN YOUR CAR

K U H N

AUTO SALES & SERVICE

Authorized Pontiac Dealer

765 Carlisle St.
875 Broadway

Phone 6145
Phone 2-3159

HANOVER, PA.

Winterize and Get Your

Auto Supplies

Tires Tubes Floor Mats
Anti-Freeze Pre-War Heaters
Batteries—Fog Lights and Tire Pumps
Bicycle Tires Defrosters
Outside Mirrors Chains

PROMPT SERVICE ON RECAPS
BLUE RIDGE SERVICE STATION

J. F. Powell, Mgr.
COMPLETE ONE STOP STATION
Expert Lubrication, Washing and Polishing, Cars Called For and Delivered
COR. 5th & YORK STS. Phone 88-W GETTYSBURG, PA.

WE HAVE YOUR TIRES IN STOCK In All the Popular Sizes

LEE GOODYEAR DUNLOP
If you have been granted a certificate authorizing you to purchase new tires we can supply them at once from our stock in these popular sizes.

600x16 450x21 550x18
650x16 475x19 550x17
700x16
COMMERCIAL LIGHT TRUCK
600x16 650x16

If You Need Inner Tubes We Can Also Supply Them in All Popular Sizes

KEMPER'S SERVICE STATION
GETTYSBURG R. D. 4 HEIDELSBURG
Phone York Springs 75-R-13

Get your CAR ready for The Cold Winter Months Ahead

INSPECTION Starts November 1

You must have it done early if you expect to drive your car or truck. Parts are very hard to get and the longer you wait, the worse it will get. The garage man is busier today than ever in the history of automobiles and you help him as well as yourself if you will come in early instead of waiting until the end of the season.

BETTER CHECK YOUR TIRES!

If they happen to be badly worn, your car will not pass and you will be without a sticker.

PHIEL'S GARAGE

438 YORK ST. PHONE 369 GETTYSBURG, PA.

Winterize Early This Year!

HAVE THIS DONE NOW

- ★ Flush radiator
- ★ Clean cooling system
- ★ Replace with anti-freeze
- ★ Tighten hose connections
- ★ Check heater
- ★ Tighten fan belt
- ★ Check generator
- ★ Check battery
- ★ Change to lighter oil
- ★ Check rear end
- ★ Check transmission
- ★ High pressure lubrication

Tire Information Headquarters

Truck and Tractor Tires and Tubes Large Stock

Citizens Oil Co. DISTRIBUTORS

46 York Street Phone 264 GETTYSBURG, PA.

And All Adams County Goodrich Dealers

Hot Licks In Liege Arouse Jitterbugs Of Playboy City

By HAL BOYLE
Liege, Belgium, Oct. 14 (Delayed) (AP)—The Nazis controlled just about everything in Belgium and this "playboy" city on the Meuse river during their four years' stay in these parts—except Liege's jitterbugs.
How jitterbugging ever found its way into this country remains one of the mysteries of the war. Dancing was banned by the Nazis. No one was supposed to have a radio. Social life under Gestapo rule was pretty furtive and dangerous.
But right under Nazi noses the Liege lads and lasses developed into the jitteriest jitterbugs this side of Broadway. And that's why one plush little night spot, which looks just like many of its counterparts on 52nd street in New York was jumping last night.
It started out as a quiet evening. A dark-haired piano player listlessly accompanied a lean blond clarinetist while a bored drummer and a piccolo player occasionally made themselves heard.

Then Came The GIs
Then out of the night and into the din and glare stroled five GIs with tommyguns under one arm and musical instruments under the other. They walked over to the bandstand, the music trailed off into silence and the dancers stopped.
Sgt. Bruno Manni, of San Francisco, as fine a machinegunner as any platoon ever had, unlimbered his accordion. Sgt. Jim Hie of Ingelwood, Calif., who occasionally drives a tank blew a few sweet notes on the trumpet while Sgt. Robert Deacon of Indianapolis, a sometime cook, slid onto the piano bench and grinnid at the startled pianist.
Tech. Sgt. Charles Funk of Baltimore, gave the drums a few rolls like no platoon sergeant ever did before and Staff Sgt. Eddie Gaga of Passaic, N. J., cleared his throat to see if he was in voice.
And Pic. Louis Junod, Brooklyn, N. Y., a rifleman, sang a few casual harmony notes.

Youngsters Go Wild
The boys began beating out "Flat Foot Floogie" and on the postage stamp sized dance floor these Liege youngsters just went out of this world.
The Belgian clarinet player jumped back on the stand and began giving like Benny Goodman while the local jitterbugs went into a frenzy. After that number the boys slid into "Night and Day," "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," "Begin the Beguine," "After You're Gone" and all the old favorites, hot and sweet.
"It's like this," explained Junod during "Star Dust," "all us guys were wounded in battle and sent to a replacement depot. We sort of drifted together because we liked music and we'd have jam sessions now and then. The colonel liked it and had us put on a show."
"Well, it went over all right, I guess, because now they've got us on the road entertaining the boys and civilians. Today we played at the opera house. You shoulda seen those people. They went wild. They threw flowers and screamed and stomped just like at home, except they don't throw flowers at me back there. It was the first time they had heard swing music except on the radio in four years."

"That's All"
At the tables the people who had been bored a few minutes before now forgot to drink their champagne, cognac, and liqueurs. They kept time with their feet and everyone was latching and having a fine time. And before anyone realized it was 2 a. m. and GIs tooted "That's All."
Then the boys packed up their instruments, slung tommyguns over their shoulders and wandered back through the door into the night.

New Oxford

New Oxford. — Joseph Jacobson, Baltimore, is visiting local relatives.
Mrs. George E. Sheffer was hostess at her home Tuesday evening when the Always Faithful class of the First Lutheran church school held its regular meeting.
The annual reception of the Rosary society of St. Mary's Catholic church took place at the church

East Berlin

East Berlin. — The local high school chapter of the Future Farmers of America is planning a project of building a tractor from the remains of an old automobile. They are also planning their annual pest elimination contest.

William F. Hoover, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoover, spent a short furlough from his camp near Detroit, Mich., among local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney and Miss Bettie M. Tierney were among those present Sunday when Miss Bernardina Corrigan, McSherrystown, entertained at dinner in honor of her brother, J. Bartholomew Corrigan, who is visiting her from Malta, Mont.

The LeRoy Byers family have moved from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dewey Spangler, to the property vacated by her uncle, Cameron C. Spangler, and family, who have moved to the house they recently purchased from his cousin, the Rev. Jacob M. Spangler.

William S. Elgin, USA, has returned to Camp Meade, Md., after a furlough with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Elgin, and with York relatives and friends.

Recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard E. Shaffer were her sisters, the Misses Betty and Mary Jane Nace, Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Fleming, who have been visiting her sister in York, will return this week to their home on Route 2.

Mrs. J. Clermont Smith recently held a supper-party in honor of her son, Richard, whose seventh birthday will be observed this month. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McAllister and daughters, Ruth, Cora, Jean and Lois, and son, Roy, Menges Mills; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bubbs, Kraltown.

Merton R. Himes, USA, stationed at Columbus, Miss., has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Lottie Himes; his sister, Mrs. Walter Blettner, Hanover and other relatives and friends throughout this section. He formerly resided here.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney has received word that her sister, Miss Claire L. Kuhn, Brooklyn, N. Y., a frequent visitor here, has been confined to her room with a severely scalded ankle.

Fred E. Shetter, USA, who has been stationed in South Carolina, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter.

Miss Peggy Storm, York, spent the week-end with the Misses Grace and Mary Louise King, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph King.

Carl E. Winand, USA, stationed in Virginia, was a recent visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Winand, R. 2.

Mrs. Laura E. Rodkey, R. 2, who has been spending an indefinite time with her daughter, Mrs. John Rahn, and family, Sinsheim, visited her home here during the week, accompanied by Mrs. Rahn.

The George Mummert property, West King street, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harris G. Schlosser, is now the home of the Mearl Altland family, former tenants of the Samuel Zeigler property.

The Wayne Bishop family have moved from the former Reeser farm, R. 1, to near Dover.

Word has been received here of the recent birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wise, York. Both Mr. Wise and his wife, the former Miss Pauline Kitzmiller, are former residents of this section.

Pre-Lovefeast services are scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:45 at Latimore Meeting House, in charge of the Rev. I. H. N. Beahm, Nokesville, Va. The Rev. J. Monroe Danner, Church of the Brethren, is elder in charge.

MEET IN LONDON

Capt. Donald Lady and Capt. Harry L. Snyder met recently in London, according to a letter received by Mrs. Gilbert Crabill, Gettysburg R. D. Capt. Snyder is the first person from Adams county Capt. Lady has met since going overseas.

Sunday evening, in charge of the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor. Mrs. Beulah Millar entertained the local 500 club at her home Tuesday evening.

The local chapter, Sons of Union Veterans, conducted a benefit party at the armory Saturday evening.

Mrs. Charles Slaybaugh spent a part of the past week with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Smarkola, Philadelphia.

Cow Tester's Report

The Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement report for the month of September has been submitted by Miss Teresa Murren, tester. Sixteen herds were tested during the month. 407 cows were on test, of which 50 produced over 40 pounds of butterfat and 14 over 50 pounds. Fifty-seven cows produced over 1,000 pounds of milk and 24 cows over 1,200 pounds.

The ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month are:

Owner	Breed	Pounds Milk	% Fat	Lbs. Fat
Edgar W. Weaver	Mixed	1,248	4.6	57.4
Joseph A. Stoner	R H	1,224	4.5	55.4
Elmer H. Hikes	R H	1,138	5.7	65.6
Edgar W. Weaver	R H	1,149	4.6	52.8
G. Lawrence Hartman	R H	1,259	5.3	66.8
Edgar W. Weaver	Gr C	906	5.2	47.1
S. Irvin Hostetler	Mixed	879	5.9	51.8
Joseph A. Stoner	R G	1,065	5.1	54.4
Norman J. King	R A	1,214	4.9	59.5
Charles B. Spicer

The high herds for the month of September with their production averages are as follows:

Owner	Pounds Milk	Pounds Fat	No. Cows
Norman J. King, York Springs R. 1	704	33.1	13
G. Lawrence Hartman, Aspers R. 1	419	20.4	17
Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin R. 2	612	28.1	19
Charles B. Spicer, Gettysburg R. 4	527	28.0	28
Edgar W. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4	568	26.6	44
Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4	400	22.2	22
Edgar King, East Berlin R. 2	413	21.1	13
B. J. Griffe, York Springs R. 2	504	20.6	13

Other herds that had cows producing 50 or more pounds of butterfat per month were: Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville, William T. Starnes, Aspers R. 1, Edgar H. Leer, York Springs R. 2, F. M. Anderson, York Springs R. 1 and Edgar King, East Berlin R. 2.

They're Fighting for You!
THEY'RE THINKING OF YOU!

Are You Thinking Of Them?

Are You Giving For Them?

Your War Fund Gift Goes To Your Men In Uniform!

- to the USO
- to War Prisoners Aid
- to United Seamen's Service
- to American Field Service

THE MINIMUM GOAL FOR ADAMS COUNTY IS $29,959

Till the Boys Come Home — Let's Do Our Part!

WE CAN'T LET THEM DOWN NOW!

THIS PATRIOTIC MESSAGE CONTRIBUTED BY THE FOLLOWING GETTYSBURG BUSINESS FIRMS:

ACME MARKET
Center Square

HELEN - KAY SHOP
Chambersburg Street

GILBERT'S CLEANERS
21 Chambersburg Street

E. DONALD SCOTT
Rear 221 Baltimore Street

FLEET-WING SERVICE STATION
S. F. "Pappy" Swepe, Prop.
Carlisle Street

THE SHOE BOX
7 Chambersburg Street

TROSTLE'S APPLIANCE STORE
Chambersburg Street

THE COFFMAN - FISHER CO.
DEPARTMENT STORE
Center Square

CITY GARBAGE & REF. COLLECTOR
Plank L. Plank

FABER'S
Center Square

WENTZ'S
Serving You Since '22
121 Baltimore Street

SCHWARTZ FARM SUPPLY
100 Carlisle Street

HOME FURNISHING CO.
Furniture on the Square

THE DELECTO
Center Square

REEL GENERAL TIRE SERVICE
250 Buford Avenue

HENNIG'S BAKERY
York Street

GETTYSBURG AUTOPARTS CO.
30 York Street

Hot Licks In Liege Arouse Jitterbugs Of Playboy City

By HAL BOYLE

Liege, Belgium, Oct. 14 (Delayed) (AP)—The Nazis controlled just about everything in Belgium and this "playboy" city on the Meuse river during their four years' stay in these parts—except Liege's jitterbugs.

How jitterbugging ever found its way into this country remains one of the mysteries of the war. Dancing was banned by the Nazis. No one was supposed to have a radio. Social life under Gestapo rule was pretty furtive and dangerous.

But right under Nazi noses the Liege lads and lasses developed into the jitteriest jitterbugs this side of Broadway. And that's why one plush little night spot, which looks just like many of its counterparts on 52nd street in New York was jumping last night.

It started out as a quiet evening. A dark-haired piano player listlessly accompanied a lean blond clarinetist while a bored drummer and a piccolo player occasionally made themselves heard.

Then Came The GIs

Then out of the night and into the din and glare strolled five GIs with tommyguns under one arm and musical instruments under the other. They walked over to the bandstand, the music trailed off into silence and the dancers stopped.

Sgt. Bruno Manni, of San Francisco, as fine a machinesrunner as any platoon ever had, unlimbered his accordion. Sgt. Jim Iile of Ingelwood, Calif., who occasionally drives a tank blew a few sweet notes on the trumpet while Sgt. Robert Deacon of Indianapolis, a sometime cook, slid onto the piano bench and grinned at the startled pianist.

Tech. Sgt. Charles Funk of Baltimore, gave the drums a few rolls like no platoon sergeant ever did before and Staff Sgt. Eddie Gaga of Passaic, N. J., cleared his throat to see if he was in voice.

And Pic. Louis Junod, Brooklyn, N. Y., a rifleman, sang a few casual harmony notes.

Youngsters Go Wild

The boys began beating out "Flat Foot Floogie" and on the postage stamp sized dance floor these Liege youngsters just went out of this world.

The Belgian clarinet player jumped back on the stand and began giving like Benny Goodman while the local jitterbugs went into a frenzy. After that number the boys slid into "Night and Day," "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," "Begin the Beguine," "After You're Gone" and all the old favorites, hot and sweet.

"It's like this," explained Junod during "Star Dust," "all us guys were wounded in battle and sent to a replacement depot. We sort of drifted together because we liked music and we'd have jam sessions now and then. The colonel liked it and had us put on a show."

"Well, it went over all right, I guess, because now they've got us on the road entertaining the boys and civilians. Today we played at the opera house. You shoulda seen those people. They went wild. They threw flowers and screamed and stomped just like at home, except they don't throw flowers at me back there. It was the first time they had heard swing music except on the radio in four years."

"That's All"

At the tables the people who had been bored a few minutes before now forgot to drink their champagne, cognac, and liqueurs. They kept time with their feet and everyone was laughing and having a fine time. And before anyone realized it was 2 a. m. and GIs tooted "That's All."

Then the boys packed up their instruments, slung tommyguns over their shoulders and wandered back through the door into the night.

New Oxford

New Oxford. — Joseph Jacobsen, Baltimore, is visiting local relatives.

Mrs. George E. Sheffer was hostess at her home Tuesday evening when the Always Faithful class of the First Lutheran church school held its regular meeting.

The annual reception of the Rosary society of St. Mary's Catholic church took place at the church

East Berlin

East Berlin. — The local high school chapter of the Future Farmers of America is planning a project of building a tractor from the remains of an old automobile. They are also planning their annual pest elimination contest.

William F. Hoover, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoover, spent a short furlough from his camp near Detroit, Mich., among local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney and Miss Bettie M. Tierney were among those present Sunday when Miss Bernardina Corrigan, McSherrystown, entertained at dinner in honor of her brother, J. Bartholomew Corrigan, who is visiting her from Malta, Mont.

The LeRoy Byers family have moved from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dewey Spangler, to the property vacated by her uncle, Cameron C. Spangler, and family, who have moved to the house they recently purchased from his cousin, the Rev. Jacob M. Spangler.

William S. Elgin, USA, has returned to Camp Meade, Md., after a furlough with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Elgin, and with York relatives and friends.

Recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard E. Shaffer were her sisters, the Misses Betty and Mary Jane Nace, Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Fleming, who have been visiting her sister in York, will return this week to their home on Route 2.

Mrs. J. Clermont Smith recently held a supper-party in honor of her son, Richard, whose seventh birthday will be observed this month. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McAllister and daughters, Ruth, Cora, Jean and Lois, and son, Roy, Menges Mills; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bubb, Kralltown.

Merton R. Himes, USA, stationed at Columbus, Miss., has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Lottie Himes; his sister, Mrs. Walter Blettner, Hanover and other relatives and friends throughout this section. He formerly resided here.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney has received word that her sister, Miss Claire L. Kuhn, Brooklyn, N. Y., a frequent visitor here, has been confined to her room with a severely scalded ankle.

Fred E. Shetter, USA, who has been stationed in South Carolina, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter.

Miss Peggy Storm, York, spent the week-end with the Misses Grace and Mary Louise King, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph King.

Carl E. Winand, USA, stationed in Virginia, was a recent visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Winand, R. 2.

Mrs. Laura E. Rodkey, R. 2, who has been spending an indefinite time with her daughter, Mrs. John Rahn, and family, Sinsheim, visited her home here during the week, accompanied by Mrs. Rahn.

The George Mummert property, West King street, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harris G. Schlosser, is now the home of the Mearl Altland family, former tenants of the Samuel Zeigler property.

The Wayne Bishop family have moved from the former Reeser farm R. 1, to near Dover.

Word has been received here of the recent birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wise, York. Both Mr. Wise and his wife, the former Miss Pauline Kitzmiller, are former residents of this section.

Pre-Lovefest services are scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:45 at Latimore Meeting House, in charge of the Rev. I. H. N. Beahm, Nokesville, Va. The Rev. J. Monroe Danner, Church of the Brethren, is elder in charge.

MEET IN LONDON

Capt. Donald Lady and Capt. Harry L. Snyder met recently in London, according to a letter received by Mrs. Gilbert Crabill, Gettysburg R. D. Capt. Snyder is the first person from Adams county Capt. Lady has met since going overseas.

Sunday evening, in charge of the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor. Mrs. Beulah Millar entertained the local 500 club at her home Tuesday evening.

The local chapter, Sons of Union Veterans, conducted a benefit party at the armory Saturday evening.

Mrs. Charles Slaybaugh spent a part of the past week with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Smarkola, Philadelphia.

Cow Tester's Report

The Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement report for the month of September has been submitted by Miss Teresa Murren, tester. Sixteen herds were tested during the month. 407 cows were on test, of which 50 produced over 40 pounds of butterfat and 14 over 50 pounds. Fifty-seven cows produced over 1,000 pounds of milk and 24 cows over 1,200 pounds.

The ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month are:

Owner	Breed	Pounds Milk	% Fat	Lbs. Fat
Edgar W. Warner	R. H.	1,525	5.1	77.8
Joseph A. Stoner	Mixed	1,248	4.4	54.9
Elmer H. Hiles	R. H.	1,254	4.5	56.4
Edgar W. Warner	R. H.	1,149	5.7	65.6
G. Lawrence Hartman	R. H.	1,149	4.6	53.3
Edgar W. Warner	R. H.	1,159	5.3	61.5
A. Irvin Houtstetter	Co. G	996	5.2	51.8
Joseph A. Stoner	Mixed	979	5.9	57.8
Norman J. King	R. G.	1,065	5.1	54.4
Charles B. Spizer	R. A.	1,314	5.9	77.5

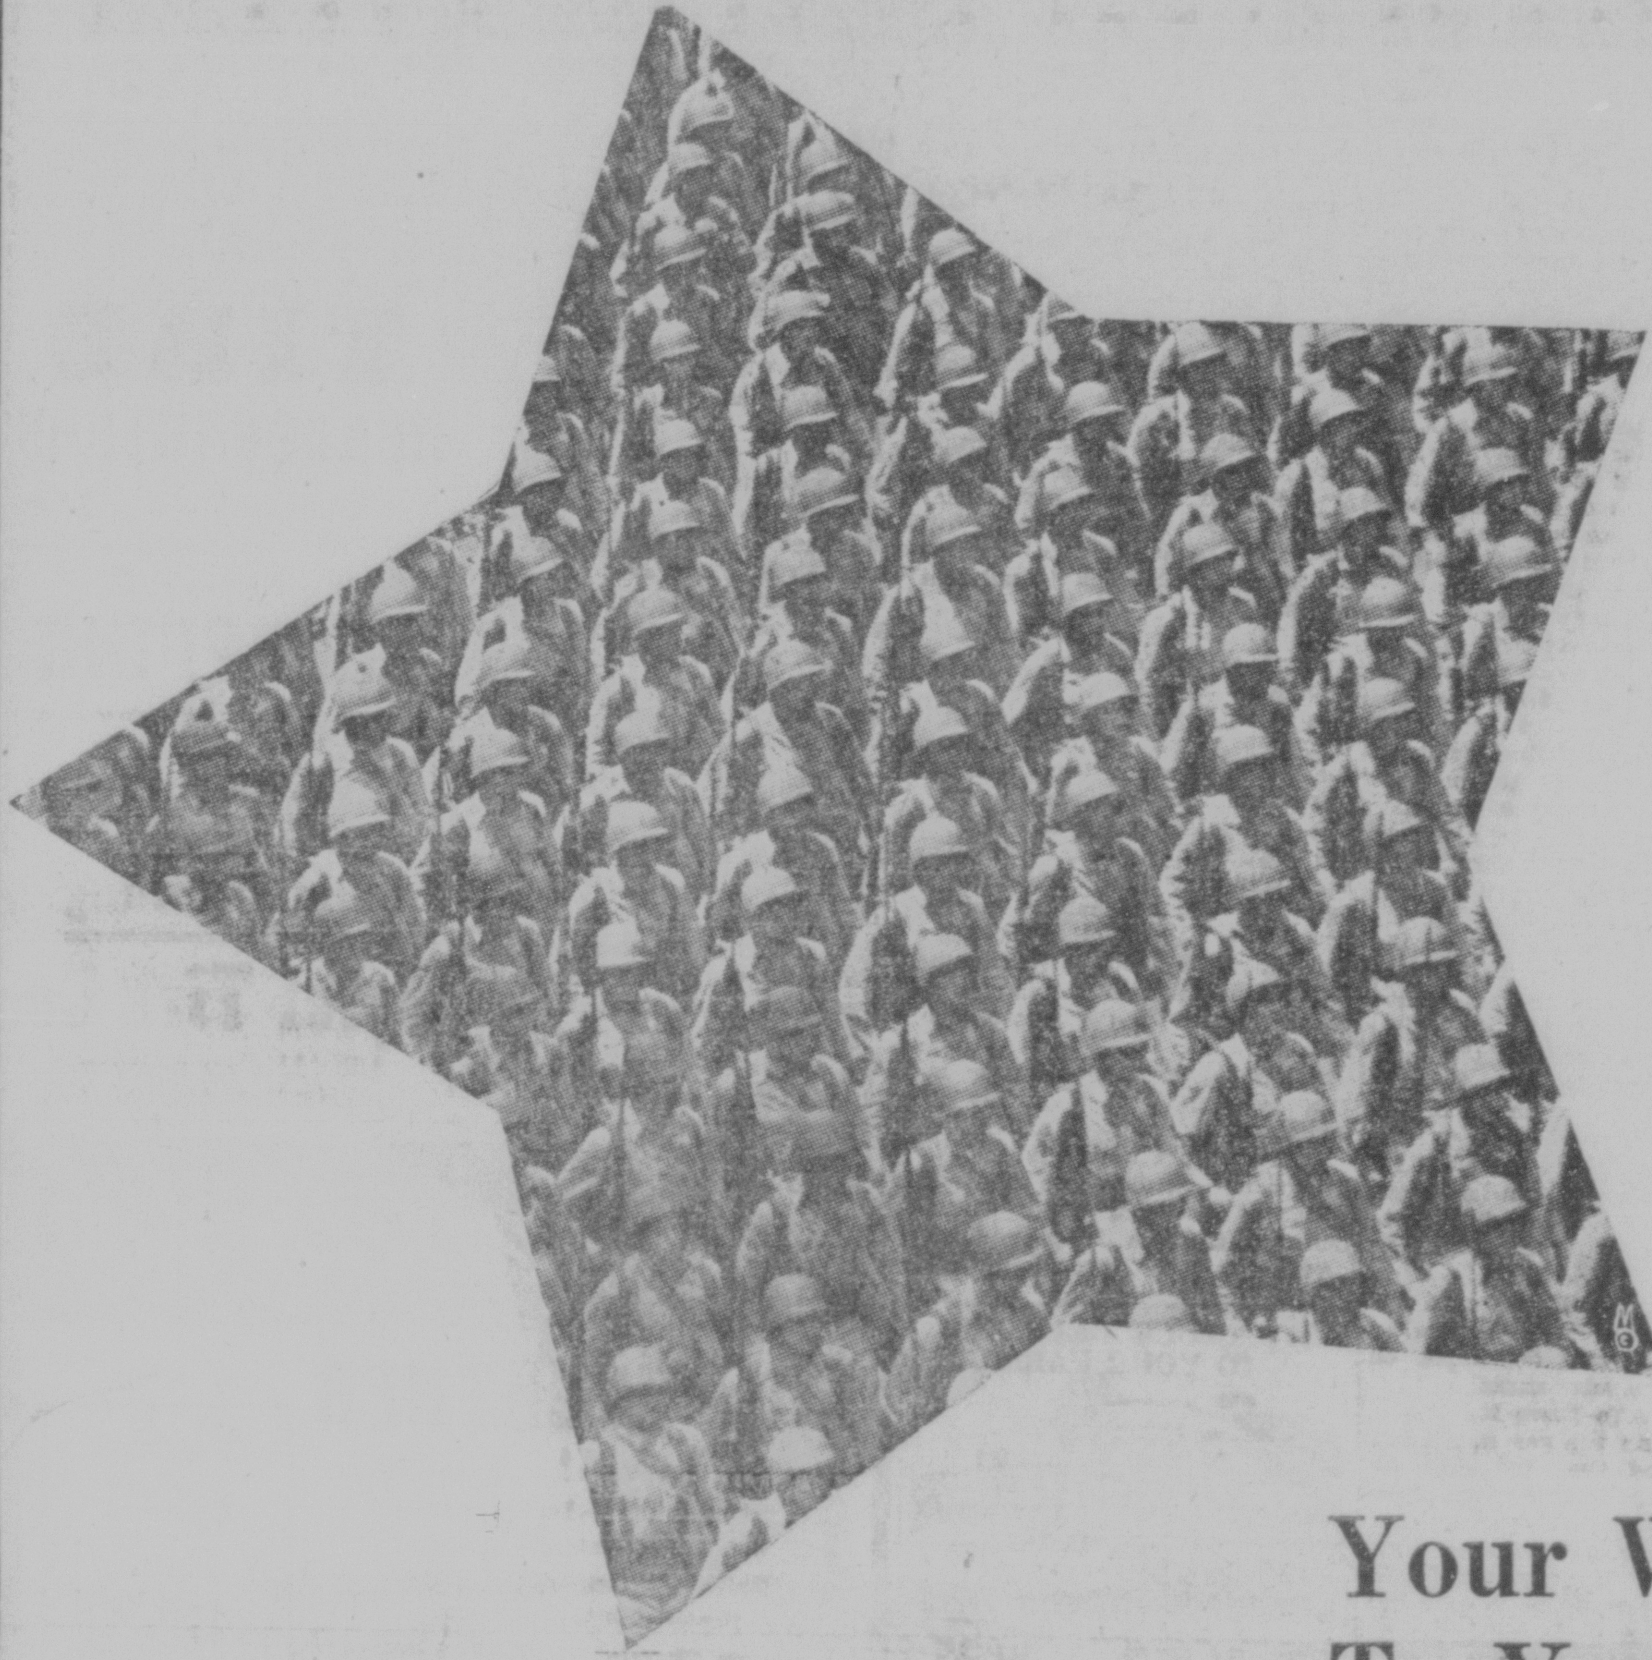

The high herds for the month of September with their production averages are as follows:

Owner	Pounds Milk	Pounds Fat	No. Cows
Norman J. King, York Springs R. 1	704	55.1	35
G. Lawrence Hartman, Aspers R. 1	810	59.4	37
Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin R. 2	812	59.1	39
Charles B. Spizer, Gettysburg R. 4	727	59.9	36
Edgar W. Warner, Gettysburg R. 4	748	58.6	44
Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4	750	62.0	32
Edgar King, East Berlin R. 2	413	27.1	12
B. J. Griffe, York Springs R. 2	504	26.8	18

Other herds that had cows producing 30 or more pounds of butterfat per month were: Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville, William T. Starner, Aspers R. 1, Edgar H. Leer, York Springs R. 2, F. M. Anderson, York Springs R. 1 and Edgar King, East Berlin R. 2.

They're Fighting for You!

THEY'RE THINKING OF YOU!

Are You
Thinking
Of Them?

Are You Giving
For Them?

Your War Fund Gift Goes To Your Men In Uniform!

- to the U S O
- to War Prisoners Aid
- to United Seamen's Service
- to American Field Service

THE MINIMUM GOAL FOR
ADAMS COUNTY IS $29,959

Till the Boys Come Home
— Let's Do Our Part!

WE CAN'T LET THEM DOWN NOW!

THIS PATRIOTIC MESSAGE CONTRIBUTED BY THE FOLLOWING GETTYSBURG BUSINESS FIRMS:

ACME MARKET
Center Square

HELEN - KAY SHOP
Chambersburg Street

GILBERT'S CLEANERS
24 Chambersburg Street

E. DONALD SCOTT
Rear 221 Baltimore Street

FLEET-WING SERVICE STATION
S. F. "Pappy" Swepe, Prop.
Carlisle Street

THE SHOE BOX
7 Chambersburg Street

TROSTLE'S APPLIANCE STORE
Chambersburg Street

THE COFFMAN - FISHER CO.
DEPARTMENT STORE
Center Square

CITY GARBAGE & REF. COLLECTOR
Plank L. Plank

FABER'S
Center Square

WENTZ'S
Serving You Since '22
121 Baltimore Street

SCHWARTZ FARM SUPPLY
100 Carlisle Street

HOME FURNISHING CO.
Furniture on the Square

THE DELECTO
Center Square

REEL GENERAL TIRE SERVICE
250 Buford Avenue

HENNIG'S BAKERY
York Street

GETTYSBURG AUTOPARTS CO.
30 York Street

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

FOR SALE GENERAL

FURNITURE AND STOVE BARNS. Rebuilt ranges, coal and gas combinations, heaters, and oil stoves. Dining room suites, $25.00. Living room suites, $15.00; beds, $10.00; rugs, $2.00; kitchen cabinets, $10.00; buffets, $5.00, and many other bargains. Trade-In Furniture Exchange, 55 W. Clarke, near York Supply Co., York, Pa.

FOR SALE: WINTER APPLIES. Stayman Winesap, Black Twig, York, York Stripe, Stark and some nice drops. Bring your container. Phone Fairfield 34-R-31. C. L. Sowers.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS AT THE BOOK SHOP. Mrs. Richard C. Walton, Biglerville.

FOR SALE: PIPE AND FITTINGS. pipe cut to size. Lower's Store, Table Rock.

FOR SALE: ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES. wire, etc. Lower's, Table Rock, Pa.

FOR SALE: ELECTRIC AND BATTERY fence controllers. Lower's Table Rock.

FOR SALE: TEN PIECE DINING room suite with table pads; Eighteenth Century style, practically new. Can be seen anytime at Lorraine Lodge, three miles east on Lincoln Highway.

FOR SALE: IRISH COBBLER POTATOES, any quantity. Felix J. Klunk, western edge of McSherrytown.

FOR SALE: ONE CRIB CONTAINING 400 to 500 barrels of corn. P. V. Ahl, 631 West South street, Carlisle, Pa. Phone 103BR.

FOR SALE: THREE ACRES OF well eared corn hit by frost; also soon hound, five years old. Call Biglerville 54-R-3.

FOR SALE: KIEFFER PEARS, Apply 34 West Middle street.

FOR SALE: SINGLE BREASTED tweed coat, good condition; black dress shoes, 8-AA, 8 1/2-AA; 8 1/2-AA; man's navy blue wool suit, waist measure 34, in good condition. Call 362-Y.

FOR SALE: SOW AND EIGHT pigs; also nine shoats. Mack Sites, Fairfield.

FOR SALE: THOROUGHBRED Guernsey bull, eighteen months old. Robert Garretson, Flora Dale. Phone 127-R-21 Biglerville.

FOR SALE: TWO IRON KETTLES, copper kettle, egg stove. Paul Settle, Gettysburg R. 3. Phone 292-W.

FOR SALE: WHITE PORCELAIN sink for hot and cold water. Glenn Heller, McKnightstown.

FOR SALE: TWO NANNY GOATS, one milks. Richard Sheaffer, Aspers R. 1.

KIEFFER PEARS FOR SALE. Earl Singley, Orrtanna.

FOR SALE: POTATOES, 1ST grade Mountain grown, any quantity, order early. $2.10 per bushel. James Sharrah, McKnightstown. Phone 964-R-21.

FOR SALE: LOT OF LUMBER, 452 West Middle street.

PUMPKINS FOR SALE: ALVIN Bupp, next to Hartzell's Esso Station, Lincoln Highway East.

FRESH SWEET CIDER 40c gallon. 131 York street.

FOR SALE: NEW M M TWO ROW pull type corn picker mounted on pneumatic tires. See this picker before buying. Daniel L. Yingling, Route 1, Gettysburg.

FOR SALE: CHRYSANTHEMUMS. Mrs. Roy Baker, Biglerville. Phone 56-R-2.

SALE PURE BRED HAMPSHIRE swine, Saturday, October 28th, 1 p. m. at Twin Brook Farms, 7 miles east of York, Pa. 1 mile north of Hellam, Pa., on Druck Valley road. All stock registered, blood tested, and vaccinated; bred gilts, sows with litters, service boars. Write for details and catalogue to Paul Runkle, 56 S. Beaver St., York, Pa.

FOR SALE: STEEL GREEN enamel coal range, good condition; also two burner gas stove with oven. Apply 352 York street.

FOR SALE GENERAL

FOR SALE: 5 HORSE-POWER tractor, cement mixer, heavy roller. Cecil P. Boyd, Route 2, Gettysburg. Phone 941-R-14.

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE: 27 ACRE FRUIT AND poultry farm. 1 1/4 mile northwest of Biglerville. Hard road being built past buildings. 25 acres in cultivation, 500 full bearing apple trees, fruits of all kinds. I deal in poultry, 2 hen houses and barn 40x50 could easily be made into a 3 story hen house. Running spring water to house and barn. House has all conveniences, furnace, bath, electricity, telephone. School bus takes children to Biglerville schools. Possession any time. House is vacant. Will sell with equipment. Also have a 7 1/2 acre timber tract near by will sell. I have been tending the orchard myself. I want to give all my time to the Machine business. O. C. Rice, Biglerville.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL real estate, see Mary Ramer.

FOR SALE: ROW OF NINE houses on North Stratton, all in good condition, eight new furnaces installed last year. Reason for selling, age. Interested parties call 38 North Washington street. Prefer to sell altogether.

AUSHERMAN BROS. REALTORS M. O. Rice, Repr. Room 2, Kadel Bldg. Res. 785 Baltimore street. Office 161-Y, Residence 182-X.

MALE HELP WANTED

MEN: MAKE YOUR POST-WAR plans now! Learn dignified business during spare time and earn good, hourly income while doing so. Write for particulars. Manager Box 367-C, Newark 1, N. J.

WANTED: MEN FOR WORK IN furniture factory. Availability statement required. Apply Reaser Furniture Company Office, York street.

WANTED: GARAGE HELPER. Apply in person. Glenn L. Bream, Garage, 100 Buford avenue. Statement availability necessary.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED: WAITRESS. Apply Plaza Restaurant. Statement availability necessary.

HELP WANTED

HELP WANTED Help process the Apple Crop Transportation furnished from Littlestown to Aspers. Bus now operating.

Good wages, excellent working conditions. Apply to

ADAMS APPLE PRODUCTS CORP. Aspers, Pa. Or United States Employment Service, 20 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa.

Applicants present statement of availability if working in essential industry.

WANTED TO BUY

WANTED: SOLDIER NEEDS 8MM movie camera and projector. Will pay good price. Phone Biglerville 80-R-5. Sgt. Richard T. Morrison.

WANTED: PUPPIES, COLLIE, Shepherd, Police, Terriers, and Cocker Spaniel. W. L. Eckert, Taneytown.

ACCORDION, SAXOPHONE, trumpet or chromatic harmonica wanted by music teacher. Write Box "201" Times Office.

WANTED: TO BUY STANDARD keyboard typewriter. Dorothy White, 74 Steinwehr avenue.

WANTED: USED CARS WITH good tires, low mileage. Get my price before selling. Glenn L. Bream, 100 Buford avenue.

POSITION WANTED

AUCTIONEERING WANTED: When in need of an auctioneer, call H. J. Gochenour, Biglerville R. 1 or phone 50-R-4.

LOST

LOST: FRIDAY, TRUCK CANVAS, between Barlow Fire Company hall and Gettysburg. Gettysburg Ice and Storage. Phone 175.

LOST: WHEEL AND TIRE ON 1940 model Ford truck. Finder please return to Houck's Bakery, Hanover. Reward.

FOUND

FOUND: SUM OF MONEY. Owner can have same by identifying at Times Office.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT OR SALE: SIX ROOM brick house, all conveniences. One mile from Gettysburg on Lincoln Highway. Write box 203 Times Office.

FOR RENT: THREE ROOM, first floor apartment, all conveniences. Possession immediately. Apply 196 South Stratton street.

FOR RENT: LARGE FRONT BED- room, furnished and heated. Apply 224 Baltimore street.

FOR RENT: BACHELOR APART- ment, furnished or unfurnished. Apply Hotel Gettysburg.

FOR RENT: SIX ROOM HOUSE, furnished, all conveniences. Write Box "207" Times Office.

MISCELLANEOUS

112 BATS KILLED WITH JAP "Star Rat Killer." Guaranteed "Roach Master" kills roaches. Zerling's Hardware.

MISCELLANEOUS

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING. Let us solve your home and farm wiring problems. O. C. Frey, 724 West Philadelphia St., York, Phone 4650R.

RADIO REPAIRING: ALL MAKES, models. Baker's Battery Service, opposite Post Office.

NOTICE: I WILL MAKE CIDER every day. C. A. Shultz, Hilltown.

PUBLIC SALE: THURSDAY, OC- tober 26th, 12 o'clock. 45 Head Registered Holstein and Guernsey cattle. Bangs certified, 24 milk cows, balance young cattle. F. W. Weiler, Owner, near Heidlersburg.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE WILL hold Phoebe and 500 card party Monday night at the Moose Home, York street.

MAGAZINE AND NEWSPAPER subscriptions, stationery, bookplates, playing cards, at the Book Shop, Biglerville.

PUBLIC SALE, SATURDAY, NO- vember 4th of Personal Property. Willis H. Pitzer, Arendtsville.

FULLER BRUSH PRODUCTS may be purchased at Mrs. Haley's, 29 West Middle street.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

Estate of Michael K. Wagner, late of Mt. Pleasant Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.

WILLIS C. WAGNER, Executor, ALICE ROLAND, Administratrix, Gettysburg, Pa. R. 4

NOTICE Estate of Robert S. Hahn, late of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.

E. W. HARTMAN, Administrator, Washington, Pa. Or, WILLIAM L. MEALS, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.

GRACE E. MANGES, 525 Mifflin Street, Huntingdon, Pa. NELLIE BLOCHER, 525 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executors.

Or, WILLIAM L. MEALS, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

Truman Attacks Governor Dewey

Butte, Mont., Oct. 21 (AP)—Senator Harry S. Truman, stopping over in this copper mining city on his transcontinental speaking tour for the Roosevelt-Truman Democratic ticket, pitched into Montana's bitter gubernatorial fight today to lend his support to Left Erickson, the Democratic nominee. Erickson, tall Justice of the State Supreme Court who is seeking to unseat Republican Gov. Sam C. Ford, drew the Democratic vice presidential nominee's endorsement at a rally last night in the Fox theatre in which Truman also. Asserted Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate, "had to be smoked out" before the public knew "how he stands on foreign policy" and that "a fellow who has to be smoked out is not to be trusted."

In 1846, the U. S. Navy condemned the USS Allegheny, second U. S. iron warship, as unsuited for war purposes.

PUBLIC SALE

November 4, 1944

The undersigned residing in Arendtsville, will sell the following articles:

1 pair dark Brown mules, both good leaders; 1 Guernsey cow carrying third calf will be fresh in February; two heifers, Holstein and Guernsey, 7 months old; two fat hogs, fifty laying hens. Farming implements, good Weber wagon and bed; hay ladders; Deering binder; Crown grain drill; horse rake; 501 Syracuse plow; Syracuse 1 horse plow; 2-horse disc; cultivators; spring tooth harrow; single row corn planter; 2 picking ladders, 24 feet long; 1 10-foot, step ladder; 1 work bench with two vises; sleigh.

Household Goods 4 plank bottom chairs, antique; 1 Lyric electric radio; victrola; White sewing machine, 10 rocking chairs; 4 cane seated chairs, 200 apple crates, 15 berry crates and boxes; bushel and 1/2 bushel baskets and other articles not mentioned.

Sale will start at 1 o'clock. Terms cash.

Will also offer lot reaching from the street to an alley in the rear improved with a two-story building in good condition.

WILLIAM H. PIZER, Bob Thompson, Auct. C. C. Broom, Clerk.

DRIVE TOWARDS

(Continued From Page 1) MacArthur said had been hit by aerial torpedo, Tokyo claimed the sinking of one transport. MacArthur's communique said it was only damaged.

Heavy Destruction

Both MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported widespread destruction of enemy planes—pushing beyond 1,400 the total wiped out since Oct. 9 in the air offensive building up to the invasion—and more blows at Nipponese shipping.

In a communique last night at Pearl Harbor, Nimitz said naval air strikes, coordinated with the landings, resulted in knocking out 87 more planes, sinking a large cargo ship and five small craft and damaging 23 ships and 28 small craft. His communique covered actions by planes of carrier task groups from the central Pacific against Leyte, Cebu and Negros islands and the Manila area on Luzon.

MacArthur announced the ground commanders helping him fulfill his vow of two years and seven months ago to return and liberate the Philippines.

Navy Unchallenged

Under General Krueger are: The 10th corps, headed by Maj. Gen. Franklin C. Seitz and the 24th corps commanded by Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge; the Third Engineers Amphibious brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. William Seavy; the First Battery division of Maj. Gen. Verne B. Hart; the Seventh Infantry division of Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold; the 24th Infantry Division of Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving and the 9th Infantry division of Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley.

The massed naval might, unchallenged by any elements of the Japanese fleet, brought together Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, of the Seventh fleet, Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr., of the Third fleet and Commodore John A. Collins of the Australian squadron.

The constant air umbrella was supplied by the U. S. Far Eastern air force and Royal Australian air force, headed by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenny, and the Third fleet carrier planes of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher.

Nazi Dam Hit By U. S. Planes

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—Eighteen German planes were shot down in two dogfights over Cologne and Coblenz yesterday by U. S. Ninth Air Force fighterbombers.

Divebombers claimed 228 railroad cars destroyed or damaged, 15 locomotives disabled, two barges sunk and 21 trucks shotup.

More than 1,100 sorties were flown Friday by continent-based American and RAF planes. Nine American and two British fighters are missing.

One group of Thunderbolts blew a deep gap in a dam at Dieuze, 25 miles east of Nancy.

The 800-foot eastern dam was attacked by 24 Thunderbolts at 2 p. m. Each plane carried two 1,000 pound bombs and six direct hits were scored, making a breach at least 50 feet wide in the west end of the old structure, which is 50 feet thick, 20 feet high and impounded a lake of 1,500 acres.

Aerial photographs made two hours later showed water spreading across the countryside to a depth of two feet or more as far as Dieuze.

ALLIES LEAP ABOVE RIMINI

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Rome, Oct. 21 (AP)— Eighth Army units burst through the rear guards of German parachute troops on the Adriatic sector today and occupied the coastal town of Cesenatico, 13 miles above Rimini and 18 miles from Ravenna, their next coastal objective.

New Zealand and Canadian troops northeast of the fortress town and highway center of Cesena made similar swift advances. Cesena was occupied and Allied troops were clearing one last enemy pocket on the western outskirts of the town, which is 12 miles southeast of Forlì.

enemy supply center two miles to the east. The attack was made through intense flak, but no planes were lost in that operation.

Planes of the 19th tactical air force flew more than 240 sorties and destroyed ten locomotives, 57 freight cars and 23 trucks.

boyhood home of Mussolini, on the Rimini-Bologna road.

Take High Spots The Fifth Army which is driving north toward Bologna captured several high spots, but still was engaged in heavy fighting, particularly in the area north and northwest of recently captured Livorno. There the Germans increased their artillery fire and were backing up their troops with tanks and self-propelled guns.

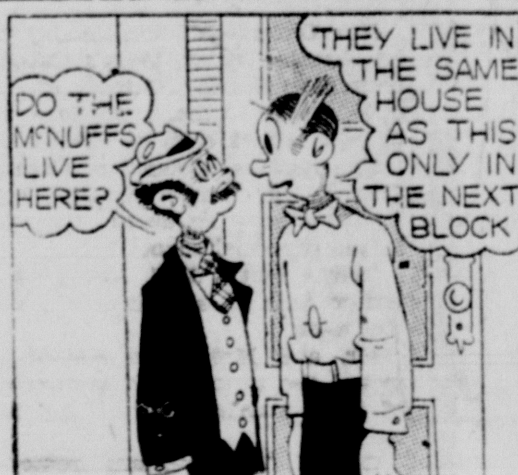

On both sides of highway 65 (the Florence-Bologna highway) British, American and South African troops nevertheless managed to capture more high ground.

Polish troops, again fighting with the eighth Army after their earlier stirring part in the breakthrough of the Gothic line, made considerable advances in the central mountain sector, capturing Civitella Di Romagna and Galeata.

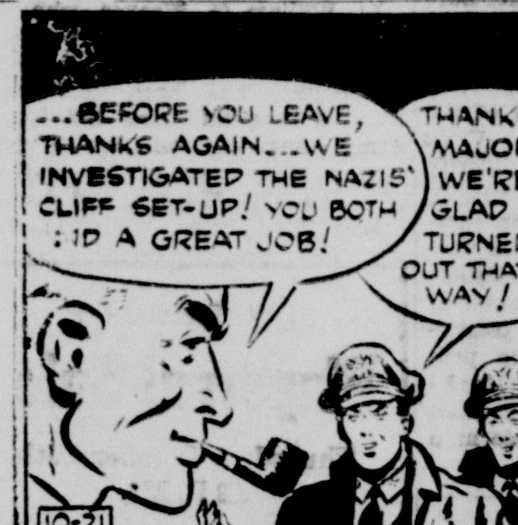

The Mediterranean Allied air force flew more than 2,000 sorties yesterday in support of ground operations and lashed targets in Germany again.

The average horse-power of the automobile engine has increased 300 per cent since 1920.

BLONDIE

SCORCHY SMITH

POPEYE

"Totem Pole With A Chill!"

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

FOR SALE GENERAL

FURNITURE AND STOVE BARGAINS. Rebuilt ranges, coal and gas combinations, heaters, and oil stoves. Dining room suites. $25.00. Living room suites. $15.00; beds, $20.00; rugs, $2.00; kitchen cabinets, $10.00; buffets, $5.00, and many other bargains. Trade-In Furniture Exchange, 55 W. Clarke, rear York Supply Co., York, Pa.

FOR SALE: WINTER APPLES—Stayman Winesap, Black Twig, York, Red Stripe, Stark and some nice drops. Bring your container. Phone Fairfield 24-R-31. C. L. Sowers.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS AT THE Book Shop. Mrs. Richard C. Walton, Biglerville.

FOR SALE: PIPE AND FITTINGS, pipe cut to size. Lower's Store, Table Rock.

FOR SALE: ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES, wire, etc. Lower's, Table Rock, Pa.

FOR SALE: ELECTRIC AND BATTERY fence controllers. Lower's Table Rock.

FOR SALE: TEN PIECE DINING room suite with table pads; Eighteenth Century style, practically new. Can be seen anytime at Lorraine Lodge, three miles east on Lincoln highway.

FOR SALE: IRISH COBBLER potatoes, any quantity, Felix J. Klunk, western edge of McSherrystown.

FOR SALE: ONE CRIB CONTAINING 400 to 500 barrels of corn. P. V. Ahl, 631 West South street, Carlisle, Pa. Phone 1038R.

FOR SALE: THREE ACRES OF well cared corn hit by frost; also soon sown, five years old. Call Biglerville 24-R-3.

FOR SALE: KIEFFER PEARS, AP-13 34 West Middle street.

FOR SALE: SINGLE BREASTED tweed coat, good condition; black dress shoes, 8-AA, 8 1/2-AA; 8 1/2-AAA; man's navy blue wool suit, waist measure 34, in good condition. Call 362-Y.

FOR SALE: SOW AND EIGHT pigs; also nine shoats. Mack Sites, Fairfield.

FOR SALE: THOROUGHbred Guernsey bull, eighteen months old. Robert Garretson, Flora Dale. Phone 127-R-21 Biglerville.

FOR SALE: TWO IRON KETTLES, copper kettle, egg stove. Paul Settle, Gettysburg R. 3. Phone 292-W.

FOR SALE: WHITE PORCELAIN sink for hot and cold water. Glenn Heller, McKnightstown.

FOR SALE: TWO NANNY GOATS, one milks. Richard Sheaffer, Anspers R. 1.

KIEFFER PEARS FOR SALE. Earl Singley, Ottatanna.

FOR SALE: POTATOES, 1ST grade Mountain grown, any quantity, order early. $2.10 per bushel. James Sharrah, McKnightstown. Phone 964-R-21.

FOR SALE: LOT OF LUMBER, 452 West Middle street.

PUMPKINS FOR SALE: ALVIN Bupp, next to Hartzell's, Esso Station, Lincoln Highway East.

FRESH SWEET CIDER 40c gallon. 131 York street.

FOR SALE: NEW M M TWO ROW pull type corn picker mounted on pneumatic tires. See this picker before buying. Daniel L. Yingling, Route 1, Gettysburg.

FOR SALE: CHRYSANTHEMUMS. Mrs. Roy Baker, Biglerville. Phone 56-R-2.

SALE PURE BRED HAMPSHIRE swine, Saturday, October 28th, 1 p. m. at Twin Brook Farms, 7 miles east of York, Pa. 1 mile north of Hellam, Pa., on Druck Valley road. All stock registered, blood tested, and vaccinated; bred gilts, sows with litters, service boars. Write for details and catalogue to Paul Runkle, 36 S. Beaver St., York, Pa.

FOR SALE: STEEL GREEN enamel coal range, good condition; also two burner gas stove with oven. Apply 352 York street.

FOR SALE GENERAL

FOR SALE: 5 HORSE-POWER tractor, cement mixer, heavy roller. Cecil P. Boyd, Route 2, Gettysburg. Phone 941-R-14.

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE: 27 ACRE FRUIT AND poultry farm. 1 1/4 mile northwest of Biglerville. Hard road being built past buildings. 25 acres in cultivation, 500 full bearing apple trees, fruits of all kinds. 1 deal in poultry. 2 hen houses and barn 40x50 could easily be made into a 3 story hen house. Running spring water to house and barn. House has all conveniences, furnace, bath, electricity, telephone. School bus takes children to Biglerville schools. Possession any time. House is vacant. Will sell with equipment. Also have a 7 1/2 acre timber tract near by will sell. I have been tending the orchard myself. I want to give all my time to the Machine business. O. C. Rice, Biglerville.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL real estate, see Mary Ramer.

FOR SALE: ROW OF NINE houses on North Stratton, all in good condition, eight new furnaces installed last year. Reason for selling, age. Interested parties call 38 North Washington street. Prefer to sell altogether.

AUSHERMAN BROS. REALTORS M. O. Rice, Repr. Room 2, Kadel Bldg. Res. 765 Baltimore street. Office 161-Y. Residence 182-X.

MALE HELP WANTED

MEN: MAKE YOUR POST-WAR plans now! Learn dignified business during spare time and earn good, hourly income while doing so. Write for particulars. Manager Box 367-C, Newark 1, N. J.

WANTED: MEN FOR WORK IN furniture factory. Availability statement required. Apply Reaser Furniture Company Office, York street.

WANTED: GARAGE HELPER, apply in person. Glenn L. Bream, Garage, 100 Buford avenue. Statement availability necessary.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED: WAITRESS, APPLY Plaza Restaurant. Statement availability necessary.

HELP WANTED

HELP WANTED
Help process the Apple Crop Transportation furnished from Littlestown to Aspers. Bus now operating.
Good wages, excellent working conditions.
Apply to
ADAMS APPLE PRODUCTS CORP., Aspers, Pa.
Or United States Employment Service, 20 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa.
Applicants present statement of availability if working in essential industry.

WANTED TO BUY

WANTED: SOLDIER NEEDS 8MM movie camera and projector. Will pay good price. Phone Biglerville 80-R-5. Sgt. Richard T. Morrison.

WANTED: PUPPIES, COLLIE, Shepherd, Police, Terriers, and Cocker Spaniel. W. L. Eckert, Taneytown.

ACCORDION, SAXOPHONE trumpet or chromatic harmonica wanted by music teacher. Write Box "201" Times Office.

WANTED: TYPEWRITER, DOROTHY White, 74 Steinwehr avenue.

WANTED: USED CARS WITH good tires, low mileage. Get my price before selling. Glenn L. Bream, 100 Buford avenue.

POSITION WANTED

AUCTIONEERING WANTED: When in need of an auctioneer, call H. J. Gochenour, Biglerville R. 1 or phone 5-R-4.

LOST

LOST: FRIDAY, TRUCK CANVAS between Barlow Fire Company hall and Gettysburg. Gettysburg Ice and Storage. Phone 175.

LOST: WHEEL AND TIRE ON 1940 model Ford truck. Finder please return to Houck's Bakery, Hanover. Reward.

FOUND

FOUND: SUM OF MONEY, OWN- er can have same by identifying at Times Office.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT OR SALE: SIX ROOM brick house, all conveniences. One mile from Gettysburg on Lincoln Highway. Write box 203 Times Office.

FOR RENT: THREE ROOM, first floor apartment, all conveniences. Possession immediately. Apply 196 South Stratton street.

FOR RENT: LARGE FRONT BED- room, furnished and heated. Apply 224 Baltimore street.

FOR RENT: BACHELOR APART- ment, furnished or unfurnished. Apply Hotel Gettysburg.

FOR RENT: SIX ROOM HOUSE, furnished, all conveniences. Write Box "207" Times Office.

MISCELLANEOUS

112 RATS KILLED WITH JAP: "Star" Rat Killer. Guaranteed "Roach Master" kills Roaches. Zerling Hardware.

MISCELLANEOUS

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING. Let us solve your home and farm wiring problems. O. C. Frey, 724 West Philadelphia St., York, Phone 48508.

RADIO REPAIRING: ALL MAKES, models. Baker's Battery Service, opposite Post Office.

NOTICE: I WILL MAKE CIDER every day. C. A. Shultz, Hilltown.

PUBLIC SALE: THURSDAY, OC- tober 26th, 10 o'clock. 45 Head Registered Holstein and Guernsey cattle, Bangs certified, 24 milk cows, balance young cattle. F. W. Weigle, Owner, near Heidlersburg.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE WILL hold Pinochle and 500 card party Monday night at the Moose Home, York street.

MAGAZINE AND NEWSPAPER subscriptions, stationery, book-plates, playing cards, at the Book Shop, Biglerville.

PUBLIC SALE, SATURDAY, NO- vember 4th of Personal Property. Willis H. Pitzer, Arendtsville.

FULLER BRUSH PRODUCTS may be purchased at Mrs. Haley's, 29 West Middle street.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE
Estate of Michael K. Wagner, late of Mt. Pleasant Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
WILLIS C. WAGNER, Executor,
Gettysburg, Pa. R. 4

NOTICE
Estate of Robert S. Hahn, late of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
E. W. HARTMAN, Administrator,
Cathartown, Pa.
Or, WILLIAM L. MEALS, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

NOTICE
Estate of S. Mary Blocher, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.
GRACE E. MANGES, 626 Millin Street, Huntingdon, Pa.
NELLIE BLOCHER, 252 Carroll Parkway, Frederick, Md. Executrices
Or to William L. Meals, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

DRIVE TOWARDS

(Continued From Page D)
MacArthur said had been hit by aerial torpedo. Tokyo claimed the sinking of one transport. MacArthur's communique said it was only damaged.

Heavy Destruction
Both MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported widespread destruction of enemy planes—pushing beyond 1,400 the total wiped out since Oct. 9 in the air offensive building up to the invasion—and more blows at Nipponese shipping.

In a communique last night at Pearl Harbor, Nimitz said naval air strikes, coordinated with the landings, resulted in knocking out 87 more planes, sinking a large cargo ship and five small craft and damaging 23 ships and 28 small craft. His communique covered actions by planes of carrier task groups from the central Pacific against Leyte, Cebu and Negros islands and the Manila area on Luzon.

MacArthur announced the ground commanders helping him fulfill his vow of two years and seven months ago to return and liberate the Philippines.

Nazi Dam Hit By U. S. Planes

Under General Krueger are: The 10th corps, headed by Maj. Gen. Franklin C. Seitz and the 24th corps commanded by Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge; the Third Engineers Amphibious brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. William Seavy; the First Battery division of Maj. Gen. Verne B. Hart; the Seventh Infantry division of Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold; the 24th Infantry Division of Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving and the 9th Infantry division of Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley.

The massed naval might, unchallenged by any elements of the Japanese fleet, brought together Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, of the Seventh fleet, Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr., of the Third fleet and Commodore John A. Collins of the Australian squadron.

The constant air umbrella was supplied by the U.S. Far Eastern air force and Royal Australian air force, headed by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenny, and the Third fleet carrier planes of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher.

Nazi Dam Hit By U. S. Planes

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—Eighteen German planes were shot down in two dogfights over Cologne and Coblenz yesterday by U. S. Ninth Air Force fighterbombers.

Divebombers claimed 228 railroad cars destroyed or damaged, 15 locomotives disabled, two barges sunk and 21 trucks shotup.

More than 1,100 sorties were flown Friday by continent-based American and RAF planes. Nine American and two British fighters are missing.

One group of Thunderbolts blew a deep gap in a dam at Dieuze, 25 miles east of Nancy.

The 800-foot eastern dam was attacked by 24 Thunderbolts at 2 p. m. Each plane carried two 1,000 pound bombs and six direct hits were scored, making a breach at least 50 feet wide in the west end of the old structure, which is 30 feet thick, 2

CLARENCE SWISHER GROCERY Sterens Street Phone 545-W	CASH FOR YOUR CAR Gettysburg Motor Sales 204 Chambersburg St.
---	---

TAXI!
No. 2
Stand
Center
Square

Phone 209
Day or Night!
After Midnight Phone 472-Z

RUFUS W. REAVER

line Just Glad Used of 4-R Ename's Use it on interior walls, furniture
and woodwork. It's easy to apply, dries in four hours with a beautiful high gloss finish,
and leaves no brush
marks.

Schwartz Farm Supply
Willis R. Schwartz Prop.
Coal, Feed, Grain Fertilizer, Etc.
100 Carlisle St.
Phone 251-X, Gettysburg, Pa.

R. D. T. Aspers, Pa.
Dinner and Sandwiches
Served by the U. B. Church

---

Flowers
for
ALL OCCASIONS
CREMER'S
HANOVER, PA.

GETTYS
PHONE 17

LABORATORY
TESTED
and
CONTROLLED REGULARLY

TAXI!
No. 2
Stand
Center
Square

Phone 209
Day or Night!
After Midnight Phone 472-Z

RUFUS W. REAVER

line Just Glad Used of 4-R Enamel's Use it on interior walls, furniture
and woodwork. It's easy to apply, dries in four hours with a beautiful high gloss finish,
and leaves no brush
marks.

Schwartz Farm Supply
Willis R. Schwartz Prop.
Coal, Feed, Grain Fertilizer, Etc.
100 Carlisle St.
Phone 251-X, Gettysburg, Pa.

R. D. T. Aspers, Pa.
Dinner and Sandwiches
Served by the U. B. Church

---

Flowers
for
ALL OCCASIONS
CREMER'S
HANOVER, PA.

GETTYS
PHONE 17

LABORATORY
TESTED
and
CONTROLLED
REGULARLY

BONDS ON SALE DAY AND NIGHT!—Immediate Delivery

LAST DAY! Cary GRANT "ARSENIC AND OLD LACE"

Features today 12:25, 2:35, 4:50, 7:00, 9:20

MAJESTIC THEATRE Monday and Tuesday

Features 2:45, 7:15, 9:45

"Hello Everybody!"

This is Joan Davis

downing...go-to-towning...singing...dancing...spooping in my most entertaining picture to date!"

KANSAS CITY KITTY BOB CROSBY - JANE FRAZEE

Original Screen Play by Manny Seff - Produced by TED RICHMOND - Directed by DEL LOR

WE NEED USED CARS!

WILL PAY HIGHEST CASH
CEILING PRICE

Will Pay Highest Cash Ceiling Price for Used Cars

GLENN L. BREAM

Olds — Cadillac Sales and Service

Open Week Days Till 5:30 P. M. Except Saturdays
8:00 P. M.
Sundays 10 A. M. Till 5 P. M.

100 Buford Ave.

GET READY FOR WINTER

Save Fuel—Be Comfortable—Permanent Economy

Write D. C. ASPER, Aspers, Pa.

Or Telephone Big. 42-R-14

Roofing and Siding—Asbestos, Brick, Built-up Roofing
Also Insulation - Waterproofing.

Installed By Experienced Mechanics—Highest Grade Materials

USED AUTO HEATERS

As Low as $10.00

A LIMITED Supply SO ACT QUICK

Genuine

ANTI-FREEZE
Plenty of HEATER HOSE
HEATER SWITCHES
THERMOSTATS
BATTERIES
TWIN HORNS

CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH

Sales—Service

GETTYSBURG MOTOR SALES

GATES Glenn C. Bream ALEMITE
TIRES and TUBES PLYMOUTH CHRYSLER LUBRICATION

Open 7 to 9 - PHONE 484 - Closed Sundays

Blue Parrot Tea Garden

A DINNERS SERVED

from 9 A. M. to 2 A. M.

SEA Foods

✓ Crab Cakes ✓ Steamed Clams
✓ Oysters ✓ Shrimp

Special 45c Platter Lunches
MENU CHANGED EVERY DAY
HOT AND COLD SANDWICHES
— COOKING DONE BY —
Mrs. Curtis Fissel and Mrs. F. M. Garlach

CLARENCE SWISHER

GROCERY

Stevens Street Phone 345-W

CASH

FOR YOUR CAR

Gettysburg Motor Sales
204 Chambersburg St.

RADIO PROGRAMS

TONIGHT

9:30 NBC and Blu—President F. D. Roosevelt from New York.

SUNDAY NIGHT

7:15 Blu—Russell Davenport.

10:45 MBS—Quentin Reynolds from New York.

MONDAY

12:30 p. m.—Sen. John H. Bankhead of Alabama.

3:15 NBC—Republican National committee program to include Helen Hayes, Rep. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and others.

SATURDAY

6:00k-WEAF-454M

2:00-Musiciana
2:15-Football
5:00-Unannounced
5:45-Curt Massey
6:00-News
6:15-Unannounced
6:45-Religion
7:30-Ellyer Queen
8:00-Rudy Vallee
8:30-Truth
9:00-Harm Dance
9:30-Top Ten
10:00-Harry Wood
10:30-Oh Opry
11:00-News
11:15-Vandercreek
11:30-Sgt. Bluestone

710k-WOR-422M

2:00-McIntire Or.
2:15-Football
2:30-News
2:45-Football
4:15-Race
4:30-Rogers Or.
4:45-Elle Don
5:15-Rollin Trio
6:30-Dance Orch.
6:45-S. Elder
6:00-S. Moseley
6:15-Talk
6:30-News
6:45-Sports
7:00-Cover Who?
7:30-Confidentially
7:45-Answer Man
8:00-F. Singler
8:15-Politics
8:30-Symphony
9:00-Theater
10:00-Mystery
10:30-Drama
11:00-News
11:30-Barn Dance

770k-WJZ-685M

2:00-Football
2:00-Concert
4:45-Hello
6:00-News
6:15-Sports
6:30-News
6:45-L. Delval
7:00-News
7:15-L. Stowe
7:30-Your Navy
8:00-Dance Music
8:30-Symphony
9:30-Bands
10:00-Lombard Or.
10:30-H. Marshall
11:00-News
11:15-Drama
11:30-Hillbillies

880k-WABC-675M

2:00-FOB
2:30-Football
2:00-Concert
6:00-News
6:15-Platform
6:45-World Today
7:00-L. Barrymore
7:30-In the Air
8:00-Kenny Baker
8:30-Sanctum
9:00-H. Parade
9:45-J. Dragonette
10:15-Correction
10:45-Talks
11:00-News
11:15-Dance Orch.

660k-WEAF-454M

9:00-News
9:15-Commando
9:30-Songs
9:45-Music
10:00-Fable
10:30-Child Hour
11:30-News
11:45-M. Leveridge
12:00-Eternal Light
12:30-Orchestra
1:00-Reporter
1:15-Recital
1:30-U. of Chicago
2:00-We Love
2:30-John Thomas
3:00-U. Close
3:30-Army Hour
4:30-Music
5:00-Symphony
6:00-Catholic Hour
6:30-Gildersleeve
7:00-Jack Benny
7:30-Bandwagon
8:00-Edgar Bergen
8:30-Drama
9:00-T. Thomas
9:30-Frank Munn

HAINES' RESTAURANT

EMMITSBURG ROAD

• OYSTERS (All styles)
• CRAB CAKES (All meat and mixed)
• CLAM CHOWDER
• CHICKEN SOUP
• HOME-MADE PIES
• SHRIMP
• STEAMED CLAMS

Mrs. Chas. Haines

WINTERIZE

Your Car and Truck

Anti-Freeze
Heaters and Defrosters (Pre-War)
Chains, Heater & Radiator Hose
General Batteries

REEL GENERAL TIRE SERVICE

250 Buford Ave.
Telephone 224-Z Gettysburg

TAXI

No. 2
Stand
Center
Square

Phone 209
Day or Night!

After Midnight Phone 472-Z

RUFUS W. REAVER

On The Silver Screen

MAJESTIC THEATRE

Monday and Tuesday
"KANSAS CITY KITTY"

Joan Davis Bob Crosby

Wednesday

"TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT"

Phil Baker Edward Ryan

Thursday, Friday, Saturday

"SINCE YOU WENT AWAY"

Claudette Colbert Jennifer Jones

Due to extreme length of picture, features Thursday and Friday begin at 2:15, 6:30 and 9:35—Saturday features begin at 12:05, 3:05, 6:10 and 9:20.

STRAND THEATRE

Saturday
"TEXAS MASQUERADE"

William Boyd Andy Clyde

MONDAY and TUESDAY

In "Kansas City Kitty," Columbia Pictures' picture at the Majestic theater, Joan Davis dishes out the fun in a screentful of screaming comedy. She's nutty...tuney...witty. She's "KITTY"...all in a picture full of joy.

Besides this rollicking screwball, there is Jane Frazee and her swing songs and Bob Crosby and his pleasing baritone in an assortment of melodic interludes.

Mirth, melody, dance and song abound in 20th Century-Fox's surprise musical of the year, "Take It Or Leave It," the entertainment Jackpot starring Phil Baker, and due Wednesday at the Majestic theater.

Laugh-getting is Phil Baker's business, and the popular comedian of screen and radio scores brilliantly as "The Man With The $64-Question."

Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager top the cast of "Take It Or Leave It," which was directed by Benjamin Stoloff and produced by Bryan Foy.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Monty Woolley and Shirley Temple, members of the all-star cast in "Since You Went Away," David O. Selznick's first film since the Academy Award-winning "Gone With the Wind" and "Rebecca," starring Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotten, Jennifer Jones, Shirley Temple, Monty Woolley, Lionel Barrymore and Robert Walker, arrives at the Majestic theater Thursday through United Artists release.

Described as a "panorama of the home front," "Since You Went Away" is the first film to glorify America and the folks at home. In the simple story of the Hilton family, Selznick has delineated a portrait of all of the families of America. In this household composed of Anne Hilton and her two daughters, Janet and "Brig," the producer has captured all the laughter, warmth and pathos of the average American home whose man has gone to war.

STYLE YOUR furniture

Wetherill's

ENAMEL

The first and finest of 4-R Enamels. Use it on interior walls, furniture and woodwork. It's easy to apply, dries in four hours with a beautiful high gloss finish, and leaves no brush marks.

Schwartz Farm Supply

Willis R. Schwartz, Prop.

Coal, Feed, Grain, Fertilizer, Etc.

100 Carlisle St.

Phone 281-Y, Gettysburg, Pa.

York Springs

York Springs—The annual Lions club Halloween parade is being planned for Saturday evening, October 28, with Tuesday evening, October 31, as a rain date. All community organizations and persons in this section may participate. Several prizes will be awarded. The parade will be followed by a party for the community children.

David E. Starry and his cousin, Miss Joan Starry, have returned home after working in New Hampshire for several months.

Mrs. Robert Stoner is a patient at the Hanover hospital.

Women of the local church of God are preparing to make clothing, bed quilts, etc., to be sent to Africa as a welfare project.

Mrs. Cameron Garretson, near town, was a delegate to the recent State Sunday School convention in Reading.

Mrs. Charles Middleton, Mrs. R. L. Pittenturf, Mrs. Fred Stough, Mrs. H. Steele Stuchell, Mrs. Ivan Taylor, the Misses Virginia Guise and Anna Jean Hershey, Mrs. Cameron Garretson, Mrs. Stewart Grove, Mrs. William M. Lett, Mrs. Harry Miller and the Misses Edna Albert and Mildred Miller are acting as assistant collectors for the United War Relief Drive, in charge of the local Lions club.

The Rev. R. C. Handy, pastor of the First Church of God, Reading, has been conducting a series of evangelistic services this week at the local Church of God. Mrs. Flora Hinsman is acting pastor of the church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire company is planning a benefit party at the community fire hall Tuesday evening, October 24.

Mrs. Harold Lerew, a nurse at the Wills Eye hospital, Philadelphia, spent the past week with local relatives.

R. C. Kennedy has been confined to his home by illness.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Mission Sunday will be observed at St. Mary's Catholic church on Sunday, October 22. An offering for Catholic missions will be received at each of the masses.

The National Council of Catholic Women, St. Mary's chapter, conducted a meeting during the week in the parochial school hall.

Robert Felty, U. S. Army, was a visitor with local relatives during the week.

George W. Dunstan, route 1, made a business trip to Hanover during the week.

Robert E. Hemminger, local pharmacist, is devoting an entire window of his store to a display of Japanese clothing, ammunition, tools, pictures, etc., which were gathered as souvenirs in the South Pacific theatre and sent home by Donald Sieg, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Sieg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stambaugh, near town, entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Staub, York, during the week-end.

The Misses Patricia Breighner, Alice May Deatrick, Janet L. Dutera, Emma Jane Gable, Mary Miller, Mary and Dorothy Smith and Pauline Yingling are acting as assistants to Miss Edna MacKnight, captain of solicitors for the War Fund drive in this section.

Lt. William G. Weaver, who has been quite ill since suffering a serious attack of appendicitis early in August, has been discharged from a hospital near his Texas Army camp, and will spend some time at the home of his mother, Mrs. James R. Weaver, and family, Miss Nora Jones, Wellsville, formerly of this place, is a guest of local friends.

F. W. WEIGLE'S

Dispersal Sale

Thursday, October 26th
12 P. M.

At his farm one mile west of Heidlersburg, four miles east of Biglerville on Route 234.

40 Registered Holsteins
3 Registered Guernsey
24 Milch Cows

5 Bulls
7 Open heifers
5 Bred heifers
Bang Certified.

Two units DeLaval Magnetic Speedway milkers; stainless steel pails; milk cans; electric milk cooler.

F. W. WEIGLE

Owner

R. D. 1, Aspers, Pa.

Dinner and Sandwiches
Served by the U. B. Church

Flowers

for ALL OCCASIONS

CREMER'S

HANOVER, PA.

Upper Huntington

Upper Huntington—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slaybaugh, Mrs. Marion Morningstar and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slaybaugh, all of York, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin, of near Shippenburg, attended the sale of Miss Sadie R. Slaybaugh Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Paull, Mrs. Boyd Nell and daughter, Vena Jean, Mrs. Charles Gardner and have been entertaining her sister, Miss Minnie Stambaugh, Harrisburg. Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and Miss Mary E. Myers spent the week-end with the Myers' daughter, Mrs. E. Stanton DeBolt, and family, Asbury Park, N. J. Mrs. DeBolt and son, Barry, returned with them to spend some time here.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

PUBLIC SALE

Saturday, October 28, 1 P. M. Sharp

At Yingling's store along Gettysburg-Taneytown road, consisting of the following guns, ammunition, livestock and farm machinery.

One 22 high power rifle with 4 power Weaver big game scope, like new; 30-30 Winchester rifle and shells; 41 Swiss rifle and shells; at least five more modern big game rifles for sale; single and double barrel hammer and hammerless shotguns, most any gauge; also will have the following ammunition (30-30), (38-40), (44-40), (35 Rem.), (22HP), (30-06), (38-56), (40-60), (38-72), (7.63 Mauser), (25-20), 765 Mauser, (41 Swiss), (22 rim fire), 12, 16, 20, 410 gauge shot gun shells.

Three butchering hogs weighing about 200 pounds each; 50 good clean healthy shoats from local farms, from 35 to 85 pounds; good roan bull about ready to kill; Home Comfort range complete with water tank and warming closet; lard press; kerosene drum; few good goats; log chains; 12 good alarm clocks; truck chains; 2 electric motors; good Oliver tractor plows, 14 inch bottoms; victrola and records; chairs.

If you have any guns, ammunition or anything to sell, we will buy or sell it for you on a small commission. No goods received after 12 o'clock, October 28. Hundreds of articles not listed.

DANIEL L. YINGLING

OL-VITUM

Vitamin Capsules Contain the Following for Each Capsule

Vitamin A—125% of daily requirement
Vitamin B—150% of daily requirement
Vitamin B2 (G)—100% of daily requirement
Vitamin C—100% of daily requirement
Vitamin D—250% of daily requirement

Buy OL-VITUM Capsules
Bender's Cut Rate

SAVE TIME

GIVE TO THE ADAMS COUNTY WAR FUND

BUTT'S DINER

BUFFORD AVE. NEXT TO THE ESSO STATION

Who Will Be the Next President of the United States?

DEWEY
or ROOSEVELT

If Dewey is elected on November 7th he will need a Republican Congress! If Roosevelt is elected the COUNTRY WILL NEED A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS! America's only hope lies in the election of a Republican CONGRESS!

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

BONDS ON SALE DAY AND NIGHT!—Immediate Delivery

LAST DAY! Cary GRANT "ARSENIC AND OLD LACE"

Features today 12:25, 2:20, 4:56, 7:00, 9:20

Monday and Tuesday

Features 2:45, 7:45, 9:45

"Hello Everybody!"

This is Joan DAVIS

...dancing...go-to-towing...singing...dancing...singing in my most entertaining picture to date!"

KANSAS CITY KITTY

with BOB CROSBY and JANE FRAZEE

Original Screen Play by Minny Self Produced by TED RICHMOND Directed by DEL LORD

WE NEED USED CARS!

WILL PAY HIGHEST CASH CEILING PRICE

Will Pay Highest Cash Ceiling Price for Used Cars

GLENN L. BREAM

Olds — Cadillac Sales and Service

Open Week Days Till 5:30 P. M. Except Saturdays 8:00 P. M. Sundays 10 A. M. Till 5 P. M.

100 Buford Ave.

GET READY FOR WINTER

Save Fuel—Be Comfortable—Permanent Economy

Write D. C. ASPER, Aspers, Pa.

Or Telephone Big. 42-R-14

Roofing and Siding—Asbestos, Brick, Built-up Roofing Also Insulation - Waterproofing.

Installed By Experienced Mechanics—Highest Grade Materials

USED AUTO HEATERS

As Low $10.00

A LIMITED Supply SO ACT QUICK

ANTI-FREEZE
Plenty of HEATER HOSE
HEATER SWITCHES
THERMOSTATS
BATTERIES
TWIN HORNS

CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH

Sales—Service

GETTYSBURG MOTOR SALES

GATES Glenn C. Bream ALEMITE
TIRES and TUBES PLYMOUTH CHRYSLER LUBRICATION

Open 7 to 9 — PHONE 484 — Closed Sundays

Blue Parrot Tea Garden

DINNERS SERVED

from 9 A. M. to 2 A. M.

SEA Foods

✓ Crab Cakes ✓ Steamed Clams
✓ Oysters ✓ Shrimp

Special 45c Platter Lunches
MENU CHANGED EVERY DAY
HOT AND COLD SANDWICHES
— COOKING DONE BY —
Mrs. Curtis Fissel and Mrs. F. M. Garlach

CLARENCE SWISHER

GROCERY

Stevens Street Phone 345-W

CASH FOR YOUR CAR

Gettysburg Motor Sales

294 Chambersburg St.

RADIO PROGRAMS

TONIGHT

9:30 NBC and Blu—President F. D. Roosevelt from New York.

SUNDAY NIGHT

7:15 Blu—Russell Davenport.

10:45 MBS—Quentin Reynolds from New York.

MONDAY

12:30 p. m.—Sen. John H. Bankhead of Alabama.

3:15 NBC—Republican National committee program to include Helen Hayes, Rep. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and others.

SATURDAY

6:00-WEAF-454M

2:00-Musicians

2:15-Football

2:30-News

4:45-Curt Massey

6:00-News

6:15-Unannounced

6:45-Religion

7:30-News

7:45-Elmer Queen

8:00-Rudy Valle

8:30-Truth

9:00-Barn Dance

9:30-Top Tilt

10:00-Barry Wood

10:30-Old Opry

11:00-News

11:15-Vanderbrook

11:30-Sgt. Bluestone

710K-WOR-422M

2:00-McIntire Or.

2:15-Football

2:30-News

2:45-Football

4:15-News

4:30-Rogers Or.

5:00-Unde Don

5:15-Bullini Trio

5:30-Dance Orch.

5:45-S. Elder

6:00-S. Mosley

6:15-Talk

6:30-News

6:45-Sports

7:00-Guest Who?

7:30-Confidentially

7:45-Inner Man

8:00-F. Singler

8:15-Politics

8:30-Symphony

9:00-Theater

10:00-Mystery

10:30-Drama

11:00-News

11:30-Barn Dance

770K-WJZ-655M

2:00-Football

2:30-Concert

5:45-Hello

6:00-News

6:15-Sports

6:30-News

6:45-L. Delval

7:00-News

7:15-L. Stowe

7:30-Your Navy

8:00-Dance Music

8:30-Symphony

9:30-Bands

10:00-Lombardi Or.

10:30-H. Marshall

11:00-News

11:15-Drama

11:30-Hillbillys

880K-WABC-675M

2:00-POB

2:30-Football

2:45-Concert

6:00-News

6:15-Platform

6:45-World Today

7:00-L. Barrymore

7:30-In the Air

8:00-Kenny Baker

8:30-Sanctum

9:00-Hit Parade

9:15-J. Dragontie

9:30-Correction

10:45-Talks

11:00-News

11:15-Dance Orch.

660K-WEAF-454M

9:00-News

9:15-Commando

9:30-Songs

9:45-Music

10:00-Bible

10:30-Child Hour

11:30-News

11:45-M. Loveridge

12:00-Eternal Light

12:30-Orchestra

1:00-Reporter

1:15-Recital

1:30-U. of Chicago

2:00-We Love

2:30-John Thomas

3:00-U. Chor.

3:30-Army Hour

4:30-Music

5:00-Symphony

6:00-Catholic Hour

6:30-Glitterbees

7:00-Jack Benny

7:30-Bandwagon

8:00-Edgar Bergen

8:30-Drama

9:00-T. Thomas

9:30-Frank Munn

*****

HAINES' RESTAURANT

EMMITTSBURG ROAD

- OYSTERS (All styles)
- CRAB CAKES (All meat and mixed)
- CLAM CHOWDER
- CHICKEN SOUP
- HOME-MADE PIES
- SHRIMP
- STEAMED CLAMS

Mrs. Chas. Haines

WINTERIZE

Your Car and Truck

Anti-Freeze
Heaters and Defrosters (Pre-War)
Chains, Heater & Radiator Hose
General Batteries

REEL GENERAL TIRE SERVICE

250 Buford Ave.
Telephone 224-Z Gettysburg

TAXI

No. 2
Stand
Center
Square

Phone 209
Day or Night!
After Midnight Phone 472-Z

RUFUS W. REAVER

On The Silver Screen

MAJESTIC THEATER

Monday and Tuesday
"KANSAS CITY KITTY"
Joan Davis Bob Crosby

Wednesday
"TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT"
Phil Baker Edward Ryan

Thursday, Friday, Saturday
"SINCE YOU WENT AWAY"
Claudette Colbert Jennifer Jones

Due to extreme length of picture, features Thursday and Friday begin at 2:15, 6:30 and 9:35—Saturday features begin at 12:05, 3:05, 6:10 and 9:20.

STRAND THEATER

Saturday
"TEXAS MASQUERADE"
William Boyd Andy Clyde

MONDAY and TUESDAY

In "Kansas City Kitty," Columbia Pictures' picture at the Majestic theater, Joan Davis dishes out the fun in a screenful of screaming comedy. She's nutty...tuney...witty. She's "Kitty" in a picture full of joy.

Besides this rollicking screwball, there is Jane Frazee and her swing songs and Bob Crosby and his pleasing baritone in an assortment of melodic interludes.

Mirth, melody, dance and song abound in 20th Century-Fox's surprise musical of the year, "Take It Or Leave It," the entertainment jackpot starring Phil Baker, and due Wednesday at the Majestic theater.

Laugh-getting is Phil Baker's business, and the popular comedian of screen and radio scores brilliantly as "The Man With The $64-Question."

Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager top the cast of "Take It Or Leave It," which was directed by Benjamin Stoloff and produced by Bryan Foy.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager top the cast of "Take It Or Leave It," which was directed by Benjamin Stoloff and produced by Bryan Foy.

Monty Woolley and Shirley Temple, members of the all-star cast in "Since You Went Away."

"Since You Went Away," David O. Selznick's first film since the Academy Award-winning "Gone With the Wind" and "Rebecca," starring Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotten, Jennifer Jones, Shirley Temple, Monty Woolley, Lionel Barrymore and Robert Walker, arrives at the Majestic theater Thursday through United Artists release.

Described as a "panorama of the home front," "Since You Went Away" is the first film to glorify America and the folks at home. In the simple story of the Hilton family, Selznick has delineated a portrait of all of the families of America. In this household composed of Anne Hilton and her two daughters, Janet and "Big," the producer has captured all the laughter, warmth and pathos of the average American home whose man has gone to war.

STYLE YOUR furniture

Wetherill's

ENAMEL

The first and finest of 4-R Enamels. Use it on interior walls, furniture and woodwork. It's easy to apply, dries in four hours with a beautiful high gloss finish, and leaves no brush marks.

Schwartz Farm Supply

Wills R. Schwartz, Prop.
Coal, Feed, Grain, Fertilizer, Etc.
100 Carlisle St.
Phone 281-Y, Gettysburg, Pa.

York Springs

York Springs—The annual Lions club Halloween parade is being planned for Saturday evening, October 28, with Tuesday evening, October 31, as a rain date. All community organizations and any persons in this section may participate. Several prizes will be awarded. The parade will be followed by a party for the community children.

David E. Starry and his cousin, Miss Joan Starry, have returned home after working in New Hampshire for several months.

Mrs. Robert Stoner is a patient at the Hanover hospital.

Women of the local church of God are preparing to make clothing, bed quilts, etc., to be sent to Africa as a welfare project.

Mrs. Cameron Garretson, near town, was a delegate to the recent State Sunday School convention in Reading.

Mrs. Charles Middleton, Mrs. R. L. Pittenturf, Mrs. Fred Stough, Mrs. H. Steele Stuchell, Mrs. Ivan Taylor, the Misses Virginia Guise and Anna Jean Hershey, Mrs. Cameron Garretson, Mrs. Stewart Grove, Mrs. William M. Lott, Mrs. Harry Miller, and the Misses Edna Albert and Mildred Miller are acting as assistant collectors for the United War Relief Drive, in charge of the local Lions club.

The Rev. R. C. Handy, pastor of the First Church of God, Reading, has been conducting a series of evangelistic services this week at the local Church of God. Mrs. Flora Hinesman is acting pastor of the church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire company is planning a benefit party at the community fire hall Tuesday evening, October 24.

Mrs. Harold Lerew, a nurse at the Wills Eye hospital, Philadelphia, spent the past week with local relatives.

R. C. Kennedy has been confined to his home by illness.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Mission Sunday will be observed at St. Mary's Catholic church on Sunday, October 22. An offering for Catholic missions will be received at each of the masses.

The National Council of Catholic Women, St. Mary's chapter, conducted a meeting during the week in the parochial school hall.

Robert Felty, U. S. Army, was a visitor with local relatives during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kaiser observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage during the past week.

George W. Dunstan, route 1, made a business trip to Hanover during the week.

Robert E. Hemminger, local pharmacist, is devoting an entire window of his store to a display of Japanese clothing, ammunition, tools, pictures, etc., which were gathered as souvenirs in the South Pacific theatre and sent home by Donald Sieg, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Sieg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stammbach, near town, entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Staub, York, during the week-end.

The Misses Patricia Breighner, Alice May Deatrick, Janet L. Dutera, Emma Jane Gable, Mary Miller, Mary and Dorothy Smith and Pauline Yingling are acting as assistants to Miss Edna MacKnight, captain of collectors for the War Fund drive in this section.

Lt. William G. Weaver, who has been quite ill since suffering a serious attack of appendicitis early in August, has been discharged from a hospital near his Texas Army camp, and will spend some time at the home of his mother, Mrs. James R. Weaver, and family.

Miss Nora Jones, Wellsville, formerly of this place, is a guest of local friends.

The local Lions club conducted another drive to collect waste materials for the war effort on Friday.

Mrs. Charles Bothwell, Jr., spent Sunday with her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bothwell, Phoenixville. She was accompanied by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hemminger, and Miss Catherine Miller.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local fire company met at the engine house Thursday evening.

Harold Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Felix Sanders, stationed with the Army at Fort Benning, Ga., was graduated this week from the Officers' Training School there and has been commissioned a second lieutenant.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Ernest Loper, USA, who has been stationed in the south, is spending a furlough with his family.

Bonna is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Byers for their infant daughter.

Paul Ream, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ream, Spring Grove, formerly of this section, is stationed in West Africa.

Walter Baker, New Jersey, with his son, Charles, USN, who has been overseas, visited during the past week among local relatives.

Mrs. John Altland, York, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Chronister, has returned home. She recently spent some time in Florida with her soldier husband.

Miss Betty Jean Butt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Butt, a student at Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, spent the week-end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner

Upper Huntington

Upper Huntington—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slaybaugh, Mrs. Marion Morningstar and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slaybaugh, all of York, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin, of near Shippenburg, attended the sale of Miss Sadie R. Slaybaugh Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Paull, Mrs. Boyd Nell and daughter, Vena Jean, Mrs. Charles Gardner and have been entertaining her sister, Miss Minnie Stambaugh, Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and Miss Mary E. Myers spent the week-end with the Myers' daughter, Mrs. E. Stanton DeBolt, and family, Asbury Park, N. J. Mrs. DeBolt and son, Barry, returned with them to spend some time here.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Upper Huntington

Upper Huntington—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slaybaugh, Mrs. Marion Morningstar and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slaybaugh, all of York, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin, of near Shippenburg, attended the sale of Miss Sadie R. Slaybaugh Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Paull, Mrs. Boyd Nell and daughter, Vena Jean, Mrs. Charles Gardner and have been entertaining her sister, Miss Minnie Stambaugh, Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and Miss Mary E. Myers spent the week-end with the Myers' daughter, Mrs. E. Stanton DeBolt, and family, Asbury Park, N. J. Mrs. DeBolt and son, Barry, returned with them to spend some time here.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.

The household sale of Miss Sadie Slaybaugh amounted to $1,153. A corner cupboard brought $56. Dishes brought a good price. A cherry table of six legs brought $30. Quilts brought $15 and $16.

Mrs. Laura Thomas, of Mt. Holly, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delp.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney visited in Hanover during the week.

The choir of Zwingli Reformed church conducted a dinner during the week at the social annex of the church, in honor of their former organist and choirmaster, Merton R. Himes, USA, on furlough from Columbus, Miss.

Charles Trump were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bretz of Steelton.